A Young Jehu Who Drives With Toes.

John Mylcheest, of Middletown, N. Y., is a queer chap and as adroit in some ways as he is defective physically. John is thirteen years old and has no arms; he never had any, so he has to get along handily without them. He makes his feet to do the chores ordinarily intrusted to the hands by other folks, and he does some feats that would be notable if done by persons who have hands as well as feet. For instance, being fond of horses, he has learned to drive them expertly, and he manipulates the reins entirely with his toes. He folks back on the wagon seat, gathers up the lines [defily with his toes, sings out "G'lang!" and rattles away, cracking his whip and having a grand time. The reins he holds in the flexible toes of his left foot, the whip in the cluster of right foot toes, and he piles the lash if ne seasary, and saws the lines if the steeds cut up, and goes through town at a restling ne eesary, and saws the lines if the steeds cut up, and goes through town at a rattling galt with the skill of an accomplished and two-handed whip. When John is not on the turf or behind a roadster taking an outing he is in the newsboy business, and it is a smart chap that can sell papers and make change with his hands as swiftly and handsomely as young Mylchrees can do those things with his nimble ten toes.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter deflies the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste, and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond most human enjoyments. To purchase humanity from such a late should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANYORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and rarely failing.
