To Keep Trousers in Shape.

From the Clothier and Furnisher.

A well dressed man recently entered a leading men's furnishers store and saked to be shown suspenders. Presently after due investigation he selected a certain sayle and inquired of the salesman how many pairs he had in stock. Eight was the number and he took the lot, the clerk meanwhile looking at the customer with a suspicion as to his sanity. There was method in the man's madness. "You see," said he, "when one has a pair of suspenders for each pair of trousers and one hange the trousers by the suspenders from the closet nail, the dependent weight keeps the trousers in shape and the 'bag' out of the knees. "Moreover," continued this latter day Beau Brummel, "think of the waste of the time involved in the changing of one's suspenders every time one changes one's trousers, let alone the bother.

"And then consider in such a case the wear and tear in both suspenders and trousers. Besides, one pair of trousers may be longer or shorter than another, and the suspenders, it they have not to be changed, once adjusted properly, the process of hoisting up or down, which causes an expenditure of time and patience, is done away with. It is infinitely pleasanter and decidedly cheaper in the end to have a dozen pair of braces on hand," exclaimed the argumentative toff in a tone of conviction, as he picked up his package and strode out of the doorway.

He Stabbed a Big Pumpkin.

Since the death of Hon. John McSweeney, of Wooster, Ohio, many interesting reminiscences connected with the distinguished lawyer's life are recalled. One of the most dramatic scenes ever enacted in a court room took place in Wooster when Mr. McSweeney was akiding in the prosecution of John Callahan for the murder of John Tormie, 10 years ago. Tormie died from knife stabs received in a brawl at the fair grounds. When McSweeney addressed the jury in his case he had a large pumpkin on a table before him. The court room was jammed almost to suffication. As the flow of rhetoric fell from his lips the audience appeared to be in breathless attention. Suddenly the great lawyer sprang forward, and, seizing a knife began plunging it into the pumpkin to illustrate the assault on the murdered man.

It acted like magic, and the intense stillness of the room was broken only by the burning eloquence as it rooted every auditor to the floor, and scarcely a breath was drawn in the room as the knife was thrust a number of times into the pumpkin. He Stabbed a Big Pumpkin.

Hateful Blood Relations.

Hateful kindred are those sprung from the arent stem—malaris. They are chills and fever, billous remittent fever, dumb ague and ague cake. These foes to bodily peace are all blood relations, as there is no doubt that these enrelations, as there is no doubt that these en-démic complaints are produced by contamina-tion of the blood by the miasmata existent in both air and water in malarious regions. Hos-tetter's Stomach Bitters expels from the blood the virus with which miasma infects, but it does more than this, it neutralizes the at-mospheric and acqueous poison and its germs before they have permanently fructified in the system, and thus effectually protects against it the flerce inroads of this diabolic brotherhood of diseases. Thus it is not only a remedy, but eases. Thus it is not only a remedy, but a preventive, prompt in relieving, lasting et, perfectly efficient. Nervousness, bil-ses, dyspepsia and kidney trouble also mb to it.

The opinion of an old and well known merchant is given in a few words, viz: "I think Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best cough medicine that is made."

"Diseased nature oftentimes breaks forth in strange eruptions," and the result of it all is pain. Now Salvation Oil will send this very pain to the right about at the trifling cost of only 25 cents.

A century of progress has not produced a remedy equal to Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh cold in the head and hayfever, It is not a cold in the head and haylever, it is not a liquid or a snuff, but is perfectly safe and easily applied into the nostrils. It gives immediate relief and cures the worst cases.

Don't say there is no help for catarrh, hay fever and cold in head, since thousands testify that Ely's Cream Balm has entirely cured them.

It supersedes the dangerous use of liquids and snuffs. It is easily applied into the nostrils and tives relief at once. Price 50c.
