TO PROTECT MERCHANTS. fr. Riddle presented the following peti-To the Honorable, the Select and Common

To the Honorable, the Select and Common Councils.

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned, merchants and business men, would respectfully represent that for many years past our business has suffered by a certain class of vendors coming to the city right in the heart of the season and injuring the business of your petitioners by the sale of goods, wares and merchandise without intending to locate here permanently. Vast quantities of goods from bankrupt firms and assignee sales from other cities are thrown upon the maket for certain short periods to the great disadvantage and detriment of legitimate business men of the city who have to pay rent and taxes from year to year. These transient and irresponsible vendors or dealers by their attractive and conspicuous advertisements manage to do a thriving trade during the holiday season without paying any taxes to or having any interest in the welfare of the city, either directly or indirectly. We would therefore most respectfully request your honorable bodies to enact an ordinance for the protection of our business interests.

protection of our business interests. To give the merchants the protection petitioned for Mr. Riddle introduced the following resolution, which was referred to the finance committee:

to the finance committee:

An ordinance prohibiting the sale of goods by principal or agent not engaged in a permanent business, without having obtained a license therefor from the city treasurer.

Be it ordained by the Select and Common Council of the City of Lancaster, that it shall be the duty of every person, whether principal or agent, not engaged in a permanent business in Lancaster, but entering into beginning or desiring to begin a transient business in said city for the sale of any goods, wares or merchandise, whatsoever, whether the same shall be held forth to be bankrupt, assignee's, or about to quit business or of goods damaged by fire, water or for any other reason, or any non-resident offering to sell goods by sample, at retail or on the for any other reason, or any non-resident offering to sell goods by sample, at retail or on the instalment plan, shall take out a license for the same from the city treasurer of said city, which license shall be granted for the sum of $100 per month and for no less sum, said license to be received monthly during the continuance of said sais, for a like sum of $100 for each month or any part thereof. And upon failure of said person so to secure license, he or they shall be fined in a sum not less than $100, to be collected as all other fines are by law collectible, and in default of payment of said fine and costs be imprisoned in the fail of Lancaster county for a period of not less than twenty and not exceeding thirty days.

All ordinances, or parts of ordinances inconsistent herewith or supplied hereby, are hereby repealed.

CITY TREASURER'S BOND.

Mr Riddle presented the bond of City Treasurer Rathfon. It is in the sum of $50,000, with Jacob Rathvon, Samuel M. Myers, J. Hay Brown and John D. Skiles as his sureties. The bond was approved by a unanimous vote. Common council

Mr. Riddle presented a petition for the vacation of an alley between Lime and Shippen and Frederick and New. Referred to the street committee.

The bond of City Solicitor Carpenter, in the sum of $1,000, was approved. Select council concurred.

FOR THE STREET COMMITTEE. Mr. Schum presented petitions for the repair of Andrew street, between South Queen and Beaver, and West Mifflin street, between Water and Mulberry.

Mr. Erisman presented a petition for the macadamizing of Charlotte street, between Chestnut and Walnut streets. These petitions were referred to the street com-

AN ATROCIOUS MURDER.

Hungarians Brutally Beat Their Victim to Death, Then Hang Him to a Tree.

to Death, Then Hang Him to a Tree.

A horrible murder was committed at Hibernia, N. J., on Monday night. It is a mining village where about 200 Hungarians are employed.

A party of miners were drinking in the principal salcon, when a quarrel broke out between three of the party about the payment of some drinks which they had had. The man who started the quarrel has been very unpopular for some time, and upon him the other two set, and one of them smashed his skull with a beer bottle. His name was Paul Matiazcozki. He was 38 years of age and a German by birth. The names of the men who attacked him are Gergulo Baricki and John Stanik.

The tragedy occurred in Paul Kronolick's salcon and boarding house. The fact of Matiazcozki's death was not known to the police until Wednesday morning. After receiving the blow of the bottle he was thrown down and kicked most brutally. The bartender then helped him out of the salcon, and he staggered to his room in a hearding house ray.

Thence he was forcibly taken by his as-aliants, and, all bruised and bleeding, and half unconscious, was hanged to a tree. The whole affair lasted but a few minutes. Passers-by found him and cut him down Passers-by found him and cut him down soon after the gang had gone, but life was all but extinct. He died soon afterward.

