W. U. Hessel, etc.

He began his remarks by stating that he had been asked over the telephone "What will your address be?"

At the question had not been answered, he was asked to come to the hour, when everybody wanted to go home, say it would be about twenty minutes.

The speaker then referring to the scenes just witnessed, carried him back to the time when he stood on the threshold of that future referred to so often this evening. I am reminded to-night that in the history of our country, no man ever held a more prominent place. Lancaster county was very prominent in the establishment of these common schools, but before the war, the school was in the hands of man elements, which side by side encouraged and fostered a liberal education of the masses.

More than forty years ago David McKeary, of the high school. It had the appearance of a magnificent parlor, whose walls were pink and the ceiling white, with a front porch, and a side porch, an arc was sprung, having the motto of the graduating class: "Perseverance is the key to success."

At either end of this arc were large portraits of the fathers and plants. Immediately in front overhead hung a large key two feet long.

DEATH OF E. S. ROYER.

A PROMINENT CITIZEN OF EPHRATA DIES AFTER A SHORT ILLNESS.

Alfred Merchant, an Active Politician and Member of Several Secret Organizations—Funeral on Saturday.

Edwin S. Royer, one of the most prominent citizens in the northern section of Lancaster county, died at his residence, at Ephrata on Tuesday afternoon. He had been in failing health for a year, and two weeks ago was stricken with paralysis of the throat, and from that time was unconscious.

Decomposed was born in East Cocalco township on July 8, 1844. Early in life he engaged in business for himself, and was very successful. He was in the wholesale liquor trade until January last when he sold his business to Spangler & Konigsmeier. He was also a member of the lumber and coal firm of Royer & Hull, but retired from that business a year ago.

He was an active Republican politician and was one of the most influential men in that section in primary election contests. He was connected with a number of secret organizations, the Masons, Knights Templars, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias.

He was one of the charter members of Cocalco Lodge No. 600, Knights of Pythias, and its first past grand, and was also a past grand of the Grand Lodge. He was also a past grand of the lodge of Odd Fellows at Reading, but withdrew from that to go to the Ephrata organization.

He leaves a wife, one daughter, two brothers, four sons and a large circle of friends to mourn his death, for he was one of the most progressive citizens of Ephrata, and his loss will be greatly felt.

He was consigned to his final resting place in the Lutheran church. His funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon and services will be conducted by Rev. Joseph Strump.

THE STATE TAX CASES.

Decision of Judge McPherson in Favor of the Central Transportation Company.

Judge McPherson, of Dauphin county, handed down a lengthy opinion on Tuesday in the case of the commonwealth against the Central Transportation company, which is in favor of the defendant.

In 1886 the company reduced the par value of its capital stock from $90 to $75 per share. In 1887 the commonwealth levied a tax of $12 a share. In this case the commonwealth contended that this sum of $12 was in the nature of a dividend and taxable, but the court held that it was only a reduction of capital.

The company's business was the manufacture of sleeping cars under certain contracts. In furtherance thereof its entire capital stock was, on February 17th, 1876, transferred to the Central Transportation company, in contracts with 16 railway companies. These patents would all expire before August 16, 1887, on February 17th, 1876, the Central Transportation company, in contracts with Pullman's Palace Car Company, transferred the latter the said cars, with their furniture, etc., and the Central Transportation company, in consideration being that the Pullman company was to receive the annual sum of $304,000.

The terms of this agreement were somewhat as follows: A second agreement, in the month of February, 1877, both the Pullman company and the Pullman Palace Car company were made a part of this finding. For several years this annual sum of $294,000 was paid to the Pullman company. In 1887 the Pullman company was dissolved, and the tax was paid to the state on this basis, but in 1887 it was found that the contract with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, bearing date the 11th day of October, 1877.

Upon this return of the $12 per share after the reduction of the claim of the state was based.

The Carpenters' Situation.

The members decided to go out to-morrow unless they get what they ask for. Members were cautioned to work only with union bricklayers and tenders. The following was passed:

Does Not Wait on Rain.

Street Commissioner Smeltz saw the weather report sent from Washington on Tuesday. The signal officers guessed that there would be rain during the night, but while their predictions did not miss the mark, the rainfall was not great enough to lay the dust. The street commissioner took little stock in the forecasts, for he has begun to use hose to loosen mud on the streets so that it can be removed. He has 25 men and 15 cars in service, and has done a great deal of work during the past month.

SUICIDE OF A YOUNG MAN.

Frank B. Hickey Cuts His Throat With a Razor While in His Room.

A horrible case of suicide took place in this city last midnight. Frank B. Hickey, a young man, who was well known, took his own life by cutting his throat with a razor at the home of his brother-in-law, Knaffman Deutch, No. 130 East Walnut street, where he made his home. The deceased was about 25 years of age. He was a son of Thomas Hickey, who was killed in the war. His mother, Mrs. Eliza Hickey, died in Philadelphia some years ago.

He came to Lancaster to live with Mrs. Deutch, his sister. For years he had been afflicted with epilepsy, and of late seemed to be growing worse. He was liable to have these fits at almost any time, and although he might be calm with his friends for two weeks, he was just as likely to have one or two a day. He had frequently been taken with the fits while walking along the streets of the city of Philadelphia, and almost six years ago he came to Lancaster to live with Mrs. Deutch, his sister.
