The Brazilian Situation.

The news from Brazil shows that there has been a reaction from the stepor into which the people were thrown by the suddenness of the movement which merged the empire into a republic, and that they do not all look kindly to the change.

It certainly seems a very distant date for testing the will of the people as to whether the republic shall stand or fall, but the rulers of Brazil protest that the huge extent of their territory and the sparseness of its population make an earlier date impracticable.

A report comes by way of India that a serious revolt has occurred in Afghanistan and was instigated by Russian agents. This is much too vague to be at all alarming, and is probably a Russian agent's world would be serious indeed, for it would mean nothing less than a vigorous reopening of the Eastern question with Russia in a much better position for argument than ever.

There is a report from West Virginia of a one hundred million dollar scheme for connecting New Orleans and Florida with the Peruvian railway system by means of a line of steamers to the mouth of the Magdalena river in Colombia, and a railway along the eastern slope of the Andes, and across the headwaters of the Amazon to Puerto Inca.

It is evident that a proportionate allowance of time must be made for the appearance of manifestations of indignation at the overthrow of the empire; and it may even be suspected that a people so slow of movement are not suited to self-government.

In some of our Western states population is as scanty and communication almost as difficult, but they make quick time in matters political, and if the people of Brazil are to rule themselves they must learn to catch the issues of the day on the fly, and must have a free and fearless press for the popular discussion of political questions.

People who thought that a form of government could be altered with a " presto! change!" celerity, after seeing the Brazil revolution, will be likely to modify their opinion before the question is finally settled of empire or republic for Brazil. The rapidity with which the empire is put off is a sign of the evanescence of the movement.

The latest great movement of the empire, the emancipation of the slaves, had been on the liberal side. A new national legislature was about to meet. The men who, in that situation of affairs, knuckled down the empire and did it with the help of the army and navy, without investigation or aid from the people, are manifestly masquerading as Republicans and really are animated by a hope to help themselves.

and will be quite sufficiently close to the stores for the accommodation of the passengers it carries in from the country. Arch street is a fine thoroughfare and the tendency of the Reading terminal on the street, will be to improve it; whereas it will greatly injure its appearance and its business if it crosses it. The position taken by the council seems to have good reason behind it, independent of the consideration that it is in the interest of the Pennsylvania railroad; which is said to be the prime consideration with the council.

JULES VERNE says that when the proposed railway across Siberia has been completed, it will be possible to put a giraffe round the earth in forty-five days. He says that this is shown by calculations now filed in the archives of the Paris Geographical society. Perhaps these calculations have not made due allowance for the fearful slowness of Russian railway trains.

After consulting the map to see what all this Anglo-Portuguese-African quarrel is about, no one can avoid the conclusion that it would be an outrage upon the great reading public to get up a war over a country with names like Dushukulmaring and Damangvatokhan.

An agent of the king of Belgium has appeared at Raleigh, N. C., and contracted with twenty-four educated American negroes of various professions to go to the Congo and elevate the natives by examples of civilized colored men. This seems to be a very sensible move, but it is a little curious that it should so suddenly materialize in that section with no signs of a similar move at other points where educated negroes may be found.

This is much too vague to be at all alarming, and is probably a Russian agent's world would be serious indeed, for it would mean nothing less than a vigorous reopening of the Eastern question with Russia in a much better position for argument than ever.

The movement that has thrust upon it the responsibility of a republic has been premature. The people are not yet fit for it.

FRIGHTENED THE PUPILS.

A Minister Describes Hell in a School With Maps and Illustrations. There is great excitement in Lockport, N. Y., over the strange behavior of a Presbyterian clergyman named Marvin, who recently visited the city of the public schools and insisted on delivering a lecture on "Heaven and Hell."

Maps and pictures illustrated Marvin's lurid and graphic description of the fate of sinners, and the young pupils were frightened almost into hysterics. A howl of indignation has gone up from among the citizens and many prominent letters have been written to the board of education.

The nervous excitement of the younger pupils has occasioned considerable alarm and some parents have threatened bodily harm to the minister. The board of education has issued a notice that the matter will not be repeated.

Marvin has been very quiet of late. He is an austere man and strictly orthodox in belief. He has inaugurated a dress reform and expects to have a dress-making school with any trimmings. His daughter is compelled to dress oddly, and when she appeared with some flounces and frills on her skirts she was away in drooping mourning for three months. He is particularly vindictive against card-playing, theatre-going, dancing, skating and social enjoyment.

