

A GREAT FOX CHASE.

SEVERAL HUNDRED PERSONS ENJOY SPORT IN DELAWARE COUNTY.

Gen. Hastings, in whose honor the Hunt is Given, Attends and Hides With Clubs--Features of the Chase.

The big fox hunt which was given at the Black Horse hotel, Delaware county, in honor of General D. H. Hastings, on Thursday, was a great success in every way.

The weather was very disagreeable in the morning and it did not look as though there would be much sport for a time.

These things were, especially Philadelphia, away, and the crowd was very large and it has been very interesting to the candidate for governor.

At eight o'clock in the morning General Hastings, mounted on a large black horse, left Media and rode to the place of the hunt. He was attended by a large number of riders.

When he reached the Black Horse a large number of hunters and others had already assembled and the crowd continued to increase for several hours.

People came from all directions on horseback, in conveyances of every kind and even on foot and the number in attendance is estimated as high as five thousand.

Among those present were a great many prominent men of that section of the state.

Although the majority were Republicans there were also many Democrats who had turned out to honor General Hastings.

THE NEVIN MEMORIAL WINDOW.

A Description of It by Mrs. L. T. Kieffer, of This City.

The Reformed Church Messenger publishes the following description of the window placed in the recess of the chapel of Franklin and Marshall college, to the memory of the late Rev. John W. Nevin, D. D., by the members of his family, the articles in the pen of Mrs. L. T. Kieffer, wife of Prof. John B. Kieffer:

To the glory of God, Amen. And in loving memory of John Williamson Nevin, D. D., LL. D., June 9, 1826.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.

This is the inscription on the beautiful window which has lately been placed in the chapel of Franklin and Marshall college by the immediate family of Dr. Nevin.

The window is Gothic in form. Around the extreme edge runs a vine of three-pointed leaves in shades of dark green, with brilliant crimson berries.

In the center of the arch on a sunny golden brown background and surrounded by arabesques in deep green, stands the open book, at the upper corners of which are conventional roses, of an intense crimson, seem to burn and glow with a strong and brilliant light.

Just below this is the panel with the inscription just mentioned.

These simple details may give some idea of the beauty of this window, but it must be seen in order to properly appreciate its unusual beauty.

Go to the chapel about four o'clock in the afternoon, for the artist has painted the picture with the light coming from the west, then, as some one remarked, "his harmonious coloring touches you like a hand."

The figure stands out in relief and looks as though advancing to meet you.

MONEY TO BE USED.

FIGHTERS TO BE CAPTURED BY THE FACTION WITH THE MOST BOODLE.

Denues and Davis Both Claim to Be Ahead in the Mayoralty Fight. The Fourth Ward Contest.

The majority contest waxed warm all day, and when the polls opened at 4 o'clock this afternoon each of the candidates had their friends at the voting places.

Denues chose to have improved the book twenty-four hours, and his close friends claim that he will be the nominee.

Last evening, in a prominent North Queen street saloon, a bet of $100 even was made by a friend of Dr. Davis that he will defeat Denues for the nomination for mayor.

In the First ward Dr. Davis is at a disadvantage. All the best workers are against him, and if the vote pocket voters do not come to his rescue, he will be beaten in his own district.

There is an old-time contest in the Second ward, with the lines strictly drawn, Mestser has laid himself out to beat Levi in his own ward, and with the help he has it looks as if he would do it.

In the Third ward Davis will have a hard practical fight. There were a few parties here whose personal preference was Denues.

The fight for alderman in the Fourth ward between A. K. Spurrer, who has held the position for the past three terms, and Harry Zook, a comparative newcomer to this city, has become exceedingly warm.

Unusually large crowds of voters are expected to turn out for the mayoralty nomination. Up to within a short time ago it was believed that Spurrer had the best of the fight, but his friends of the past three terms, and Harry Zook, a comparative newcomer to this city, has become exceedingly warm.

In rebuttal Mrs. Herr showed that Mr. Snaveley had been sent for on the morning of March 21, 1883; that he came to the house and signed the note, and a few days afterwards, when asked to endorse another note for $100 for H. S. Herr, said he would not do it, as he had no money.

