THE EVANS MEMORIAL. DEDICATION OF THE CHAPEL AT THE PRES-BYTERIAN CHURCH ON SUNDAY.

vening-Addresses by Rev. Dr. Mitchall, Geo. A. Lansand W. R. Pulton.

The celebrated chapel, the gift of the late Robert A. Evans, as a memorial to his mother, Ann Margaret Evans, to the Pirst Presbyterian church, and adjoining it on the east, was dedicated on Sunday. Rev. Dr. J. Y. Mitchell, the paster of the church, conducted the exercises. There was a large entendance at the partices held in the chapel.

The morning service was opened with the regular invocation "Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove," which was followed by prayer, and the singing of the hymn, "Holy! Holy! Holy! Holy, Lord God Almighty" and the reading of the 84th Pasim. Rev. Dr. Mitchell offered prayer and the choir sang the authem, "I was glad when they said unto see, let us go into the house of the Lerd," during which a collection was taken up for the benefit of the Sunday school library fund and a handsome sum was realized. The hymn "I Love Thy Kindom, Lord," was sung and the dedicatory address was delivered by Dr. Mitchell.

He referred in his address to the great generosity of Mr. Evans in giving to the church so substantial a gift; spoke feelingly of Mr. Evans' death before the completion of the chapel, and that he was unable to see finished the structure erected to his deceased mother. He next gave the following history of the number of the number of the number of the product of the product of the product of the product of the chapel, and that he was unable to see finished the structure erected to his deceased mother. night clear," which was followed by an address by Rev. Dr. Mitchell. He congratulated the Sunday school on its entrance into this new and beautiful structure, contrasted the accommodations of the present with those he experienced when he as a Sunday school teacher heard his class in a stable, with the boys and girls accommodated in stalls for class rooms. He urged all to bring books on next Wednesday evening, so that a church circulating library might be started.

"Calm on the listening ear of night" was sung and George A. Lane, esq., superintendent of the Sunday school, then delivered an address. He referred to the kindness of Mr. Evans in providing so handsome a building, which would be an enduring monument to those he had made happy.

After the singing of "Glory to God, Peace on Earth" and "Blow," e. Golden Trumpets, Blow," and the doxology the audience was dismissed.

The evening exercises were in the nature of a song service. Among the selections rendered were: "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name"; "In the Cross of Christ I Glory"; "Rock of Ages"; "I heard the Voice of Jesus Say." In addition, Rev. Mitchell read the 3d chapter of St. John, and preached a short sermon.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BULLDING. DESCRIPTION OF THE BUILDING.

Following is a brief description of the building:

The building is of brick with a frontage of 46 feet and a depth of 143 feet. The front section is two stories in height and the rear is one-story. Romanesque with classic treatment is the style of architecture.

The brick work of the front is laid in black mortar and is tastefully ornamented with stone trianmings. The main entrance in the centre of the building is massive in with stone triginings. The hian entrance in the centre of the building is massive in appearance, has one large arch supported on a number of small brown stone columns with carved caps. The doors of the main entrance are of carved oak.

On each side of the door are triple windows with brown stone lintels and transoms. On the second floor front are three circular headed windows. The basement windows are square, two in number, one on each side of the entrance. Each side of the front of the building is supported by a substantial brick buttress, ending in brown stone pinnacles. The main gable also rises from brick buttresses and terminates in a handsome brown stone cross.

In the east wall, near the front, is a large ornamental window; in the south wall is a large triple window, with one single window on each side and a large window above; on the west side are seven triple windows. All of the windows have cathedral glass.

Beneath the building is a crypt, lighted

Beneath the building is a crypt, lighted with small windows, made so that the graves in the church yard, occupied by the chapel, would not be disturbed.

The chapel has been provided with both electric and gas lights, making the artificial light excellent. The natural light is as perfect as could be made in a building.

The entrance to the Sunday school room faces the church. The interior of the chapel is finely finished, the wood work being of Georgia pine. The hall, lecture and main class rooms, are wainscoted with buff bricks, and the walls are sand finished in white.

