percentage of attendance was 92; the number of teachers in attendance at the meetings was 64. The following were absent: Masses Mary Guthrie, Kate Sharp, A. B. Spindler, C. O. Spindler, M. Underwood, E. Suydam, M. Zug.

Because of the absence of the city superintendent attending the meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Educational association at New York, for which permission was granted him by your honorable body at the February meeting, no teachers' meetings of the high school grade were called.

The number of visits made by the city superintendent was 110; visits made by directors were reported as follows: Wm. McComsey, 42; Dr. M. W. Raub, 39; J. McKillips, 24; W. Johnson and G. N. Reynolds, each 22; Dr. O. Roland, 21; J. B. Warfel, 16; H. A. Schroyer and Chas. Lippoid, each 15; W. D. Stanffer, 9; J. F. Kautz, 7; W. R. Brinton, 5; H. R. Breneman, 5; R. C. McDonnell, 1. Total, 240.

Having obtained the permission of the superintendent opened a new primary school in the Chestnut street building, last Monday, and placed Miss Grace Wylle in charge. The opening of this school provided a way of relief for the overcrowded primaries in the Manor, the Walnut and the James street buildings.

The monthly lectures on the history of the United States, given by the city superintendent to the pupils of the higher class in the grammar schools, have been brought to a close for this term, because of the increase of work toward the close of the term.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

The railroad and concert hall scenes were good, while that of the gambling hall was tame and disappointing. In the concert scene people with specialities were seen and they made as big a hit as the star or any people in the play. They were introduced by a tough leaking individual, who looked like a property man, and he made the announcements in a very natural but "Pilbite-your-ear-off" style. Marie Rene did some very difficult dancing, making rapid changes. Kelly and Murphy two elever young boxers, who are about the only pair that have been successful enough to travel together for years, gave their usual spirited set-to, and were recalled time and again. Bobby Gaylor is a very funny Irish comedian, and his peculiar manner of telling stories, giving imitations and his nimble dancing made him a favorite to such an extent that the andience did not want to leave him go. Among the people who saw the show were the members of Frank Lindon's company, who are the attraction for the remainder of the week. They were bunched in parquette seats.

POX CHASE AT LEAMAN PLACE.

A Large Crowd Enjoys the Sport-The Fox Taken Aliva.

On Thursday afternoon there was a fox chase at I. N. Worst's hotel, at Leaman Place, and the crowd was large as they always are in that section of the county, where fox hunting is very popular. Lancaster as usual turned out a big delegation. After the usual big dinner, and it was an excellent one, too, the fox was dropped. Notwithstanding the snow, Reynard ran very well. The pack of dogs that were started after him was not so large, but they came from one kennel, and therefore ran well together. The fox was given a close chase, not only by the dogs, but also by the riders. He finally took refuge in the barn of a man named Hoke, near Strasburg, where he was caught alive by Jagob Bair, jr., son of Jacob Bair, the well known for hunter of Williamstown. The Lancaster people returned home in the evening trains. Altogether the chase was one of the best of the year.

One of the horns pene-trated his lower jaw, passing through it into his mouth. He was badly injured and was at once taken to his home by Mr. Denlinger. A physician was sent for, who dressed the wound.

At the meeting of the National League of ball clubs yesterday there was a big fight and it was finally decided to have ten clubs, which is two more than for years before. They will be stationed at Cleveland, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Pittaburg, New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Washington and Philadelphia. Other members of the League tried in every way to shove Indianapolis and Washington out of the League, but all to no purpose. They were obliged to make it a ten club circuit and they are already disgusted with it. The schedule is unsatisfactory to everybody and all are blue. body and all are blue.

Neighbors Quarrel.
Some days ago Mrs. Henrietta Gorrecht was proceduted by Mrs. James Moore for surety of the peace. Mrs. Gorrecht then made similar complaint against James Moore and his wife. All the above cases were returned to court by Alderman Barr.
The last of the hearings was on Thursday evening. After the hearing Mrs. Moore entered a suit for the same offense against Mrs. Gorrecht, and this suit will be heard next week. The parties are neighbors and live on South Water street.

Found Gold and Silver.

Gold and silver have been found on the farm of Jeremiah Stauffer, near Scottdale. Stauffer employed a geologist named Stanton to examine the supposed gold and silver strata. He found the rook to yield $278 in silver and anywhere from $600 to $1,000 in gold. He says he has met with the same vein in examinations elsewhere, and believes it to extend as far south as North Carolina. The rock also contains other valuable minerals. In one part of Mr. Stauffer's farm iron ore and other metals exist in abundance.

York's New Hotel.

York is to have a large hotel which will be built during the coming aummer. It will be made of brick and atone, will be aix stories high and will have one hundred rooms. The hotel is to be located in Centre Square and its cost, besides the site, will be $75,000. It will be named "Hotel York."

Columbia is also greatly agitated now, and they want a big hotel, too.

Onto Redistricted.

The Senate on Thursday passed the House bill redistricting the state for congressional purposes, and it is now a law. It places McKinley and Butterworth in strong Democratic districts, and will give about two-thirds of the congressional districts to the Democrata after the next election.

