Dran Marp: I'd offer you this minute My hand, but lo! there's nothing in it, Immediad my heart by your dear lures But I'm forbid to ask where yours is,

and why? Why, dear, at twenty-three a man is what he's going to be,
Futures are actual in one's head,
But trees is what women wed.
Clients nor patients, nor their fees,
Your slave at three and-twenty sees,
And girls with nineteen-year-old blushes

et somehow feelings don't agree ith circumstances: Look at me lith naught in hand and all to get, appling at Fortune's gate—and yet apite of all I know, and see, ad listes to, I could not be one hopelessly in love with you I were rich and sixty-two.

That's all: It's nothing that you'll find Important, but it's off my mind. If one must boil and keep it hid The long year through, to blow the lid Off once helps some, and one may gain Patience therefrom to stand the pain Until the calendar's advance Gives suffering hearts another chance.

THE BOMANCE OF A WAIF.

THE ROMANCE OF A WAIF.

The discovery of a 15-months-old baby on the door-step of a Mrs. Hummell, No. 22 Morris avenue, Trenton, N. J., early Thursday morning has led to developments bordering on the romantic. The little one, it seems, was born in that city, at the residence of Mrs. Doctor M. L. Devessey. Its mother is Mary Hoffman, a pretty young woman whose parents are reputed to be very wealthy and who live either in Rochester or Amsterdam, N. Y. When she gave birth to the child she refused to care for it, and a colored woman named Susan Brown took it in charge, and in a short time afterward it was adopted by Mrs. Hummell at the solicitation of its mother. A lawyer drew up an agreement between them. Now it appears that the child is heir to $100,000, which since has been settled on it by the mother's father.

Mrs. Hummell doubted the legality of the adoption papers and took the child to Dr. Devessey's house to inquire about them. The doctor was not at home. Mrs. Hummell then concluded to have nothing further to do with the waif, and she left it with the doctor's daughter. Early Thursday morning the child was returned to further to do with the waif, and she left it with the doctor's daughter. Early Thursday morning the child was returned to Mrs. Hummell, who refused to receive it, and a neighbor kept it all night. Then the everseer of the poor was asked to take charge of the waif, and he also refused. Finally Mrs. Hummell took it back, and the child is once more under her charge. The waifs mother is now in New York. Mrs. Devessey refuses to be interviewed on the matter. A Haunted House.

A Haunted House.

This body of ours has been likened to a tenement. It often has a haunted apartment—the stomach. Scared by the eldrich sprite, dyspepsia, digestion flies and refuses to return. What can break the spell, what can raise the ban laid upon the unhappy organs? We answer unhesitatingly, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and we are warranted in the response by the recorded testimony of myriads, covering a period of over a third of a century. A course of the Bitters, begun in any stage of the affliction, and persistently followed, will terminate in cure positive, not partial. The Bitters restores tone to the epigastric nerve, renews and purifies the jutess-exuding from the cellular tissue that act upon the food digestively, expels bils from the stomach and blood, and promotes a regular habit of body. Malaria, kidney complaint, nervousness, rheumatism and neuralgis give way to this medicine.

A physician in a box is what some people call Laxador. They are right its a great physic.
Easily answered.—It a strong man, who has frequently suffered pain, grows impatient and rebellious, how much more impatient should be the baby who does not know what suffering means. For the pains of colic, teething, etc. Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup is the sovereign remedy. Price 25 cts.

For the cure of the inflammation and con-cetion called "a cold in the head" there is more potency in Ely's Cream Balm than in anything else it is possible to prescribe. This preparation has for years past been making a brillians success as a remedy for cold in the head, catarrh and hay fever. Used in the initial stages of these complaints Cream Balm prevents any serious development of the symptoms, while almost numberless cases are on cord of radical cures of chronic catarrh, after

*A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life. A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her, she south a large bottle, it helped her more, bought a nother and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds.