Thomas V. Cooper, Emery and others, including himself, in 1882, had been violated in spirit if not in letter. In no less than ten counties, he said delegates had been set up and elected last fall, over a year before the convention, and bofore it was possible for public sentiment to crystallize upon any candidate. This was neither right nor fair and could work no good for the party. It was such actions as these that led to charges of "bossism" and "mismanagement" of his own candidate for governor. Mr. Phillips, the ex-senator said, was the kind of a man the people of Pennsylvania most needed, one who would represent every class of citizens instead of a few powerful carporations.

The gubernatorial aspirants who are making this move against their more powerful aspirant count for substantial aid from the congressmen who were so mercilessly snubbed by Mr. Quay: Mr. Harmer, of Philadelphia; Hon. W. C. Culbertson, of the Erie district; Hon. Edward Scull, of the Somerset district, and John Daizell, the brilliant young Pittsburg attorney, with strong Pennsylvania railroad alliances, to say nothing of General Osborne, who is both a congressman and a candidate for governor. The formidable character of the combination can be seen at a glance.

To-Morrow's Fox Chase.

If the weather is good to-morrow the Lampeters and Lancaster city will send a great crowd of people to the big fox chase at Greenland. The management of the chase have made all arrangements to make the affair a big go, and a large number of the best people of this city will not only attend the hunt but will take part in it. A great many hunters from the northern and western parts of the county will meet at the City hotel about 11 o'clock. They will leave shortly afterwards for Greenland, passing down North Queen and out East King street with their dogs and the fox. To-Morrow's Fox Chase.

Death of a Moravian Clergyman.

Rev. E. W. Shields, of the First Moravian church, York, died suddenly of heart disease on Sund y. He was 38 years of age and leaves a wife and five children. He came from Baltimore to York in 1884 and has added very materially to the strength of the church and Sabbath school. He was considered one of the ablest and most promising ministers of the Moravian denomination and was much beloved by his congregation and the public generally. He was a man of very fine physique and commanding presence and of rare schoiarly sbility, and will be much missed in the community.

OF INPLIENZA.

Martin L. Oblender, son of C.A. Oblender, of 467 Manor street, died this morning, and is the first victim of la grippe in this city. He was employed in the gent's furnishing department of Williamson & Foster's store. He went to the store on Saturday morning, but feit se badly that he could not remain on duty. He went to his home and sent for Dr. Herr, his physician. He pronounced young Oblender to be suffering with the prevailing spidemic, but nothing serious was apprehended.

On Sunday he became worse and his complaint developed into congestion of the lungs. He became unconscious last evening and died this morning. Deceased was aged 16 years. His faneral will take place on Thursdey afternoon. He was a young man with hosts of friends who will regret to learn of his sudden death.

WHO IS HE!

A Lancaster Boy Dies in the Regular Army—Not William Weise. A letter has been received in this city from Philip P. Schupp, who is in the regu-lar army and stationed at Salt Lake City, lar army and stationed at Salt Lake City, which is difficult to understand. In it he gives the particulars of the death of a young man who he says was William Weise and a member of Company C, Sixth regiment, stationed at Fort Riley, Kansaa. The young man died of injuries received in a railroad accident on December 8. The deceased was known as William Rush, but Schupp contends that his real name was Weise, and he was a son of Capt. John P. Weise, ex-prison keeper. The body was buried at Fort Way.

Although the deceased undoubtedly was a Lancaster boy, he was not William Weise. That young man is in Baltimore, where he has been employed for some time. It has been but a few days since he was in Lancaster on a holiday visit, and he was never in the regular army. Schupp seems anxious that the friends of the deceased learn of his death, and this publication may load to it.

