CANS IN THE NAVY. chin Affailmetration Has Favored changes. An Eloquent Protest. Collowing is from the letter of a milor set in the New York Sun; The company of the Richmond, and I have rew to be a fair sample of the set of the navy, is composed of 307 of whe mare apprentices and exof whe mave, is composed of 307 of whe mare apprentices and explices. Exclusive of the last meaingle, 25 per cent, only of our crew are rices a, the other 72 per cent, being dinavians, Danes, Russians, Dutch, anne. English, French, Spanish, ItalAfricans, Mongolians and Turks. Of apprentices and ex-apprentices, 70 per are Americans, while the remaining reent, are mostly natives of Ireland, a country they loft when so young they have little or no remembrance of a beard of officers has recommended that beard of officers has recommended that bear apprenticeship shall continue until it is fit years of age, and our latest news rum home informs us that this has become a law. Of that in itself they would not explain, but see what follows: The homeoble secretary of the navy issues an order the effect that no apprentice shall hold rate of a petty officer, thereby compelet the boy to serve until he is 24 before he made, while the same administration makes no provisions prohibiting the three days of the many yard, bear makes no provisions prohibiting the three days of the many yard, bear and a petty officer before he has been aloast a week; in fact it is not necessary that the dust of our noble land should have come in contact with his wooden hose at all. He can board us in a foreign and without ever having been cheered by a sight of the grandest country on which he blessing of God ever rested, and before he can count, in English, the stripes on that blem of freedom, he is the captain of a cen the conswain of a boat, while the american boy who has spent eight or nine of the best years of his life in the service is set eligible to the place.

And if nine-tenths of that 72 per cent, above mentioned should be questioned should be questioned and if nine-tenths of that 72 per cent. hove mentioned about be questioned anoseming the signification of the stripes and stars under which they are serving it could be found that their ignorance is ally exceeded by their extreme indifference in the matter. And can our boys tell any thing about it? Yes, and not that tone. Many of them can tell of fathers all hypothers who carried that banner there abot and shell have torn and rent it and have handed it down to them

And for what? Why, to wave at that peak there, while beneath its honored folds they, the children of its defenders, are subject to the beck and nod of the offscourings of God's creation. The American boy who miliais in the navy with these facts staring him in the face must indeed be devoid of him in the face must indeed be devoid of embition.

Where are the boasted privileges of our free inclusions which support the theory that intelligence and legitimate ambition should not be held in check? In looking back over the naval history of the past, what do we observe? This: That the younger the assonnel of the navy the more effective as been its condition. We will cite one trample: Lake Erie, Sept. 10, 1813; an american boy—yes a boy, but with the mak of commodore, aged 28, achieving me of the most brilliant naval victories the world had ever seen. His enemies attributed its success to his superior gunnery. We have boys in the navy to-day between wenty and twenty-four years of age, whose knowledge of gunnery would paralyse the shade of the noble Perry; and will they are not fit to be petty effects in our service—a service that for the past decade has been the making stock of the nations of the rerid, the cause of which we can attribute thirdly to its suiquated personnel. In the past decade personnel. In the past decade has been the making to its suiquated personnel. In the past decade has been the making to its suiquated personnel. In the past decade has been the making the cause of which we can attribute the past decade has been the making the cause of which we can attribute the past decade has been the making the cause of which we can attribute the past decade has been the making the past decade has been the past decade and from then until he is retired his a is spent—not in supporting the dignity is rank, but in haggling with the affairs is captains and younger officers, theremaking it unpleasant for everybody in command. But I have digressed, all what will you do? I know your yer. "We will finish our apprentice, take our discharge, seek employment will life, and give the foreigner his sway he navy, while there is nothing to do but we hours' drill daily, and the American do be drawn at the end of every month forwarded to Norway, to Donmark, tussia, to Germany and to Italy, which continue as long as the mantle of peace see our homes; but when the clouds of gather above our devoted land, the in has taken his departure from the post langer, to carry the knowledge he has lived under our flag perhaps to the my, we will come back and through fire blood will we carry the honor of our our father. and blood will we carry the honor of our sation; and when the glory of our fathers has been again sustained we will probably smin be crowded out, by the laws of our country, to make room for the peace-loving fortune hunters of Europe. CARPENTERS SUCCESSFUL.

All the Contractors, Except One, Grant Their Demands. All the carpenter contractors in the city have acceeded to the demands made by the Carpenters' Union with a single exception. IcL sughlin & Gesell refused and their arpenters were called out this morning on

The demands made by the Carpenters' Union are nine hours work per day, with rages at £2, and time and half time to be allowed for overwork.

The executive committee are endeavoring to arrange with McLaughlin & Gesell, and indications point to an early adjustment of the differences existing. This irm have seven carpenters in their employed the work they have under way is the remodelling of the Graeff's Landing hotel.

The Depositors Will Lose.

