"Amalgamating" the Dog.

From the Lewiston Journal.

A Main street grocer whose name, to eave his blushes shall be sacred, was the witness to an awful piece of ascrilege the other day. In other words, a big dog came into his mest room, stole a hunk of airloin and made his escape. Mindful of the square meal that went literally to the dogs, the grocer awore vengeance, and loudly stated that he would smalgamate the dog if he should stick his nose across the threshold of his store again. Time brings all things—even dogs into meat rooms, and on Wednesday time sad hunger brought the same dog guardedly across the sreet toward the Main street grocery. The grocer aw him coming and he deposited himself behind the meat-room door, swinging the double door after the dog had passed it, and imprisoned the animal. Now, preparing to amalgamate or pulverize or disintegrate an absent dog is very different from performing the same work for a dog in the presence of the dog himself. The grocer found this out for himself. A double row of white teeth, omnious growls and finally a rush to the ropes sent the grocer down stairs into the cellar and left the dog to run the meat room. In the meantime the store upstairs was unguarded. Customers might come in. Thieves might bear it away. In agony profound the grocer heard the dog and the Imaginary footsteps, of trade. He shouted aloud for help and after long lapses of time it came, releasing the dog first and the grocer afterward. The dog still goes, unamalgamated, and the grocer will welcome him kindly the next time he calls.

Wolf Fight, a La Klikenny.

From the Virginia City Chronick A Mill Creek miner thus winds up the story of a fight between a thousand wolves that besieged his cabin one night recently in the mountains of that region, incited to frenzy by the notes of the aforesaid miner's fiddle:

"I fiddled and they fit and ate each other, till the band began to thin out. Every time I gave an extra rasp on the E string they howled louder and pitched in afresh. They kept it up for three hours, when there wasn't more than forty or fifty left, and they so blamed full that they could hardly waddle.

"But I fiddled and they fit for a second wind. When one threw up the sponge the raid hold of another's tail and chawed for glory. The ring kept getting smaller, but I fiddled and they chawed until there was only a bunch of hair left, and that blowed away down hill. The snow was all red with blood and trampled down ten feet. Heads and bones were strung all down the canyon, and there was fur enough in sight to stuff a circus tent. It was the daudiest dog fight I ever saw."

the most direct way to render them so is to reinforce the vital energies. That sterling invigerant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will be found all-sufficient for this purpose, since it entirely removes impediments to thorough digestion and assimilation of the food, so that the body is insured its due amount of nourishment, and consequently of stamina. Rheumatic tendencies and affections of the kidneys and bladder are also counteracted by the Bitters, which is besides a pleasant medicinal stimulant, infinitely purer than the raw excitants of commerce, which react injuriously upon the nervous system.

A Baptist Minister's Experience.

"I am a Baptist minister, and before I thought of being a clergyman I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative practice for my present profession, forty years ago. I was for many years a sufferer from quinsy. Thomas' Eelectric Oil cured me. I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Eelectric Oil relieved me. My wife and child had diphtheria, and Thomas' Eelectric Oil cured them, and if taken in time it will cure seven times out of ten. I am confident it is a cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one will take a smail teaspoon and haif fill it with Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon into the head, by sniffing as hard as they can, until the Oil falls into the throat, and practice it twice a week, I don't care how offensive their catarrh. For deafness and earache it has done wonders to my certain knowledge. It is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house for any consideration. I am now suffering with pain like rheumatism in my right limb, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Eelectric Oil." Dr. E. F. Crane, Corry, Pa. Sold in Lancaster by W. T.
