Special Agent Moore, of the U. S. postomice department, held a conference on Saturday afternoon in the office of Andrew J. Kaufiman, esq., with a number of citimens of the town. He stated he came to determine the question of removing the postoffice from its present location. The uptown and downtown advocates were present and the discussion was harmonious throughout. Mr. Moore will return on Friday of this week, at which time he appets to receive propositions as to location and building should individual enterprise desire to crect a building for the postoffice. It is understood that there are citizens who have expressed a willingness to erect a building uptown for that purpose.

The public schools opened to-day after the holiday vacation.
