A dispatch from Victoria, B. C., says the British Columbia authorities have brought to the attention of the Dominion government the fact that the great Frazer river, which runs through some of the finest agricultural districts in the country, is undergoing a remarkable change that threatens sooner or later to divert the course of the stream from Canadian into the United States territory.

During the past year the ravages of the river on adjacent lands have been so bad that it has become a serious question, and settlers have been compelled to demand from the government some measures for the protection of their property. The river seems about to cut a channel in the direction of Sumas Lake, near the boundary, the River Into This Country. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseas SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.
