MANNIBAL A. WILLIAMS RECITES FROM " STRELLO" ON TUESDAY EVENING.

The New York Elecutionist Interpre the Characters In Good Style - Mr. Bansman to Provide a Fine Concert.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 5.—A fishionable audience attended the recital of Mr. Hannibal A. Williams, of New York, in the Presbyterian chapet, last evening. His interpretation of the different characters in "Othello" was faulties, for none among those of the most critical hesitated to praise it. Mr. Williams possesses rare elecutionary powers, and his expression of the lines of Shakespeare was burdened with the variety of tone which made it entrancing.

The chart for the Choral society's c on the 14th, in the opera house, opened this morning at Richards' book store. Over two hundred seats have already been sold. Mr. Bausman is sparing no pains to make this concert the finest musical entertainment aver given here.

Visiting Masons.

At the regular meeting of Lamberton Lodge No. 476, F. and M., held on Tuesday evening, Right Worshipful Grand Master Clifford P. McCalla and William R. Frazer, a prominent Mason of Philadelphia, were among the visitors. Many arrived in icaster on the two o'clock train in the afternoon and were taken to the Hamilton club, where Worshipful Master Ernest Zahm, of Lamberton lodge, and other members, entertained them. The meeting of the lodge took place at 7 o'clock in the evening and after the regular business a banquet was held and speeches were listened to. Besides the Philadelphia guests there were members of the order present from Columbia, Harrisburg and other places.

An Aged Woman.
From the Oxford Press.
Mrs. Elizabeth Redman, said to be the idest citizen of Fulton township, Lancas ter county, lives with her son John near Wrightsdale. She will be 90 years old on Friday next, having been born February 7, 1800, Mrs. Redman is the widow of Thomas Redman, deceased. She possesses all her faculties in a good degree, except her eyesight, which is poor, and has been active all her long life, without much sick-ness. She has lived at her present home since 1850. This old lady is a quiet and unobtrusive person, with a genial dispo-sition and is respected by all who know

A Large Surprise Party. There was a very large surprise party at the house of C. S. Herr, on North Queen street last night. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Herr, and the affair was very successfully managed. There were no less than ninety-six couples of friends of the lady present, and they had a highly enjoyable time until a late hour. During the evening the Iroquois and Liberty bands visited the house and tendered the lady a serenade. Mrs. Herr received a number of handsome and useful presents, and an elegant supper was partaken of by the guests. It was one of the largest parfes held in Lancaster this season.

Was It a Mistake !

George Trabert, of this city intended to go to Ohio with his son yesterday, where he intended to make his future home. He gave a friend between $20 and $25 to purse tickets for him. The man returned with the tickets and gave them to Trabert, who did not look at them at once. When examining them some time afterwards he found they were to Williamsport and did not cost more than half the amount given the fellow to pay for them. The man dis-

IN THE WRONG BERTH.

An Unpleasant Experience in a Western Pullman Car.

Pullman Car.

Prom the Rocky Mountain News.

The train had just left Grand Island, Neb., and the curtain of darkness was being drawn over the land as the Denver Limited sped towards this city. Seated in the Pullman was a maiden of antique existence and millinery so characteristic of the Nebrasks belle of the sage bush society of years ago. If ngliness was a crime she would go to jail for life. Evidently she was a man-hater. Cruel fate in the form of the train newsboy thrust a copy of "Locking Backward" into her seat. She repulsed the novel with horror, as it recalled too many birthdays. This is the heroine of the narrative. The hero is a traveling man, who got on at Clinton, Iowa. He represented a wholesale liquor house in Chicago, but only remained in Clinton long enough to find out that it was a prohibition town, with the possible exception of "The Owl" and the drug store.

When the porter made up "upper five" the Nebraaka belle retired. She retired early. Morpheus, with his usual famillarity, put his arms about her, and she slept. A beyy of traveling men remained in a rear seat. Finally the liquor man retired. He occupied upper seven, next to upper five. Suddenly he emerged and proceeded to the smoking apartment, as he was nervous and could upper rest. Before doing so he pinned a piece of white paper on the curtain of his berth to guide him when he returned. His comrades played a cruel prank upon him. One of their number removed the paper slip and pinned it on upper five's curtain, behind which slept the budding hyacinth of Grand Island.

The laquor man returned in about ten minutes. He saw the paper, and climbed it to the budding hyacinth of Grand Island.

Grand Island.

The liquor man returned in about ten minutes. He saw the paper, and climbed into the berth. Was there a scene? Was there a cyclone in that sleeper when the Nebraska flower awoke to find a man at the curtains? The reader should have been down at the Kansas line, where her screams were plainly heard. The scene baffles pen or pencil. You should have been there to see the traveling man fall to the aisle, while the occupant of "high five" foamed with rage.

HOT SHOT FOR TOM COCHRAN. His Newspaper Becomes Calmer In Tone Toward Independents, From the Morning News.

There is a good deal of quiet fun in politicial circles over the Examiner's backdown of night before last. This paper started out a few weeks ago by fiercely abusing the Independents, and in a head line to one of Percy Shock's article in the Marietta Register, which it reproduced, declared itself opposed to seeing "traitors" rewarded.

It so happens that Lewis S. Hartman.

It so happens that Lewis S. Hartman, one of the most blatant Independents in 1882 in Lancaster county, has his eye on the prothonotary office, and Brother Cochran wants to support him. So the Exminer, night before last, took a big flop and said that all the previous abuse of the Independents did not mean the other 2,524 who voted for Stewart were traitors, and then ended up by dishing out to the public a warmed over mess of its former abuse of Martin.

Martin.

