

will show the facility of the post in the creation of vast family fortunes. The opportunities seem to be diminishing, and it is not likely that the Vanderbilts' fortunes will long escape the weak hands which experience has shown will finally waste the family treasure...

There was another man hung yesterday in Pennsylvania who died protesting his innocence. He was convicted on insufficient evidence, which should not under the law of Pennsylvania, or of any other civilized country, have sent him to the gallows.

The law, as it is laid down by the judges to the jury in every case, is that the charge must be proved against the prisoner and that he is entitled to the benefit of any reasonable doubt. Some juries convict on suspicion, and some may acquit when there is no justification for hanging a man who has been convicted on suspicion.

There is no justification for hanging a man who has been convicted on suspicion. Because one man goes free improperly affords no reason why another should be hung improperly. But it nevertheless is made to do so. The idea seems to be that if a general average is drawn and no more men are hung unjustly than are acquitted unjustly, there is nothing to complain of.

Private Wild. The New York World and some other papers of its class are making a great noise over the abuse of soldiers by officers of the army, as illustrated in the case of Private Wild. This man complains that he was punished by being compelled to work in a stone quarry because he had refused to obey an order to fasten up a piece of canvas at the quarters of an officer.

ENTERPRISING, wide awake Western thieves have skillfully applied electricity in their business, and the revolver and sand bag may be no longer, on Centre avenue, Chicago, a few days ago a Mrs. Johnson was shocked and robbed; the first operation being easily achieved by simply touching her with a point of wire. City Electrician Barrett discourses in the following pleasant way upon the enterprise of Chicago thieves.

Family Fortunes. John Jacob Astor's great fortune descends to its next holder without division of its bulk. Fate has been kind to this family in keeping it at the head of the families of colossal wealth. There has been enough of the financial cunning of its original creator inherited with the money to keep it growing; and the inheritors have been so few that it has been kept close together. It is not every amasser of millions whose heirs can keep what he has made.

PERSONAL. MARTIN BAYNESSON, formerly president of Rochester University, died at Lake Helen, Florida, on Wednesday. GOVERNOR BEAVER has been invited to preside at the meeting to be held in the city on the 1st of the next month, which will be addressed by Mr. Vermeil.

Redistricting Ohio. The redistricting bill, giving the Democrats fifteen and possibly sixteen out of the twenty-one congressional districts, passed the Ohio House of Representatives on Wednesday. There was little opposition by Republicans, only one speech being made against its passage. The bill will be called up in the Senate and immediately passed.

Two Citizens of Lowell With Money Saved Themselves to Death. Charles H. Grant, a native of Lowell, Mass., was found starving to death in his house in West Andover, Wednesday. He was the only son of Ephraim Grant, who for many years previous to his death was a resident of West Andover. Some years ago it was the law to place the insane in the Danvers lunatic asylum, where he remained for some time, and on his release returned to the household of his mother, in a short time he again became violent, and the excitement caused the father's death of heart disease.

Search will be made for his bank books, which are believed to be hidden in some corner of the now rotted house. Charles Boggs, reported to be worth several thousand dollars, has resided alone in the attic of a house in Lowell for many years. Neighbors heard him crying for assistance Wednesday morning and they gained an entrance through the cellar window. In the attic, stretched upon a dirty mattress, was the wretched old man, apparently unable to move himself. His only covering was a bit of carpet; he had used his bed clothing for fuel. The police were notified and the man was removed to St. John's hospital. It was not a pleasant task for the man was filthy in the extreme and very abusive. He died on Wednesday.

Disasters, desperate group by desperate appliances are relieved, or not at all, the point of view is to choose the better of two evils, so far as buying a bottle of Salvation Oil. Price 25 cents per bottle. It is a good medicine. "Conspiracies no longer should be formed, an executed," and a cold should no longer be taken in a bottle of ice. But a cough syrup should be bought and used according to directions.

What's the Use of Talking? There is no doubt that the use of the tongue is the best preparation for the mouth and teeth. Preparations, like snow-flakes in number, have appeared, but the public faith is still strong in the virtues of SERRAVALLO. Its use grows yearly.

The Sewers of Paris are one of the modern wonders of the world. That marvelous network of underground stoneware, which has been built by rail and in boats, constitutes the bowels of the city. It is a work of art, and one that has been built with unscrupulous care; for any obstruction in the now of the sewage would be attended with serious results to the inhabitants of the city above. The sewers of the human system are the sewer of the city, and in order to keep disease out of the wonderful city of which they are a part, they must be kept always free and unobstructed. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best laxative and cathartic for this purpose. It is a pure, sugar-coated granule, in vials, and is sold by all druggists.

From Republican Headquarters. MOSKVA, N. Y., May 6, 1877. F. Woodward: I have been using Kemp's Balsam and find it very effective in relieving a cough with which I have been afflicted of late. Our druggists tell me Kemp's Balsam is better than any other cough remedy. I can cheerfully recommend it. Yours truly, J. J. PRASE, Editor Republican. At all druggists. Large bottles 50c and $1.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. CURED BY HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. The fact that rheumatism is caused by accumulation of acid in the blood, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful power in purifying the blood, explain the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in curing this disease. In May, 1876, I was taken with acute rheumatism in my legs and arms. It entirely prevented me from working, and I was confined to my bed for several weeks. I consulted several physicians of the city, and in order to tendance and in August, I was just about to move around. I was reduced to a mere skeleton and my appetite was entirely gone. It was thought by my friends that I could not possibly live. I took almost everything I could hear of, but with no good results, during that winter. One day, reading about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, I bought a bottle and tried it. I concluded to try it. One bottle gave me so much relief that I took four bottles, and straighten I have not been troubled with rheumatism, and my general health has never been better. My appetite is increasing and I am gaining in flesh. I attribute my whole improvement to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. I can cheerfully recommend it to all who are troubled with rheumatism. I consider it the greatest medicine ever put up." WM. F. TAYLOR, Emporium, Canton, Conn.

HERBICIDAL RHEUMATISM. Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Arkansas, writes: "About ten years ago I contracted rheumatism in my legs and arms, and was confined to my bed for several weeks.