Before Alderman Hershey.

John W. Bauer, charged by his stepmother, Neilie Bauer, with the larceny of a gold ring, had a hearing last evening.
There was no evidence to mustain the charge and the case was dismissed.

Peter Judge, who claims to be from Harburg, was found very drunk on West King Received a Contract in Virginia Hugh Keogh, railroad contractor, of this city, returned at 8:10 this morning from Roanoke, Virginia, to which place he went to look after some railroad work on the Ohio extension of the Norfolk & Western railroad, which was let yesterday. Mr. Koogh succeeded in getting ten miles of the work,including a small tunnel, and he will commence operations at once. The whole line of new road is 190 miles long. Mr. Leogh's work is in Wayne county.

The Norristown story of a death bed confession of the murderer of Dr. Levering is denied. The man credited with making it died in Harrisburg four years ago and it has been rumored that he then made a confession, but this has not been substantiated, and the story of domestic infelicity is emphatically contradicted.

The Papers Late.

News Express, due here at 8:25, was delayed for two hours this morning and people did not receive their Philadelphia papers at breakfast time. The delay was caused by the truck pulling out from under one of the care between Hoke's to far and Contestilla. The car was not

This time it continued 22 days, but most of the women were kept alive, in spite of their refusal to eat, by the administration of food artificially.

At the end of this terrible hunger strike only Madame Sigida and Madame Salova were able to stand on their feet. Mme. Sigida saked for an interview with the commandant, and in the course of it struck him in the face. Whether the blow was provoked by something that he said to her, or whether she intended to secrifice herself with the hope of bettering the condition of her companions, is not known. The hunger strikers were not aware of her intention to strike the commandant, if she had such an intention when she left them. Madame Sigida was removed to the common criminal prison at Ust-Kara, as were also Mesdames Kalushnaya and Smirithaya, and according to one account Mme. Kavalakaya.

The result of the blow given by Mme. Sigida to Commandant Masiukoff was a telegram from Governor General Korff, directing that she he flogged. The prison surgeon made the enstomary examination of her, and reported that she was not in a condition to endure the punishment. Baron Korff was notified of the surgeon's decision and of his refusal to be present at the flogging. He thereupon telegraphed: "Carry the order into execution without the presence of the doctor."

Mme. Sigida was then flogged under the direction of the assistant director as Bobrofski]. She died two days later from heart failure, and almost immediately Mesdames Smirniskava, Kalushnaya and Kavalakaya poisoned themselves. The other women were so isolated that they did not know what had happened.

When news of the terrible tragedy reached the men's prison, according to information furnished by the procurer, 80 of the male political convicts took poison. Only twe of them, however, Kalushnaya and Bobokof, died. The others were asved by medical treatment. Hacker, who was living outside the prison, in the "Free Command," shot himself in the head, but as his pistol was a very small and cheap one, the wound was not fatal.

Mr. Burkholder was 76 years of age and his wife 74. The former was a tall man, of good figure, and the Littiz Record tells this story about him: While at Lancaster on a Whit Monday, he took hold of a pulling machine to test his strength, when he tore the machine to pieces with one hard pull, a thing unheard of before. But this experiment caused such a severe sprain in his back that for s such a severe sprain in his back that for a year he was a helpless invalid, and never after that was as healthy as previously." Tower—Nobody Hurt.

There was a large and troublesome wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad, which occurred at one o'clock; this morning, at the telegraph tower just west of the Big Conestoga bridge, about a mile east of this city. Seven loaded cars of an eastern bound freight train were thrown from the rails and piled across two tracks. Two of the cars had their trucks torn completely off. The track was torn up for a long distance and the ties were badly cut. Pacific Express, due here at 1:25 this morning, was over three hours late and other trains were badly disarranged. The Columbia and succeeded in clearing off the north track.
The south track was not cleared until some time during the forencon. What caused the accident is not known, but no one was

The officers at once took them in charge and Alderman Deen gave them 20 days each this morning.

Stanton raised his arm, and the fifty or more bucks who stood around to witness the race dropped their long blankets and stood calmly leaning on ugly looking guns. That settled it. The race was over. The young racing bucks spent money freely for a while, as did also the chief who interfered with the race. Young Demoyers was never seen again, either in Green Bay or Detroit. It was said he went South to redeem his lost thousands. It was the most remarkable foot-race ever held in the world, and were the newspapers of that day what they are now, columns upon columns of its report would have fullowed. As it is, this is, I believe, the first time it has been in print."

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—John Gibney, aged 25 years, who, with his wife and seventeen-year-old niece were found at their home last evening almost saphyxiated by escaping illuminating gas, died this morning. Mrs. Gibney remains unconscious, and the physicians entertain slight hopes of her recovery. The girl, who was least affected, is improving, but she remains in a dazed condition. The estastrophe is believed to have been due to the carelemnese of Mr. Gibney, who, it is thought, again opened the gas key after having extinguished the light. It is known that he came into the house under the influence of liquor.
