State Troops.

The Georgia state troops are to wear a uniform modeled after tent of the United States regulars. There could not be better evidence, of a readiness to forget the war. The states generally show a disposition to follow the lead of Pennania in this, but it is gratifying to nd the movement starting in the South. There seems to be some danger that too much will be expected from this change of uniform adopted in Pennsylvania, where the riots have taught us the effect of a handful of men in the regular uniform. That effect was due however to the fact that the men in regulation blue were known to professional soldiers, well officered, would obey all orders, and unless the state troops are trained to a similar soldierly efficiency their uniforms will not inspire like respect. They will, instead, lessen the prestige of the regulars. In Pennsylvania we are proud of our militia, and justly, for they are un-doubtedly the most businesss-like and serviceable of state troops and would probably acquit themselves well in a riot. But there is a great deal yet to be complished, and we do not maintain ops for the suppression of riots only. We can hope to get along without dis-turbances of that kind, but we cannot hope as a nation to be eternally at peace. No matter how secure we may feel in the blessings of peaceful progress we should not permit our capacities for war to be weakened. This seems to be recognized in the attention now being given to the navy, but our ocean barriers against the strong powers of Europe and our own overwhelming strength of population and resources, as compared with American nations, tend to discourage attention to the land forces. It would be well to remember how little Prussia under Frederick defied all Europe and how France, trembling with the furious struggles of factions, grew terrible under Napoleon. We can not tell when or how war clouds may arise from the nations developing on this conti-nent, and high authorities have even given warning that our feeling of security from European attack by land is not warranted by facts. It is our boast that we have no standing army, and we pity the Europeans with their gigantic mili-tary establishments. It should also be our pride that we have the skeleton of an army ready to stand up and grow stout on short notice, and that the citi-

General Hastings says that he is not going to let Cambria county turn him out of the gubernatorial race in which he declares that he will stay until the ate convention meets; he thinks that Cambria would have done differently on a fair test of the opinion of the Republican voters, and that he lost its delegates because he was too sure that the sentiment of the voters would prevail in their selection.

No doubt the general was taken advantage of in Cambria by the dark devices of his adversary; but the lesson sches that the general is going to be laid low in like manner in many places. He may have the voters, but he does not have the schemers; and we do not see much reason to doubt that his "goose is cooked." It will be very well for the general to keep his courage up and his flag flying; until at least he can make good terms of capitulation. It is, as he says, a long time yet before the convention meets, and much may happen before then to change the face of the situation; and if it does not change, it will enough then to see what can be made by hauling in his colors and giving his allegiance to the anointed candidate. But Hastings is likely to be for Delamater before the nomination.

The Negro Unanimity.

The Philadelphia Press prints the negro majorities in twenty-seven conional districts that are represented by Democrats, and we presume that it ints them correctly. We do not see anything wrong in the fact that white Democrats represent these negro constituen-cles. Naturally a Republican might think that it was not fair that negro constituencies should be so unanimously emocratic; he may reasonably think that the Republican party should have some of the negro representatives in

The complaint of the Press, however is peculiar. It does not feel the injury a Republican but as a manufacturer's organ. It thinks that a great wrong is done to the high tariff interests by the unanimous selection of low tariff representatives by the Southern negroes.

But should it not reasonably prove to the Press that its complaint furnishes tion by the Southern negro of the low tariff white Democrats whom they send the reason for the unanimous approbato Congress? Generally the Republican is inclined to clare that the fact that these constituncies always select Democratic reprentatives, shows that the elections are fraudulent. These Republicans refuse to believe that the negro, left to his own devices, will ever vote for a Democrat. The Press makes this charge of fraud. A Republican journal would not think it had done its day's work if it did not get in such a statement some-where before it closed its columns. But we have never yet found one quite so tupid as to make a charge of fraud while furnishing itself a very good reason to show that the elections are

What can be more natural than for the Southern negro, who is chiefly engaged in agriculture and who cares for nothing so much as a full stomach at the lowest cost of labor for filling it, should admire the political principles of those politi-cians who want to make everything that the agriculturists consume as cheap as possible? The Republican politicians are having their hands full in keeping the Republican farmers of the agricultural plains of the West from turning over to the Democracy, on this low and high tariff issue;

and wherefore should they feel surprise that the Southern negroes who have white Democrats for their teachers and low prices of merchandise for their in-terests should unanimously vote low tariff Democrats into Congress?

The Democracy can afford to look on in quiet contentment at the Republican tribulation over this Democratic unanimity. The Republicans have the privilege of explaining to suit themselves while we cat the fruit.