There is hot feeling in the neighborhood against the prisoners. The police arrested three of his assailants shortly afterward. Two are still sought by the police. The dead man's body was found to be frightfully mutilated. His head and body were a mass of contusions and body were a mass of contusions and bruises. His chest was black and blue from the kicking which he had received. The prisoners were taken to the county jail and locked up there, still under the influence of liquor. They admitted having had a quarrel with the dead man about a year ago, and said there had been bad blood between them ever since until the meeting which culminated in murder on Monday night.

the meeting which culminated in murder on Monday night.

Upon making an examination the coroner found that not only had the dead man been kicked and beaten with bottles and clubs. There was a red ring round his neck where the cruel rope had ent into his flesh. Recently there have been several fights and stabbing affrays among the miners, and not long ago, during the christening of a few weeks old infant, the little one was crushed to death beneath the weight of a drunken fighter, who fell upon weight of a drunken fighter, who fell upon

Sheriff Montgomery has a statement from one of the prisoner to the effect that while the men were drinking together a dispute arose, and the men set upon Matiazcozki and beat him about the head with beer bottles

While the wretch was still insensible and helpless one of the leaders, who was wild with drink, suggested that he be hanged. Instantly the man was grabbed, a rope was procured and placed around his neck, and he was hauled to a tree and then drawn up was hauled to a tree and then drawn up by his companions.

A Horse Stolen.

Martin Wendell, a peddler, who lives at 632 High street, came to the station house this morning and informed Chief of Police Borger that his horse had been stolen from the stable during last night. The animal is a dark sorrel. Mr. Wendell has no idea who could have taken it.

LORD AND LADY SALISBURY HAD NO TICKETS FOR MONTE CARLO'S CASINO.

England's Colony at the French Resort Exercised Over the "Indignity" to Which the Premier Was Subjected.

MONTE CARLO, April 10 .- The English colony is somewhat agitated to-day at "the indignity" to which the British premier and his wife were subjected last night at

It seems that Lord and Lady Salisbury appeared at the entrance to the Casino without tickets. Admission was refused them. Lord Salisbury sent for the British consul and demanded an interview with the Casino officials. On the arrival of the consul explanations were made and tickets promptly procured. At the same time the official made the humblest apologies for the inconvenience and discourtesy to which the distinguished visitors had been exposed. But Lord Salisbury's indignation could not be appeared. As his identity had been doubted, he produced a blank passport, signed it officially in the presence of the abashed and apolo-getic officials and stalked away, refusing to enter the Casino.

A TORNADO'S WORK.

People Killed and Houses and Forests Destroyed – Parts of Johnstown and Villages Submerged. and Villages Submerged.

Western Pennsylvania was visited by an unusual rain, wind and arctic storm on Wednesday morning. Great damage was done and two lives were lost. In Pittsburg a number of houses were struck by lightning and several persons were stunned.

The rain fell in torrents for several hours, flooding cellars and causing the small streams to overflow.

At Indiana, Pa., a bolt of lightning struck the flouring mill of Megisy & Wilson and it was burned. Loss, $15,000. In Westmoreland county great damage is reported. For two hours the rain fell in torrents and nearly all the streams overflowed their banks, washing away the bridges. At Penn station a number of families were compelled to vacate their houses and seek shelter on the high ground. The Manor Valley railroad at Clay Ridge, its northern terminus, was badly damaged, fully 300 yards being washed away and traffic is entirely suspended. In sections of the county the road bods are washed away, rendering travel dangerous and difficult.

tirely suspended. In sections of the county the road bods are washed away, rendering travel dangerous and difficult.

At Tyrone the Juniata is over its banks, houses and lots are inundated, and the people have been compelled to move to higher ground. The Conemaugh river and Stony creek are again on a "high," and the lower portions of Johncown are under water. Several bridges have been washed away and operations are suspended at the mills situated along the banks of these streams. At 6 o'clock Wednesday night the water was two feet deep around the telegraph office.

The Conemaugh is a raging torrent. Not much damage has been done by the Stony creek, but reports received from Wilmore, 12 miles up the Conemaugh, say that the town is entirely under water. Woodvale is partly under water. Word has just been received that the St. Clair reservoir, about two miles above Morrellville, is in danger of breaking, and people have left their houses to seek higher grounds. If this should give way the destruction to property and probably life would be great.

