TROUBLE OF A TALKER bright little man ast bemoaning the fate the wit that is tardy and sparkies too iste; the keen repartee that is strictly one's own it comes into view when occasion has flown it the ideas, apposite, bright and sublime, at travel like stage-coaches never on time, alluggish in movement, so slow in the race sat a new topic renders them quite out of place.

So the bright little man, with a serious look,
Remarked to himself, as he opened his book,

They're Intelligent Hogs.

The porkers in this part of Pennaylvania are not only unusually big this winter, but they also have greater intelligence than is usually accredited to hogs. In proof of his is the story wouched for by Samuel they also have greater intelligence than is usually accredited to hogs. In proof of this is the story wouched for by Samuel Witmer, who lives near Quarryville.

He bought two pigs from his father, who lives eight miles away, at Fairfield. In the evening of the day on which the pigs reached their new home Samuel went out to take a look at his purchase, when, to his surprise, he found the pen empty and the pigs missing. He hunted everywhere, but without avail. Next day the search was renewed, when Samuel's father sent word that the pigs were back in their old pen. Just how the animals found their way sight miles to their old home, and whether it was reason or instinct that led them, are questions for readers to pender.

Another smart pig talked about is a 400 pounder raised by Mrs. Henrietta Bupp, of Hanover. When this remarkable animal was asked if it wanted slop it walked promptly up to the trough, but for corn it had no use whatever and when called to ast it gave no response of any kind. When the question "Shall I scratch you?" was put the hog would immediately lie down and put itself in an attitude of expectancy. To the question "Have you black teeth?" would come an angry shake of the head and a display of white incisors. Mrs. Bupp, who has trained several hogs in the past few years, is of the opinion that their minds are as receptive as the most intelligent animal.

A Haunted House. This body of ours has been likened to a tene nent. It often has a haunted apartment—the Scared by the eldrich sprite, dyspep on the unhappy organs? We answer unheatingly, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and we ewarranted in the response by the recorded stimony of myriads, covering a period of over the epigastric nerve, renews and purifies the inless exuding from the cellular tissue that actupon the food digestively, expels bile from the stomach and blood, and promotes a regular habit of body. Maiaria, kidney complaint, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgia give way to this medicine.

For the cure of the inflammation and con ing cise it is possible to prescribe. This prepa tion has for years past been making a bril int success as a remedy for cold in the head satarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial tages of these complaints Cream Balm pre-vents any serious development of the symp-toms, while almost numberless cases are on ord of radical cures of chronic catarrh, after other modes of treatment have failed.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short line; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. NOT A PIMPLE ON BABY.

Baby One Year Old. Bad With Ecsema. Hair All Gone. Scalp Covered With Eruptions. Cured by Cuticurs. Hair Splendid and Not a Pimple on Him. Oured by Outicura

I cannot say enough in praise of the CUTICUEA RENERDES. By boy, when one year of age, was so bad with ecsema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions which the doctors said was scald-head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began the use of the CUTICUEA RESERVENA and, I am happy to say,
with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the CUTICUEA RESERVENA
ers as the most speedy, economical, and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and sel that every mother who has a milicted child will thank me for so doing.

Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh.

Cure Begins from First Application, and

It is the mucous membrane, that wonderfu It is the mucous membrane, that wonderfusemi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, duiling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath, and killing the -refined pleasures of taste. Insiduously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membraneous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing, and other dangerous symptoms. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all silevistives are simply procrastinated sufferings. SAN-PORD's RADICAL CURE, by Insidution and by Internal administration, rarely falls; even when
