The College Glee and Mandolin clubs sang a very successful concert here last night to an audience of five hundred people. The first part of the program was particularly given great satisfaction to the people, though their manifestations at approval were decidedly cold in comparison with the applause this part has won from audiences in other places. The F. & M. boys determined to wake up their auditors and they entered upon the second half with vim and jollity that was simply irresistible. The result was that three and four scores were demanded of nearly every number.

After the concert a very pleasant reception was given the boys at the home of Dr. Alex. Craig, whose son is a member of the Glee club. After the reception the boys complimented Miss Serrano, North with a midnight serenade to the great success of the concert is due to Rev. J. H. Pannebecker, Dr. Alex. Craig and the editors of the papers.

Lectured in College Chapel. Mr. Hamoud Mukaddim delivered an interesting lecture in college chapel last night, to a large and appreciative audience. His subject was "Syria and the Nile Expedition." Being a native of Mt. Lebanon, his description of the customs, manners, religions and laws of the people of Syria is showed with entertaining facts. Also, having been an interpreter in the English army sent in 1884 to the relief of General Gordon, his account of the heroic and plans of campaign is especially instructive. The college people were pleased to meet Mr. Mukaddim and to hear him address them.

Mortality Among Bankers. Mr. George K. Reed is authority for the statement that forty-one bankers have died in Lancaster since 1850. This averages one a year. There are seven national and two private banks and the fatality does not seem to discourage the business.

Returned to Court. Samuel Hunter was heard this afternoon by Alderman Barr on a charge of surety of the peace, preferred by Emma Hopkins. The parties are colored and live in Martie township. The testimony showed that Hunter threatened to kill the girl. An assault and battery charge growing out of the same transaction was dismissed.

ST. PAUL'S REFORMED.

The Church Celebrating its Fortieth Anniversary.

This is the fortieth anniversary of St. Paul's church at Orange and Duke streets, are celebrating their fortieth anniversary, and last evening the exercises began in the church and they will be continued each evening during the entire week.

In the year 1850 about eighty-five members of the old German Reformed church, which was then the First Reformed church in this city, split away from it and started the new church. The first minister was Rev. N. A. Keyes. The cause of the split was the German language only was spoken in the old church, which was organized in 1793. The youth of the church desired to have an exclusive English service, and that caused the difference which led to the new congregation.

The member who withdrew from the old congregation were organized under an English church February 17, 1850, and the following officers were elected: Elders, Daniel H. Heston, Abraham Goto and Christian Galt; deacons, George Shreiner, Charles M. Erben, Henry Metzger, George Gundacker, Jr., Joseph Weichmann, and David King; trustees, Peter Long, Philip K. Breneman and David Longnecker. Those persons were installed on the same day, and Rev. N. A. Keyes was the next pastor, and he served during the war, resigning in 1864. Rev. Henry Mosser, of Perry county, Pa., was next elected, and was pastor for a year. Rev. Edwin H. Nevin served as pastor from July, 1867 to 1870, and he was succeeded by Rev. O. L. Ashenfelter, of Cincinnati, in 1871. He remained pastor until 1874, when he resigned, and he was succeeded by Rev. J. B. Shumaker, who was elected, he entered upon his duties April 1st, 1875. He was succeeded over two years ago by Rev. J. W. Menninger. The work of the latter has been very successful. Many additions have been made to its membership since he came here, and the young people especially have manifested a great interest in the church work.

At the present time the church has a membership of four hundred and there are four hundred and ten children in the Sunday school.

Exercise incident to the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of St. Paul's Reformed church began on Tuesday evening with a large attendance.

The opening service was conducted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Tittel, pastor of the First Reformed church, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. F. A. Gast, of Franklin and Marshall college. He took for his text Samuel, vii, 12, as follows: "Then Samuel took a stone and set it between Mizpah and Shiloh, and called the name of it Ebenezer, saying, hitherto hath the Lord helped us."

During the sermon he paid a glowing tribute to Rev. Keyes, the first pastor of the congregation, and spoke of the early struggles of the church.

This evening the opening service will be conducted by Rev. J. W. Menninger, North pastor of the church, and the sermon will be preached by Rev. J. H. Sechler, pastor of the Reformed church at Tenth and Wallace streets, Philadelphia.

A BURLESQUE TROUPE. It Gives Satisfaction to a Large Audience on Tuesday Evening.

The Rentz-Santley burlesque and specialty company appeared at Fulton opera house last evening. The audience was large. This company has been in Lancaster for several years, but it is now much better than when last seen here. The company sprang from the old Rentz female minstrels, which were under the management of M. B. Leavitt, but the present party is in charge of Leavitt. It includes a number of very clever players. The opening of the performance last evening was called "La Tosca's Reception," and it served to introduce the majority of the members of the company. The ladies were beautiful costumes, which was the case throughout the show, although at times they were somewhat scant. Dashing Georgia Blake looked charming in her make-up and made rapid changes. The Little Putnam Sisters sang well, although both suffered from very bad colds. Maud Beverly opened the olio, and she is one of the brightest serio-comics that has been seen here in some time while she has a remarkably fine voice. George A. Booker and Maud Leigh appeared to advantage in the sketch "A Assurance." Mr. Booker is a comedian of the Roland Reed kind and he is funny. He and the young lady sang well together and their "Song of Songs" brought them numerous encores. Miss Pauline Batcheller looked pretty and gave songs and dances that pleased and Frank Leavitt, in his make-up as a negro, was the best feature of the show was the act of Le Clair and Leslie, a talented pair of young actors who have just returned from a trip to Europe. They are mimics, burlesque artists, character impersonators, &c. Mr. Le Clair appeared in three female and one male character, and his dressing was elegant. His make-up in the character of Ricketieu and imitation of Edwin Booth in the character were wonderful. Mr. Leslie is a very funny comedian, and he gave imitations of people of all nations, while he has a face that he can put in almost every shape. "Antony and Cleopatra," a burlesque, wound up the show, and in it Misses Batcheller, Blair, Beverly and others looked beautiful, while Lester, Le Clair, Booker and Leslie furnished wholesome fun. Among the good features were the Nautch dancers, drill of the Amazons, &c.

BILL IN EQUITY. Shindle and Stehman's Failure Now in the Courts—Points of the Bill.

Judge Patterson in chambers this afternoon granted a preliminary injunction on a bill in equity filed by Louis Newgas, tobacco dealer of New York. He is represented by George Nauman and J. W. Johnson. The bill sets forth that a partnership exists between Shindle & Stehman, of Mountville, and Mr. Newgas, for the purchase and sale of tobacco. That in pursuance of that agreement 3,456 cases of tobacco were bought, all of which were disposed of by 913 cases.

That Shindle & Stehman confessed judgment in the County National bank, National bank, Mountville National bank and National bank of Mt. Joy, for $29,800, and in consequence of those judgments executions were issued, and those 913 cases of tobacco were levied upon.

That the only interest Shindle & Stehman can have in the tobacco is the amount that he is due thereon by the sale and the final adjustment of the account.

Mr. Newgas prays that Sheriff Burkholder and the execution creditors be restrained from selling the tobacco advertised for sale to-morrow, that a receiver be appointed for the firm, that the firm be enjoined from collecting any of the debts or disposing of the assets.

The defendants have fourteen days in which to file an answer. From present indications the sheriff's sale will be postponed for some time.