The former is charged with fornication and assisting to conceal the death of a bastard child and the latter with adultery and concealing a child's death. Lisa comes from the neighborhood of Mt. Hope and he and the woman have been living together, although the latter is married but separated from her husband. Some days ago a physician was sent for to attend the woman and he found that she had been delivered of a child. Where the child is no one seems to know and the physicians notified the district attorney who set about investigating the matter. The woman says the child was sull-born. The accused were held for a hearing.

Powderly for Ballot Reform.
General Master Workman T. V. Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, has published in the Scranton Truth a long article in favor of ballot reform. In order to bring it about he recommends that "citizens should organize ballot reform clubs, pledge every candidate for the Legislature to vote for the Australian system, and at the same time exact a pledge not to enter a caucus on this measure. Under the Australian system secrecy will be attained, intimidation will be impossible, attempts at perpetrating fraud will be useless; the occupation of the ward heeler will be gone for he cannot 'deliver the goods' and the citizen will rule."

A nut came off one of the handles of the inside door of the safe at the postoffice, on Sunday, and it was impossible to open it. Persons desiring stamps in large quantities could not be accommodated as there was but a few out of the safe. Finally it was found necessary to call in H. C. Elchoitz and have the hinges cut off.

Prom 88 to 818 For Lamp is the Cost of the Outfit-Fower Extra. From the New York Sun.

"How much does it cost to put in an in-candescent electric light plant?" was asked of O. P. Loomis, an expert in such matgent boy screws on a new lamp when the old one wears out.

"The running expense of the system depends on the cost of coal. It takes practically about five pounds of coal per horse power per hour in an ordinary building. If a good condensing engine is put in, then the consumption of coal is reduced below that. A ton and three quarters of coal should run 300 lamps twenty-four hours.

"If smaller plants are wanted, say twenty-five or fifty lamps, it costs from $12.50 to $13 per lamp for the electrical plant all in and ready to set going. In apite of what has been said about fires, the electrical plants are much asfer than oil or candles or gas. The insulation does not wear out when properly put up, because there is nothing to wear it out. If exposed to chafing, as it would be if the wire hung where it could swing against a post or a wall, the rubber will wear off. That is the fault of the man who puts up the wires."

Deaths Caused by Grip.

Stephen O. Fuguet, aged 57, a Philadelphia tobacco dealer and importer, died on Sunday. The immediate cause of his death was heart failure complicated with congestion of the lungs and this fatal combination was superinduced by the grip.

Joseph Scattergood, a prominent minister of the Orthodox Society of Friends, died in West Chester on Sunday. Last Sunday morning he preached in the meeting in that borough and the same evening he was taken with a very aggravated attack of influenza, which rapidly developed into pneumonia. He was a native of Philadelphia, and about fifty years of age, and was educated in that city and the Westown Friends' boarding school. He was the son of Joseph Scattergood, sr., of the firm of Carter & Scattergood, manufacturing chemists of Philadelphis. He was twice married, his first wife being Ellizabeth Cope, a daughter of David Cope, of East Whiteland township, and a minister of the society. By her he had three children, all of whom are living. His second wife survives him, and was Mary Cope, cousin of his first wife, and & daughter of Samuel Cope, of East Bradford town ship.

Heard For Stealing Turkeys.

Daniel Dreibeibis was beard by Alderman Halbach this morning, on the charge of stealing two turkeys from the premises of Peter Espenshade, in Manheim township. The prosecutor tracel footprints from the place where they were stolen to within 100 yards of defendant's house, and that is all the testimony offered to connect the accused with the larceny. The alderman did not think that sufficient to send the case to court and dismissed it.

After Dreibeibis was discharged his attorneys, Brown & Hensel, entered a civil suit for $5,000 damages for false arrest, in the court of common pleas. Dreibeibis has a good reputation in the neighborhood where he lives. He says he was greatly injured by his arrest, and he proposed to make Mr. Esbenshade pay for having him arrested. The Pennsylvania railroad company has begun its fight with the Baltimore & Ohio for a share in the railroad development of West Virginia. Contracts were let on Saturday for the construction of the Marsden railroad, from Rowlesburg, W. Va, to Uniontown, Pa., and work will begin early in the spring. The road, as proposed, cuts through one of the richest mineral sections of West Virginia. CONTESTS BY THE RINGS.