A TORNADO IN OMIO.

A special from Akron, Ohio, says: Two clouds came together Tuesday evening about two miles northwest of Sharon, Medina county, and then began to revolve in tornado fashion and bear down upon the village. The tornado's progress was marked by rearing and grinding sounds. marked by roaring and grinding sounds. In ten minutes it had levelled everything in its track over six miles of farm land, for a width of 30 rods, demolished dozens of buildings, killed one man, fatally injured a man and a woman and seriously injured several others.

Forests in which were trees two feet in Forests in which were trees two feet in diameter were cut down as if they had been corn stalks. The first building caught up was the barn of James Hartman, northwest of Sharon. It landed several rods away, and was torn into kindling. Then in turn were taken the house and barn of Uriah Woersler, the house and barn of Isaac Brown and Frank Lecroix, the barns of Richard Brown and C. C. Crane. These are located just north of Sharon. Then down a mile or so of timber land and fences the swirling monster jumped into its work anew at the farm of Christian Wall, cast of Centre. The large bank barn was torn into little pieces which were strewn along over a mile.

The large two-story house of Reasonable Wall was blown off its foundation and tipped over on its side, and a house and barn near by demolished. The bank barn of Matthew Bromley, just across the road, was given a whirl. Mr. Bromley was caught up and deposited several rods away, badly crushed under the timbers. He was unconscious all day and cannot recover. His son landed on the contents of the hay mow. The house of Frank Bromley, a quarter of a mile further on, was blown several rods from its foundation, and, taking fire, burned up with its contents.

The family escaped by taking refuge in the cellar. An orchard of 50 apple trees back of the house was mowed clean. Just a quarter of a mile southeast of Bromley's

Mission and Sunday School Work Discussed By the Episcopal Clergy.

Columnta, April 10.—A missionary meeting was held in St. Paul's P. E. church last evening which was well attended and interesting. After the opening services Ven. Archdescon Foley made an address on the subject, "The church in foreign landa." He said there was a morbid demand for statistics in the presentation of the fruits of the work which he would not gratify. He gave an interesting talk, covgratify. He gave an interesting talk, cov-ering the fields which had been character-

They Get the Use of the Prothonotary's Office Free of Charge. The general impression is that the offices in the court house are for the use of the county officers for the transaction of business pertaining to their respective departments. Anyone who had occasion to be at the prothonotary's office to-day would be of a different opinion. Seated in a conspicuous part of the room is a Washington city pension agent, and around him were gathered all day groups of men and women filing their applications for pensions. There are pension agents in this city and the Washington attorney is about in the same position to the home agents as tramp merchants coming to Lancaster for a week or two to get rid of damaged goods. The Lancaster men have the same facilities to secure pensions as the Washington attorneys, and they have reason to complain about strangers coming to Lancaster and enjoying the facilities of the county offices without expense. Lancaster pension agents might with a much propriety advertise that they would be at the prothonotary's office daily to receive the applications for pensions. That appears to be the practice of the Wash ington men. They had an advertise ment in the daily papers that they would be in Lancaster for several day at the prothonotary's office. Probably they pay the prothonotary for the privilege of occupying his office; but the prothon otary has no right to rent his office room out to others to do business in. That is very clear. It is a room provided by the county for the use of the prothonotary and for which he himself pays no rent, county commissioners should talk to him.

A Chinese Importation Business. Monday afternoon Detroit custom house officials received word of the presence of four strange Chinamen in Windsor. They were duly watched, but the United States officers were off their guard when the four men took a Grand Trunk train bound east

It has since been learned that they alighted at Walkerville and during the night were ferried across to Detroit and spirited away by their companions or agents of an institution which seems to be carrying on a wholosale Chinese importation business along the border between Detroit and Sarnia. Mun Lee, of Toronto, is at the head of the business.

Reading Railroad Changes.

S. A. Caldwell has resigned from the board of managers of the Reading railroad. The resignations of Managers Baer and Shipley, announced in our telegraphic news on Wednesday, had been expected, but Mr. Caldwell's was a surprise. The Twenty-fifth Anniversary of That Event Marked by a G. A. R.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the surrender of Lee at Appo-mattox attracted a large crowd at the court house on Wednesday evening. The rear of the large room was decorated with flags and presented a handsome appearance. The orators of the evening were announced to be Congressmen Allen, of Michigan, and Brosius and Gen. E. Burd Grubb, of New Jersey. The last named did not put in

Messrs, Allen and Brosius arrived from Washington on the 6:45 train, were met by a committee of the local posts and escorted to the Stovens house.

