DIED SUDDENLY.

QUIES WILLIAM N. GALEBAITH SUCCUNES TO HEART DISEASE.

While Dining at the County House He omes Ill and Expires in a Few Minutos-A Busy Career Closes.

Esquire William N. Galbraith, than oin no one in the county was better County house at noon to-day. He came to Lancaster on the early morning train to transect his first of April business and was in apparent good health when he reached this city.

orthy before noon while in converse tion with some gentlemen at the County house he complained of feeling ill and he regretted that he had left his medicine at home. He generally carried a medicine prescribed by his physician, which re-lieved the pain in the region of his heart, which appeared to be is ailment for the mest var.

past year. He went into dinner and while esting was seen to gasp and his headfell forward. Those bim ran to his assistance, carried him from the room and placed him in an chair in a room adjoining the dinner hall. Mr. Galbraith sank rapidly, and in a few minutes after he was seized with illness, was a corpse. Dr. George A. King was summoned at ouce, but before his arrival Mr. Galbraith was dond.

Deceased was 76 years old, and a native of Colerain township, where he resided all of his long and busy life. He was a farmer by occupation. When a young man he was elected justice of the peace of Colerain and he held that office for thirty years. When his last term expired a few a years ago he declined a re-election.

In politics he was an ardent Democrat. He was held in high esteem by his neighbors and he was frequently called upon to sottle estates, and was at all times faithful to the trusts reposed in him. Of more than ordinary intelligence his advice was frequently sought and when followed trouble and expense were saved.

He became connected with the Union Presbyterian church many years ago, and was a consistent member up to the time of his death. He leaves a widow and one son, John J., to mourn his sudden death.

The community in which he lived will mourn his loss, for his place will be diffi-cult to fill. He was an honest man, in the trictest sense of the term, a good neighbor and a conscientious citizen; who never shirked a duty, and his memory will be respected in years to come for the many excellent qualities he possessed.

Coroner Honaman was notified of the udden death, and he impanelled as jurors to hold the inquest J. R. Shenk, J. M. Ayers, John Warden, George Hunter, A. Winters and H. A. Shenk. A verdict of death from heart failure was rendered The remains of Mr. Galbraith will be sen to his home this evening.

Nult, near Salunga. He had in his possession two hatchets, two or three leather straps, one horse blanket, several handkerchiefs and towels, and a grain bag with name of J. Stauffer on. The hatchets are stamped No. 2, made by C. Hammond, Philadelphia. The thief was committed to jail for a further hearing. On Saturday evening James Smoker, a P. R. R. conductor, was struck on the left temple by a stone thrown by some boys, while walking slong a lane near the cemetery. wook.

He Wrecks a Cart and Narrowly Escapes

Being Killed On Saturday. On Saturday evening a serious runaway occurred in which a horse made a narrow escape from being killed. A man in the employ of Dr. B. F. Groff, veterinary surgeon, who also has a boarding stable, on South Christiau street, was out in the country driving a horse, which is a boarder at the stable. The animal was hitched to a dog cart and they were coming in the Willow Street itsh, No. 42 South Prince street, on Wednesday turnpike. When near Steinman's powder house, about a mile and a half below the city, one of the reins broke. The driver was unable to control the horse and he jumped or was thrown from the cart. The horse ran to town and passed safely through the covered bridge across the Conestoga, at Graeff's landing, with the dog cart still to him. He ran over the lower

His Own Wite Was the Thief. A week ago W. W. Hanworth, a Balti-more & Ohio trackman at Paw Paw, W. Va., was robbed of about $1,500, the scoumulation of almost a lifetime, which he kept in a traink in bif cabin. A number of persons were suspected, and a reward of $500 led to accuring the services of a detective. All possible chaes were followed up, and a young man was ar-rested, but nothing came of it and the matter was dropped. Now Mrs. Hanworth has confessed to taking the money, and has turned over $60, all she has left. It was her intention to clope with a young rail-rost workman, and it is supposed he has the remainder of the money. The young man cannot be found.