They can charge it to Democratic intimidation if they are not content to accept the suggestion of one of their own organs that the tariff has something to do with it. For our part, we are quite willing to accept the theory that the Southern white Democrat in the minority is too strong for the Republican and the negro in the majority; for the fact that the negro elects the white Democrat every time there is an election in all the twenty-seven districts in which he is in a majority, shows conclusively to any fair judgment that it is a natural moral strength that secures the never-failing result; and that it is

An extensive ice manufacturing plant is to be erected in West Chester. It would be a very poor hot weather joke if Lancaster should show less enterprise and no ice but that made for the breweries.

Following close upon the decision Judge Yerkes in the pigeon shooting case against a member of the Philadelphia Gun club comes the announcement that the crack wing shots of Philadelphia are arranging for a shooting match for a total stake of sixteen thousand dollars and involving the slaughter of five hundred pigeons by a method which Judge Yerkes has declared to be cruel. As the match is to be held on Long Island the gunners have little to fear from the law, but a match for so large a sum held right after the publication of the decision of Judge Yerkes must stimulate discussion of the question of the cruelty of pigeon shooting and may awaken a public sentiment that will produce legislation against There seems to be an epidemic opposition to pigeon shooting just at esent, and a bill has just been presented in the Canadian Parliament making it llegal. Glass and clay balls have failed to satisfy the crack shots who command the means and leisure to defend their sport in the courts. As a test of skill the live pigeon far outdoes all mechanical contrivances, and if that kind of skill can be proved a good thing, then the cruelty to the pigeons which may be wounded will not stand in the way of its development. The exercise of skill in shooting is an essential element in the sport ; and is not the sport worthy of encouragement? That is certainly a prevailing notion, or we would not have laws for the preservation of part-ridges and other game birds in order that they may be shot in season. Hunting is a manly, healthful and invigorating sport, and the only question is whether it cannot flourish just as well without pigeon matches, which lack many of its best features, the long tramps across country, the refining influences of nature and scenery, and interest in the working of hunting dogs. Sportsmen can get along without pigeons, and they will not be greatly

THE latest news from Brazil is to the effect that there is no flag in the country that is recognized by all. What a fine nation that is to belong to.

THE Scranton Board of Trade was delightfully astonished on Monday night by the reading of a letter from the heirs of the late Joseph J. Albright, of that city, who announced that they had devoted a lot 110 by 67 feet, the old family homestead, for the purpose of a public library, and that Joseph J. Albright, jr., one of the neirs, would erect thereon a library building to cost from fifty to seventy-five thousand total value of ground and building is estimated at a hundred thousand dollars, and the people of Scranton are smiling like oysters. The building is to be known as the Albright Memorial, and all unite in praising this method of building a monument to a worthy citizen. The citizens of Scranton are expected to furnish the building with a suitable library and hope to raise thirty-five thousand dollars for that purpose. This would give them twelve thousand volumes and pay the running expenses for some time. It is high time that Lancaster should have a public library, but the experience of other cities and the history of former efforts seem to warn us that a gift of this kind is necessary to assure success. It would not e necessary to start on so grand a scale, although it would be pleasant to do so.

It is reported that the grip is packing its gripsack, but it must have ten Saratoga trunks besides judging from the slownes with which it prepares to leave us.

THE statement of foreign commerce corrected to January 21, has been issued by the treasury department bureau of statisties. It shows that the total exports of mer-chandise in 1889 were valued at over eight hundred and twenty-seven millions, while the imports were worth more than seven hundred and seventy nillions. This is an increase of a hundred and thirty-six millions in exports as compared with 1888 and a gain of forty-five millions in imports. Including gold and silver the statistics show that the exports exceeded the imports by a hundred and six-teen millions. In 1888 this excess was less han four millions.

Christmas Tree In the Graveyard.

Christmas Tree In the Graveyard.

From the Cincianati Enquirer.

