

BRIDE BUT NO GROOM.

The Funny Story Related by a Veracious Boston Cabman.

"Perhaps we Herdic men don't have an adventure," said a cabby. "The funniest thing that ever happened to me was this: I got a passenger of the Albany depot one night and drove him to a certain hotel. He was a rich man, I think, judging from his appearance, and before he got into the cab he handed me a dollar and told me to keep the change. He asked me to go up stairs with him and take down some valises. When I got them into the cab there wasn't much room for anything else. I went back to the room and the first words he said were: 'Go in there!' pointing to a big closet. He told me I'd find a suit of clothes in there. I went in, and as I did he locked the closet door on me, and I was a prisoner. I heard him go out and shut the door, and then I began to kick the door and to see how the lock let me out. In about twenty minutes whoever occupied the next room called the porter and I was let out. At first they wanted to arrest me as a thief, but finally I convinced them I was all right. 'The job was now to get my horse and cart. Going out I asked the porter to get the drivers if they had seen a strange looking man for a cab driver on a box driving into Bowdoin Square. I got a cabman to take me to the square, and sure enough my cab was standing in front of the Revere house. The valises were in the cab, and the bloke who had locked me in the closet was in the bar room trying to get a drink. I went in and told him that he had locked me up, and that he hadn't succeeded, and that I wanted him to take his valises. He looked at me and said I was a fool; that he never saw me before, and that he didn't have any valises. I tried to tell how it was, but he wouldn't have it. As he left the bar room he told me he'd shoot me if I didn't keep away from him. I got afraid of him then, as he was full, and I put the valises in the Revere house. The last I saw of the man he was going toward Howard street. I didn't think any more about the matter, supposing he would care for his valises every day, but time went by, and the clerk at the Revere said nobody had called for them. One day I met the inspector of charities and I told him about them. His eyes opened, and he said he had been looking for the valises for a month. They belong to a rich New York merchant, and were worth several thousand dollars, as they were filled with silks. There was a diamond brooch in one that was worth $2,500. He had come to Boston to marry a girl in the city, and the valises were loaded with presents. He got to drinking on the way, and probably had an elegant jag on when I met him. He did not know what he was doing from the moment we began to take out the valises until he sobered up next day. 'Of course he hadn't shown up to be married, and finding himself without his four valises felt pretty sore. The marriage never came off. He sent me a V for my honesty. It was worth more than that to be locked up as I was.'"

MOTHERS READ!

Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge for Worms! CELEBRATED MOTHERS READ.

Andrew Downing of Cranbury Township, Venango County, gave his child one teaspoonful of the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, and the worms were expelled. Next morning on repetition of the dose she passed 118 worms. Japhet C. Allen, of Amboy, gave a dose of the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge to a child six years old, and it brought away 25 worms. He soon after gave another dose to the same child, which brought away 10 more, making 128 worms in about 12 hours. Mrs. Quilby, No. 125 Canal St., New York, writes us that she had a child which had been unwell for better than two months. She procured a bottle of the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge and administered it. The child passed a large quantity of worms, and in a few days was as well as ever. It was a very common case, with such testimony before them should not feel that there is any danger in giving the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge. It never fails and is perfectly safe. This is to certify that I was troubled with a large quantity of worms for some time, and although all the known remedies for this terrible affliction, but without being able to destroy it, I got a bottle of the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, Pa., and after taking one large dose, worms, resulting more than a yard, besides a number of small ones. Price 25 cents a bottle. Insist on having the genuine. (4)