Punished for Selling Cider

Punished for Seiling Cider. The sensation of Saturday in Prohibition circles in Bath, Me., was the arrest of B. R. Parshley, the leading grocor and one of the wealthiest merchants in that city, be-cause his clerk sold a customer a glass of mild cider. The municipal judge at once sentenced him, despite remonstrances, to thirly days in fail and $50 fine. All offers of payment of the fine or furnishing se-curity to any amount were declined, and the gentleman was lugged off to jail. He is heartbroken over his diagrace.

A Coffee Sociable.

On Thursday evening next a chocolate and coffee sociable will be given in the Western M. E. church, on Charlotte street, and it will no doubt be a success. The proceeds will be de-voted in paying for the painting of the church.

THE FIRST GAME.

The Active Club Defeated by That of the Lehigh University On Saturday afternoon the Active base ball club of this city opened the season by playing their first game. It was with the nine of Lehigh University at Bethlehem, which by the way is a very strong college club. The day was cold and raw and it was anything but pleasant to play ball in such weather. It was the first time that the whole of the Active team had been together for a game of ball, while on the other hand the University club has been coached by Baker, of Baltimore, and Riddle, of Washington, all winter. Owing to cold weather but five innings were play ed and the college team won by 5 to 3. Davis, the Actives' new short stop, played a fine game in the position and hit the ball hard. Gleim did well at first base, and the battery work of Hagey and Gibson was all that could be desired. Shindle's base running was a feature of the game. The college boys played as though they meant business and they have a good battery in McClung and Werner.

Another game has been arrange | between mothe clubs to be played at Bethlehem on desApril 50th, when the Actives are on their contray to Easton to open the season.

Struck by a Train.

Cocalico's Postmaster. Sask has been appointed posting a number of people saw him and tried to catch him, they were not successful. He finally turned into South Queen street, up which he ran at a furious rate. He ran upon the pavement several places, and at the corner of Vine street fell, breaking loose from the cart, which by that time had part of the city for some time, and although been almost smashed to pieces. The animal was full of fire and soon regained his feet. He again started off and ran up Vine to Duke street, and then out towards the Lititz turnpike.

At the turnout of the street car line, on Dake street near James, a car, northward bound, was standing waiting for another from the north to pass. The driver of the car was standing on the rear platform when he saw the horse coming. He knew that he would surely run squarely into the car. By waving his glove in his hand the driver succeeded in moving the horse slightly to one side. It was too late to prevent him from striking the car, however, which he did with great force. This knocked the animal down, cutting a terrible gash fn his breast and another in his leg. The horse was scarcely able to walk to his stable and for a time it was believed that he would have to be killed.

The harness was completely torn from the animal's back in his run, and pieces were found scattered all along the street. The horse is owned by a gentleman living out of the city, and for that reason the people in charge of him would give very little information concerning the occurrence or the horse.

A Sunday Wedding.

Jilted at the Altar.

Jilted at the Aitar. Edgar Bruton, a wealthy young man, was filted almost at the altar in Paris, Tex., on Sunday by Miss Annie Bayloss, who, an hour later, was married to James R. Bradbury, a poor blacksmith. It was a combat batween love and lucre, and, after a hard struggle, love conquered. Miss Bayless is the daughter of a wealthy citizen, and was to marry Bruton at 10 o'clock. She was also engaged to Mr. Bradbury, and her people opposed this at-tachment, but favored Bruton's suit. At the last minute Miss Bayless refused to marry Bruton. She was then married to Bradbury at the house of a neighbor.

Smoked In Bed.

Smoked In Bed. A frame house in Washington, D. C., was burned on Saturday, and Richard Hayne, its owner, perished in the flames. Havne fell asleep while smoking his pipe and the bed clothing became ignited. A remarkable incident in connection with the fire was an accident to No. 3 engine horses. When the engine was pussing over one of the dangerous steam railroad crossings one of the animal's hoofs was torn off. The noble animal gave no evidence of pain, but continued all the way to the fire, a distance of nearly a half a mile, on the cobble-stone pavement on the bare the cobble-stone pavement on the bare bone that was exposed by the loss of the hoof. The animal had to be killed.