"I saw an act of remembrance in Spring Grove on Christmas Eve that was as beautiful as it was novel," said a gentleman Sunday. "I was walking on one of the avenues in the northwest section of the cemetery when I noticed two little girls planting a small evergreen tree close by the side of a tiny grave. This seemed to me to be an unusual thing, so I paused and watched their movements. After succeeding in making the tree stand, the children next proceeded to trim it with strings of popcorn, giass balls, candles and other things generally used in decorating Christmas trees. This was followed by the production of a large assortment of toys, little bags of candles, &c., which were also fastened on the tree, and the candles lighted—presented a strange sight indeed in such a place as Spring Grove. It was the children's idea of remembering their little brother, who lay in the grave beneath the Christmas tree, and who, perhaps, was one of a group of merry makers gathered around a similar tree the year before, as the heap of earth looked as though it had been freshiy dug. An officer of the cemetery stood at a respectful distance, watching the children at work, but did not disturb them until the hour for closing the gate had arrived, when he told the little ones in a tender voice that he must take them away. After a long farewell look the children rejuctantly left the spot, and were soon lost to view among the thousands of monuments and trees."

Insane on Real Estate Investments.

Christian Beemer, a wealthy Norristown butcher, was sent to the hospital for the insane on Tuesday on the application of his wife. He has been mentally deranged for some weeks past, and acting in a manner well calculated to bankrupt him in a very short time. For several years past he has been investing carelessly in real estate, paying fabulous prices, and recently the prices paid by him were so ridiculously high that his wife, as a precaution, caused to be printed a notice forbidding any one to sell him real estate. Thief Arrested.

The news was received with the utmost satisfaction by the community that he had terrorized; but the arrest of a disease that is stealing away a loved and valued life, is an achievement that should inspire heartfelt gratitude. From Sciatic Rheumatism--Wholly Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The fact that rheumatism is caused by accumulation of acid in the blood, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful power in purifying the blood, explain the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in curing this disease. "In May, 1885, I was taken with sciatic rheu-

It was thought by all my friends that I could not possibly live. I took almost everything I could hear of, but with no good results, during that winter. One day, reading about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla in March, April and May, I concluded to try it. One bottle gave me so much relief that I took four bottles, and since then I have not been troubled with rheumatism, and my general health has never been better. My appetite is increasing and I am gaining in fiesh. I attribute my whole improvement to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I carnestly recommend it to all who are troubled with like disease. Lingered Between Life and Death.

Smoote, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark,, writes under date of April 22, 1889; "During the summer of 1887 my eyes became inflamed, and my stomach and liver almost hopelessiy disordered, Nothing I atte agreed with me. I took chronic diarrhoa, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, and the medicines administered by them never did any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the later being preferable to the agonies I was enduring. In May, 1888, I became disgusted with physicians and their medicines. I dropped them all, and depended solely on Swift's Specific (8.8.8.), a few bottles of which made me permanently well—well from then until now."

MADE HIS LIFE A BURDEN.

I have had scrofula until it made my life a burden. I was inexpressibly miserable, sick, weak, sleepless, and unhappy; desiring that the short time which seemed to have been allotted to me on this earth would hasten to an end. I tried doctors' treatment and medicine, and travel, but none of these did any good, for the scrofula gradually grew worse. One physic tian, who I traveled far to see, and to whom I paid $150, gave up the case as hopeless. I then gave up all other medicines, and took only Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) Four bottles of that medicine cured me, and for the past four years I have had as excellent health and I am as free from disease as anybody living "

Weather Strip.

Beats them all. This strip outwears all others. Keeps out the cold. Stops rattling of windows. Excludes the dust. Reeps out snow and rain. Anyone can apply it—no waste or dirt made in applying it. Can be fitted anywhere—no holes to bore, ready for use. I will not split, warp or shrink—a cushion strip is the most perfect. LAt the Stove, Heater and Range Store of

FOR OLD AND MIDDLE-AGED LADIES' WEAR.

Shoes this shape are generally considered superior to most other makes for ease and comfort in wear. The seams come back of the joints of the foot, giving them greater freedom of action and bringing, the least possible pressure to bear upon the corn or busion so frequently troubling them. We sell a great many side-seamed shoes; we have them made up in many different leathers—the softest and most pliable kinds tanned. They are special shoes for a special purpose—the best that's made at any price we here quote. The cheapest that's worth trying and which will prove comfort giving and serviceable, cost $1.25; make of pebble grain leather. Another, a little finer, at $1.50. Excellent lines, well made and finished in bright pebble goat leather, at $1.50 and $2. In Oil Goat, Curacoa Kid and Glove Kid Leathers, the price is $2—the best 'goods made of like material—can't be better, how much more the cost elsewhere. A special shoe—the finest of the kind we have—in bright dongola leather, hand-turned, tackless, perfectly smooth inner soles, sells at $2.50. We have these in widths $1.50. E. Are largely used by invalida for the positive case and comfort they afford the wearer. The above shoes are all made "straight"—can be worn on either