President Harrison left Washington on Thursday on a duck shooting expedition to the lower Potomac in Mr. Bateman's steam yacht and expects to be away in drooping mourning for three months.

Grammar Applied. In a recent grammar examination, in one of our best schools, a class was required to write a sentence containing a noun in the objective case. One of the boys wrote the following sentence:

"The cow likes to be loked." "What noun there is in the objective case?" asked the teacher. "Cow!" said the boy. "Why is 'cow' in the objective case?" "Because the cow objects to being loked!"

A Good Resolution. From the Reading Times. I will not look upon the wine when it is glowing. So may my evening hat sit loose upon my morning head.

SOME SLIGHT DIFFERENCES. This difference 'twixt an engine and school teacher, you'll find: The engineer is in the train, the teacher trains the mind. And yet another. Hear the bell that's pealing from the steeple; It differs from the bellman who's stealing from the people.

PLEASURE AND PAIN. When we go to a Christmas party, And corners are the worst of our woes, We object not to 'rings on our fingers, But we do to the 'bells on our noses.

IT TIGHTENS. Tightens the gums and makes them healthy, so that they hold in the teeth firmly. It removes the tartar, gives comfort, is economical of health and money, and when used will never be given up. Try SOZO DENT.

Less than half a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cured me of a severe cold and cough. H. S. HODSON, 40 Hanover St., Baltimore, Md.

A Scared Editor. A rugged farmer stalked into the sanctum with a big, angry, red face. "Be you the editor?" he asked. "I am," was the half apprehensive reply.

Now the editor is looking for another scare. The medicine has cured scores afflicted as the farmer's daughter, restoring the female functions to healthy action, and removing the obstructions and suppurations which caused her trouble. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or price ($1.00) refunded.

MERCURIAL RHEUMATISM. Mr. J. C. Jones, editor of the Fulton, Ark. Standard, writes: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, but they prescribed medicine after medicine, which did not afford me any relief, until I was cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills."

INHERITED SCROFULA. "Do you think Mand S's record of 2000 is likely to be soon beaten?" "Yes, I do. I think Sugi will break it next year."

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cure

ACHE. is the best of so many things that here it were to make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Wanamaker's.

Philadelphia, Friday, Dec. 27, 1889. "Before this week passes there will be things to say." We printed that yesterday. To-day we begin to make good the statement.

It is our intention to put before the retail buyers of Philadelphia an array of merchandise of many sorts which for quantity, quality and cheapness will be more surprising than any of the great offerings ever made by us in the past.

The time is favorable for large merchandise operations at low prices. The bears have control of the "spot" dry goods, which means goods in the garment equally with the piece.

That's all you need of general information. The details will appear daily. They will be crowded full of quality and price interest.

Mustin Underwear. Saturday morning we will open the greatest special sale of Mustin Underwear ever made in any American market.

The garments are all new and include everything required by a complete stock: Chemises, Gowns, Corset Covers, Drawers.

The prices on the special lots will be less than the cost of materials alone. The workmanship will not be inferior because the prices are low, but examination will show honest work in every garment.

The quantities are very large. You will not be asked to look at mean or meagre lots. The sale will be limited in one respect only, namely—the numbers that will be sold to a single purchaser.

It is necessary to protect legitimate retail buyers from the competition of such dealers as may attempt to supply their stocks from this sale. The goods are for consumers, not dealers.

We do the great Underwear business of this city. Past success indicates what proper enterprise will accomplish with it in the future. Attention is given not only to such qualities as sell in great quantities, but to the choice and exclusive, and the stock includes everything up to the finest French hand-made garments.

The quantity and variety require increased space and entire separation from other merchandise. The majority of our lady visitors already know the comfortable, elegant and retired quarters which have accordingly been arranged upon the second floor.

For the purposes of this great Underwear Sale additional room will be occupied in adjacent departments, and the broad space of the Chestnut street entrance will also be used for the display and sale of the goods.

We have four special Calendars for 1890—Dickens, Thackeray, Tennyson, Eliot; each with a pad of day-by-day thoughts set in a beautifully pictured background. 50c—by mail 57c.

Machinery.

A REASONABLE SUGGESTION. The covering of steam pipes with a reliable material insures dry steam and saves fuel and situation; the cost of the covering being usually less than the cost of a single year's saving of fuel alone. The best material for this purpose is the public is the