The local posts met at their quarters at 7 o'clock and accompanied by a few repre-sentatives of county posts had a short street parade. Headed by the Iroquois band the line of march was from the rooms of Post 84, to Duke street, to Chestnut, to North Queen, around the monument, to West King, to Stevens house and then to the Capt. He referred to the correspondence that passed be-tween Grant and Lee prior to the surrender at Appemattox, recalled many of the incidents of that event, and spoke of the great joy throughout the land when the news flashed across the wire that Lee had surrendered on terms proposed by Grant. Prof. Hall sang "Tenting To-night," after which Congressman Allen was intro-duced by his colleague, Congressman Brosius. In introducing the speaker Mr. Brosius said that after the war he went to a Michigan university to complete his studies. There he met a young man and they soon became fast friends. After leav-ing the institution their paths diverged, and for twenty years he had seen his young friend. Upon his assuming duties of his office at Washing ton in the House of Representatives he again saw his young friend, but he was occupying a high place of honor, being the trusted lieutenant of the speaker. That young man was the Hon. E. P. Allen, who would now deliver an address.

Mr. Allen referred to the pleasure it gave him to come to a city which was the home of two such distinguished citizens as Buchanan and Stevens. He referred to the great lapse of time since the war closed and the changes it wrought. Mr. Allen's speech was interesting and well received. After singing "Marching Through Georgia,"E.K. Martin was called for. He spoke of the causes of the war and what was accomplished by the surrender at Appointtox, referred to the duty of the Grand Army posts to preserve the sentiment of patriotism which is in danger through sordid con-derations. The exercises of the evening closed with a medley by the band. H. L. Frailey's Funeral. This afternoon the funeral of the late H. L. Frailey took place from the residence of deceased, on South Queen street. The attendance was very large, and among the secret societies present were Monterey Lodge I. O. O. F., Washington Encampment No. 11, and Lodge No. 88, Knights of Pythias. The body was taken to Bethel Church of God, where services were held by Rev. Esterline. The interment was year's importations are nearly 234 millions against 221 millions collected. The duties under the bill would increase The duties under the bill would increase the revenues from the various schedules as follows: Tobacco, about 8,000,000; agricultural products, $11,000,000; flax, jute and hemp, $5,000,000; wool and its manufactures, $15,000,000, and sundries, $3,000,000. The reduction on sugar would be $27,000,000. Sugar is the only schedule which shows any reduction worth noting. A paragraph will be added to the bill before it is reported providing that all goods, wares and providing that all goods, wares and merchandise, the product of convict labor in foreign countries, shall be excluded from entry into any ports of the United States.

Rained Sand and Potato Bugs.

During a thunder shower on Wednesday a black cloud swept with great rapidity over Paterson, N. J., and for a time it was almost as dark as night. Western people in the city say it looked like a tornado, but it did no damage. It was very dirty looking, and really seemed to be filled with dirt. Immediately afterward rain fell in torrents, and with it came down sand, dirt and young potato bugs in large quantities. City Surveyor Ferguson, the local and state meteorologist, says the funnel and tube of the rain gauge at the City hall were choked up with sand and potato bugs, and he surmises that the cloud must have swept over and scooped up a portion of someover and scooped up a portion of some body's potato field.

Chester Farmers Make Assignments. Three assignments of farmers in the township of Honeybrook, Chester county, were announced on Wednesday. They were of the following named well-known agriculturists: H. F. Colbit, Peter, Supplee and John Rank. The low prices for their products, in connection with heavy interest on mortgages given by them, forced them to succumb. The business of the sheriff of Chester county is steadily growing. He has Chester county is steadily growing. He has at present 25 properties advertised to be cold.

OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT. A Pennsylvania Republican Reminds Him of Broken Piedges and Other Sins.

Sins.