THE ROC FACTION CONTROLS THE PRISON AND THE RULL CROWD THE ALMADOUSE.

The Directors of These Institution Meet and Select the Officers-A. C. Reinahl Assumes His Dutles

There were no changes this year in the court house offices, and the only other changes outside of the prison and poor house are these:

Major A. C. Reinochl succeeds Wm. D. Weaver as district attorney. He has issued a circular of instructions to aldermen and justices, similar to the one issued three years ago when Mr. Weaver became district attorney. If followed magistrates can make no mistakes.

E. H. Burkholder retires from the office of county surveyor and he has been succeeded by F. M. Trout, of Hart township.

AT THE PRISON.

The Hog Ring in Control There and the Bull Ring at the Almahouse.

There was considerable excitement among the politicians to-day on account of the organization of the prison and poor boards and the election of officers at the avinstitutions. Bright and early this morning the men who wanted offices for themselves or friends were satir. All kinds of schemes were laid to "get there" and there were plenty of interested men at the prison.

ing the men who wanted offices for themselves or friends were saitr. All kinds of schemes were laid to "get there" and there were plenty of interested men at the prison,

At ten o'clock this morning the old board of inspectors held their last meeting and all of the members were present. They wound up their business by approving a number of bills.

After the old board had adjourned there was a recess of some time, as the inspectors were buttonholed at every turn by office seekers. The new board consists of Jacob Nissley, Christian Nissley, Milton Wike, John N. Woods, Samuel Eshlema: and Milton Eby. The men who retire are Calvin Carter and Isaac Bair. Heretofore the majority of the board were members of the Buil Ring faction, but there is a big change this year. Mesars. Woods and Wike, the new men, are pronounced Hog Ringers. The only members of the Buil Ring that are sure are Mesars. Eby and Eshleman. It is difficult to tell at times what Christian Nissley is, but he is largely controlled by Jacob Nissley, who for several years has been making a lonesome fight against the Buil Ring at the prison. It was expected that Christian Nissley would be with the Buil Ringers, especially for Gilbert for solicitor, but he went with the other crowd. Before the meeting was called to order, the four Hog Ringers held a long consultation to arrange everything and it was some time before they came together. The two Buil Ringers sat in the meeting room and waited patiently for a long time. They knew they could get little or nothing, so they were not worried over the result, but they had a hearty laugh at the expense of the others. The Hogs could not a gree on their men. At first there was a kick on Clerk Hippey, who has always been with the Buil Ring, but Mr. Wike was his friend and he wanted him. In fact he would listen to nothing else, and he compelled the others to agrie with him. One of the men who was very conspicuous about the corridor was Harvey Raymond, who seemed to be running things. He also took part in the caucus.

Christian Nissley nominated Albert Murr for boss carpet weaver, and he was elected by acclamation.
For first underkeeper, Christian Nissley nominated Horace Myers, of Strasburg. Mr. Eby nominated Isaac N. Eby (present underkeeper). J. W. Nissley nominated Simon Eby, of Mt. Joy. Mr. Woods nofninated Thom is J. Smith, of Providence. The first ballot resulted as follows: Horace Myers 2, I. N. Eby 2, Simon Eby 1, Thomas J. Smith 1. On the next ballot Smith was dropped, and each of the others received two votes. The next vote was: Isaac N. Eby 3, Myer: 2, Simon Eby 1, and another ballot gave each two votes. It was agreed to postpone the election until later.
For solicitor J. W. Nissley nominated A. B. Hassler and Mr. Eby nominated A. Gilbert, the present solicitor. Hassler was elected by a vote of 4 to 2.
For physician J. W. Nissley nominated Dr. C. A. Netscher, Mr. Eshleman nominated Dr. Slegier (the present incumbent) and Mr. Eby nominated Dr. William