We have been informed by a spectator at the Sixth ward polls in 1882, who says that Lewis S. Hartman not only voted an open Independent ticket, but shook it offensively Independent ticket, but shook it offensively under Tom Cochran's nose, who was standing at the window of the polling place. No wonder it wants to apologize to Hartman now that it wants to make a candidate of him and branded him as a traitor only a week ago. The truth of the matter is, everybody is laughing at Cochran's pitiful plight, as no man can afford to start out on a newspaper enterprise in Lancaster county by insulting so large and honorable a body of voters as the Stewart Republicans were in 1882, and Tommy must have heard from them pretty lively to make him take the back track after the fashion of the Examiner on Monday night.

Close of 40 Hours' Devotion.

The forty bours' devotion at St. Anhony's Catholic church was closed on Tuesday evening. The celebrant of the evening was Father Kaul, the deacon Father Adam Christ, of Lebanon, the subicacon Father J. Foln, of Hanover, and he master of ceremonies Father Christ, of Lancaster. The exercises were closed with a procession participated in by the elergy and sodalities. Special music was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Ferd. Weber, with Miss Mary Decker presiding at the organ. The devotions were very largely attended, the number of ommunicants being over 600.

Another Narrow Escape. A colored girl, about twelve years of age made a narrow escape from being killed about noon to-day by the train which arrives here from Quarryville at 12:30. She was playing on the railroad track when the train came along, but seemed not to hear the engine or to pay attention to it, for she did not get out of the way nor attempt to. The engineer saw the girl and whistled to her, but that did not drive her off. He succeeded in stopping the train when the locomotive was almost upon her and she was chased from the track, but apparently she was not much frightened. Persons who saw the affair were sure that the girl would be killed.

A Reception to His Friends.

Jacob L. Steinmetz, esq., whose wedding takes place to-night, gave a reception and entertainment to a large number of his friends at the Hamil ton club this afternoon. There were a great many prominent men present, not only from this city and county but from other places. Mr. Steinmetz was assisted by G. Reah Frazer and Henry Carpenter. A number of prominent people arrived in town to-day to attend the wedding.

The Decorators' Ball. The Decorators' association of this city have issued beautiful invitations for their ball which takes place in Mænnerchor hall on next Monday evening. It promises to be one of the largest affairs of the kind seen in this city in a long time.

The officers are: President, A. New all; treasurer, W. Lechier; secre-tary, J. Wilson, H. E. Brandt will be master of ceremonies at the ball and the floor managers will be C. Danner, George Effinger and J. W. Sunner.

Large Hogs.

This morning Harlan Stauffer, who re near Kinzer's station, killed a hog that will be hard to beat. It was a Jersey Red, two years old and weighed 756 pounds

Levi Sener, of near Rohrerstown, en Monday killed a hog weighing 741 pounds.

Death of An Aged Lady. Miss Catharine Gorrecht died last even ing at her home, on Dorwart street, aged 76 years. She was a daughter of Peter Gorrecht, and a sister of Mrs. Mary Bertz, mother of Jacob Bertz. She was a member of the First Reformed church, and her death was the result of la grippe.

The Abraham Cox & Co., stove works at Landsdale, Montgomery county, were totally destroyed by fire on Tuosday. The company is a stock concern, and A. G. Mott, the agent, is in Chicago attending the convention of stove manufacturers. Until his return nothing definite can be learned as to the loss and insurance. It is estimated, however, that the loss will reach $75,000. It is said the insurance was $50,000.

Taken to the Eastern Penitentlary. Sheriff Burkholder took John Holmes, John Ready and Samuel Johnson to the Eastern penitentiary on the noon train today. These men were convicted at the last term of the court and were sentenced to terms ranging from a year and eight months to four years and two months.

A Penn Iron Mill Boller Terribly Burned By Cinder.
Conrad Weiman, who is employed as a rougher in the Penn Iron works, met with a terrible accident just before noon to-day.
He was working on the bar mill when a lot of hot cinder flashed into his face. It burned the hair off the entire front of his head and his clothing, but the most painful injury was ing, but the most painful injury was to his eyes. The hot cinder entered them, burning them terribly. The man was entirely blinded for a time and he had to be led from the room, it being impossi-ble for him to see anything whatever. He was taken to his home and Dr. Rohrer attended him. It is not sure yet that the man will lose the sight of both eyes or at east one; and if he does not the sight is likely to be somewhat impaired.

Richard Sanders, who is employed in the same mill, had one eye burned so badly several days ago that it was thought he would lose the night of it.

Death of George Neagle. George Neagle, a well-known resident of Lancaster, died at his residence on Jefferson alley this morning, at the advanced age of 87 years. He enjoyed good health until a few days ago. By occupation he was a laborer. Some years ago he lost part of his arm through disease, since which time he has been unable to do manual labor. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and of St. Bernard's Beneficial society. He was born in Ireland.

Two Charges Against Him. Emma Hopkins has prosecuted Samuel Hunter before Alderman Barr for assault and battery and surety of the peace. The parties live near Rawlinsville. Constable Swift arrested Hunter and he was committed in default of ball for a hearing or the 12th instant.

She Acts Like Crazy. Emma Hopkins, a colored girl, who seems to be of weak mind, arrived at the prison last night. She was committed by Squire Armstrong for throwing stones a and almost tearing the clothing off a man People who know the girl think she had better be placed in an asylum.

The Colored Voters Meet. The colored voters of the city met on Tuesday evening and discussed the coming city election and the part they would take. Another meeting will he held next week, when definite action will be taken Drop a Nickel in the Slot. Drop a Nickel in the Slot.

Mr. Charles H, Frey, the East King street shoeman, has put up in front of his establishment the latest fad in the drop-a-nickel-in-the-slot-appliances. The machine is in the shape of a boot. It is fastened to a post, and by dropping a nickel in the slot and ipulling the heel of the boot you get a box of of French blacking.