Mr. H. C. Lea, a prominent Philadelphian, has addressed an "open letter" to President Harrison regarding his subserviency to Senator Quay. After stating that Quay has been publicly charged with flagrantly dishonest acts, including the temporary abstraction from the state treasury of $200,000 in one instance and of $400,000 in another, and has made no defence, the letter says:

of $200,000 in one instance and of $400,000 in another, and has made no defence, the letter says:

"It is true that the crimes alleged against Senator Quay are connected only with his career as a Pennsylvania boss, but your close connection with him has rendered the scandal national. You were duly warned in advance, from a friendly source, of the dangers of such an alliance, yet by accepting his man, Mr. Wanamaker, as a member of your cabinet you assumed responsibility for both of them. In pursuance of this alliance you have enlarged Mr. Quay's importance by virtually giving him control of the federal patronage in Pennsylvania, thus rendering him the dictator of the Republican party in the state.

"He boasted of your subserviency to him when, in explaining his triumph over Representative Dalzell in the struggle for the Pittaburg postoffice, he publicly said that 'the president, though very anxious to gratify Mr. Dalsell, for whom he has a high esteem, could not, under all the circumstances, well avoid complying with my wishes.' Indeed, his power would seem to be as great in Washington as in this state, for the party organs now tell us that he has been endeavoring to buy off a superfluous candidate for the governorship with an assistant secretaryship of war.

"In thus entering into a political part-war.

"In thus entering into a political partnership with Mr. Quay you must share the losses as well as the gains of the venture. It is not Pennsylvania alone, nor even the Republican party only, that has a right to protest; every clizen of the land must feel humiliation at the smirch thus inflicted on the chief magistracy of the nation.

"As a Republican by conviction, ardently desiring the success of the party as long as it deserves success, let me request you, Mr. President, to take a calm survey of the situation and render to yourself an account of your stewardship. Thirteen months ago you entered upon the duties of the highest office which the world has to bestow; your party was supreme in the control of the batter was supreme in the control of the the terms. highest office which the world has to bestow; your party was supreme in the control of both houses of Congress and of the executive: everything promised a prosperous and usoful administration, in which you, by simply adhering to the pledges under which you were elected, might earn another term from the confidence and gratitude of the people. The only cloud upon the political horizon was your acceptance of a postmaster general at Mr. Quay's dicts ion, ostensibly as a reward for certain services performed during the canvass.
The cloud, then no larger than a man's hand, has spread till it covers the firmament.

"Look back now and reflect upon your work. You have sedulously devoted yourself to the distribution of patronage. You have turned out nearly forty thousand Democratic officeholders, and in this ignoble business you have filled vacancies thus made by giving recognition to the worst elements in the party. You have thus degraded it to the lowest level till it no longer deserves or enjoys the public confidence, and its interest, as well as that of the nation, demands its purification by defeat.

"But it needs no prophet to foretell the result. The elections of last November were a warning that the people would not tolerate your methods. You have refused to heed the lesson, and the elections of November will emphasize it. The narrow Republican majority in the Lower House will be swept away, and your path for the latter half of your administration will be a path of thorns. You have rewarded the magnificent majority of 80,000 given to you by Pennsylvania by riveting upon her the chains of Quayism. You need not wonder that disaffection is spreading rapidly throughout her borders in a manner that may render even her allegiance doubtful. may render even her allegiance doubtful.
The outlook for 1892 is even darker. Were the presidential election to take place tomorrow, there could scarce be doubt of morrow, there could scarce be doubt of Democratic success.

"Let me counsel you, Mr. President, as a friend, to reflect that this has been your work in one short year of misused power. If this retrospection should bring with it repentance and amendment you still have before you three years, which may be fruitful for good. Bear in mind that 'faithful are the wounds of a friend, but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.' Discard the advisors who are luring you to your downfall. Recognize that the truest political exigency lies in the application of conscience to public affairs, and that you can serve your party best by stimulating the nobler aspirations of the nation rather than by pandering to the baser appetites of spoilsmen. Cease to expect to gather figs off thistles or touch pitch without defilement. Apply to your public duties the high standard of morality to poct to gather figs off thisties or touch pitch without defilement. Apply to your public duties the high standard of morality to which you adhere in your private life. Remember that evil can give birth only to evil, and that you, as chief magistrate of sixty-five millions of freemen, have on your soul a charge for which you must reckon to posterity and to God. I am, Mr. President, your obedient servant, "HENRY CHARLES LEA."