For physician J. W. Nissley nominated Dr. C. A. Netscher, Mr. Eshleman nominated Dr. Siegier (the present incumbent) and Mr. Eby nominated Dr. William Compton. Netscher received four votes to one for each of the others and was elected. For night watchmen J. W. Nissley nominated Eli Miller, of Lencaster; C. H. Nissley nominated George Bachman, of East Donegal; Mr. Ebylan m nated Milton Hershey, George Sutton and ChristianBinkley; Mr. Woods nominated Amos Mentzer, and Wite nominated Constable Senft, of Martic. The first ballot resulted as follows: Bachman I, Miller 4, Hershey 2, Sutton 2, Mentzer I, Senft 1. Miller was elected and a second ballot was taken for the other man. It resulted: Bachman I, Hershey 2, Mentzer I, Senft 2.

After dinner the third ballot was taken for night watchman and it resulted as follows: Hershey 2, Senft 3, Mentzer 1.

On the fifth ballot Mentzer was elected by a vote of 4 to 2 for Hershey.

For assistant underkeeper Mr. Eshl man nominated Andrew Caldwell, present underkeeper, and Christian Nissley nominated George Geyer, of Florin. The latter was elected by $ fot 1.

Christian Eby was reelected baker and Charles Buckius boss shoemaker by acclamation.

The election of underkeeper was again was elected by 5 to 1.

Christian Eby was reelected baker and Charles Buckius boss shoemaker by acclamation.

The election of underkeeper was again taken up and several ballots were had. Thomas Smith, who had been dropped, was renominated. He was elected on the tenth ballot by a vote of 4 to 2 for Isaac Eby. Not a man on the board but Mr. Woods knew Mr. Smith and he was a compromise choice. Smith was a candidate for night watchman and went to the prison to push his claim. He asked Mr. Woods to nominate him for the position but by some mistake Woods nominated him for underkeeper. No election that has ever taken place at the prison to push his claim. He asked Smith could not believe it himself for a long time. The position is one of the most responsible in the institution, yet the Irspectors do not know the man they have elected to fill it.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Flour, Woods and C. H. Nissley; yarn, Wike and Eby; house, Woods and C. H. Nissley; drugs, Eshleman and Wike; leather, Eby and C. H. Nissley; meat, Woods and Wike.

At THE ALMSHOUSE.

The new board of directors met at the almshouse this morning at 10 o'clock. It consists of Jacob S. Strine, Columbia; William Good, East Earl; E. H. Hershey, Leacock; R. W. Bard, Ephrata; David C. Kready, Manor; B. F. Weaver, Salisbury. The only new man in the board is Mr. Kready, as Mr. Good was reelected. Daniel Herr, of Refton, retires. E. H. Hershey was elected temporary chairman, and R. W. Bard secretary.

After the meeting had been called to order the following officers were elected without opposition and there was no fight of any kind. President, J. S. Strine; secretary, H. K. Myers; steward, George E. Worst; treasurer, John B. Miller; fireman, Taylor Schuyler; watchman, Samuel Shaub; baker, William G. Rapp, farmer, B. B. Hertzler; resident physicians, Drs. I. H. Young Burglars Found in a Cave.
The Danbury, Conn., police have been puzzled for some time in trying to account for numerous burglaries and petty thefts in the town. Beer has been stolen by the keg, large chunks of meat have been missing from larders and many chicken fanciers have lost fowls. Last Thursday night two burglaries in the heart of the business centre, at the Ives Central hotel and at Gallagher's saloon, aroused the police to extra efforts.

Policemen Foley and Sullivan, on Friday night, saw a peculiar buil's eye light in an open lot, which, upon investigation, proved to be the window of a cave. Inside were a group of young men seated around an oil stove, and all around were meat bones, chickens' feathers and trinkets, which were identified as stolen property. The boys were arrested. They spent their nights in the cave, and are known as the growler gang. Two of them were held for trial on the charge of committing the burglaries on Thursday night, and the others were discharged with a reprimand.