ALLEGED TO BE FORGERY.

A Suit to Determine Whether a Note is Genuine.

In the suit of Christian Hershberger vs. the County of Lancaster, issue to determine the amount of damages sustained by the widening and opening of Filbert street, between Conestoga and Downport streets, a verdict by consent was entered in favor of plaintiff for $525. A. J. Eberly for plaintiff; J. W. Johnson and J. H. Fry for defendant.

The suit of Ellen K. Herr vs. Benjamin A. Snaveley and Aaron R. Shenk, executors of Benjamin Snaveley, deceased, was attached for trial before Judge Livingston on Thursday afternoon.

The defendant Mrs. Herr showed that Mr. Snaveley had been sent for on the morning of March 21, 1883; that he came to the house and signed the note, and a few days afterwards, when asked to endorse another note for $100 for H. S. Herr, said he would not do it, as he had no money.

In rebuttal the defense called anumber of witnesses who swore they would not believe him on oath.

The Drummer Was Busy, But He Got Ahead of the Professor.

There is a young lady living in Detroit who is the recipient of the attention of the professor in the State University at Ann Arbor and the other traveling salesman.

Denues will have a handsome majority in the Fifth ward. John H. High could poll a good vote if A. J. Eberly would exert himself, but he will not.

In the Sixth ward the contest for alderman is practically settled and Fay will be badly beaten. Denues will carry the ward but his majority will not be what his friends look for.

It is authoritatively stated this afternoon by one who is in the secrets of Dr. Davis' management that a deal was made on Tuesday by which the colored voters of the ward will cast their ballots solidly for Davis for mayor.

The Denues men in the Seventh ward are dependent, and fear that they may lose the ward.

REED RULES THE ROOST.

MR AGAIN DIRECTS THAT MEMBERS NOT VOTING BE COUNTED.

Mr. Bland Having Been Ignored by the Speaker, Denounces Him--Many Spectators Visit the Dear Garden.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—That the public at large understand the contest in the House was not ended by yesterday's Republican victory, was not made manifest by a glance at the galleries this morning.

The speaker proceeding in the usual manner to read an abridged journal (omitting the detailed vote) Mr. Bland, of Missouri, demanded the reading of the document in full, and this was ordered by the speaker.

The clerk was proceeding to read from the record the detailed votes of yesterday, when Outwalt, of Ohio, objected and demanded that the reading should be from the original document.

The speaker said that the clerk was reading from the record as a matter of convenience, but if the gentleman objected he might have his way and he instructed the clerk accordingly.

Another storm swept over the House, caused by vigorous protest from Bynum, in which he vigorously attacked the speaker, calling forth cheer after cheer from the Democrats.

The speaker declined to recognize him and again put the motion on approval of the journal.

Bland denounced the yeas and nays (which were ordered) and pending this moved to adjourn, but the speaker was deaf to this motion which called forth a declaration from Bland that it was an outrage and that the House could not be in more demoralized condition than at present.

HANLON'S 'FANTASMA'

Played at Fulton Opera House Last Night With Success.

Last evening the Hanlon Brothers company appeared at the Fulton opera house, and they had a good sized audience. The play was "Fantasma" and the attraction is one of the best that has been at the opera house this season.

The play was "Fantasma" and the attraction is one of the best that has been at the opera house this season. Little can be said of the plot of the piece, which is a mixture of pantomime, spectacular, etc.

STRONG BANKS WRECKED.

THE MOST CATASTROPHIC CASE IN THE HISTORY OF NEW YORK.

A Broker in Custody For Aiding in the Embezzlement--The President of the Institution Escapes Arrest.

New York, Jan. 31.—Bank Examiner Hepburn has made a statement concerning the Sixth National bank of New York, the closing of which caused the closing of the Lenox bank.

After Mr. Leland had said his interest in the bank the directors were requested to resign, which they did, the vacancies being filled by the new men.

On January 23 $222,000, par value of high-priced bonds belonging to the bank, were delivered to Peil, Wallack & Co., and a receipt taken. There was no entry on the books of the bank to show any disposition of the bonds.