The suspension of the Bank of America, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday, affects a large number of small depositors, as the branches in various parts of the city were well patronized by poor people who were sempted by the three per cent. interest effered. A month ago the deposits were half a million and the number of depositors 1,000. The suspension followed a three days run provoked by rumors concerning the American Life Insurance company, the finite of the concerns being closely intervoven. The insurance company is said to be in good condition and Senator McFarlane says that the troubles are the result of a conspiracy against him. The Depositors Will Lose.

In Common Pleas Court.
In the suit of Monroe Keener, adminis-mator of Emanuel Keener, vs. David Zart-nan, administrator of David Zartman, man, administrator of David Zartman, deceased, the defense was opened on Wednesday afternoon. That side of the case as presented showed that Keener was a tenant farmer on the Zartman farm, working on the shares, and that the accounts as kept by Mr. Zartman prove that when Keener left the Zartman farm he was in debt to Mr. Zartman.

The jury rendered a verdict in favor of claintiff for $444. D. McMulien for plaintiff: J. L. Steinmetz and W. D. Weaver for defendant.

The Welsh Brothers' show.

The Welsh Brothers' circus opened this internoon and two performances will be iven daily for the remainder of the week. It is show will no doubt draw largely, as it is sweed by Lancaster men entirely and her will endeavor to make it a good go. This forenoon the band of the show, which is includes several ladies, gave a concert in latter Square.

A Brave Reporter.

Albert M. Slade, one of the best known swepaper men of the city, who for years that been connected with the New Erg, and married last evening to Miss Florence V. Hookey, daughter of Christian Hookey, f.No.231 EastChestnut at. The wedding was rivate and the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. L. Fry, of Trinity Lutheran mach. The groom's best man was James J. Warner, and the bridesmaid was Miss eggic Musser. The couple left list evening on a short bridal trip, and they have best wishes of many friends including fr. Slade's reportorial friends and associ-

Another shifter.

There has been a great deal of complaint mong the citizens about the delay in while goods, which come over the Pennyivania railroad. One of the causes of the is that there is not sufficient delay, in which cars can stand to be unsafed, at or in the vicinity of the freight lattion. The freight trade has grown wonsafelly in the past few years and many are with goods have to be kept at Dillertille at times until room can be made for hem in this city. Another reason or delay was that there was too much work for one shifter. This has now been remedied, however, as an editional shifter will be put on at once.

Another Wedding.

Last evening Charles J. Everts was married at St. Anthony's parsonage by Father Kaul, to Miss Jennie Sullivan, daughter of Patrick Sullivan. Frank Sullivan was groomsman and Miss Jane Marion bridesmaid. The groom is a well known tinner and brother of Select Councilman Everts, of the Seventh ward. He has been working for the Pennsylvania railroad for some time past, but is now in the employ of his brother. The couple have gone to house-keeping on Shippen street.

John A. Coyle's Office. John A. Coyle, esq., who recently re-medeled the building on East King street, No. 110, occupied for many years by Chris-tian Sharp, moved his law office to it to-day. Mr. Coyle occupies all of the first floor. There are three offices, the public one, a consulting room and private office. Mr. Coyle now has one of the finest law offices in the city.

Hod-carriers Strike.

This morning the bod-carriers working for the Drachbars on John A. Snyder's building, went on a strike. They have been receiving twenty cents per hour, but now they want $2 for a day of nine hours. Their employers agreed to pay what the men wanted and they went to work.

Struck by a Brick.

Conrad Krans, a bricklayer, who is working on John A. Snyder's new building on North Queen street, was coming down a stairway leading to the first floor to-day when he was struck on the head by a brick which fell from the third story. It landed on his head, cutting a very ugly gash which bled year freely.

Chronic Diarrhosa Cured. A well-known veteran of this city, who con-(over twenty-five years ago), and who has been a sufferer from it ever since, applied one of Hoke's Electric Belts and was wholly cured in roke's Electric Belts and was wholly cured in a few weeks. His name and address can be ob-tained by calling at the office of C. U. HOKE, No. 343 North Queen street, on Wednesday or Saturday, or at No. 123 North Third street, Col-umbia, on Monday and Thursday of each week. Itd

The law offices of John A. Coyle have been removed from 11814 to 110 East King street, directly opposite the Leopard hotel. mi-iweod

An Evening of Fine Elocution.

This evening at 8 o'clock Mr. Fablan, of New York, will give an entertainment of select readings and baritone solos in Trinity chapel. Of his elocutionary abilities the Florida Times says: "Mr. Edward Fablan has a marvelous voice he for the fablan has a marvelous voice, by far the finest we have ever heard, beautifully cultivated, and of surprising range and fiexibility. His conceptions are wonder-fully true, and his renditions altogether de-lightful. In versatility, expression, and magetism he far surpasses any elocutionist we have ever heard."

INTERIOR DECORATIONS AND ORIENTAL STUFFS!

We have arranged an Exhibit and Special Sale of Interior Decorations and Furnishings at the Lancaster Trust Company Building, 2d floor.

This Exhibit and Sale will include many Superior Decorative Materials available for the very finest work, and will give an excellent idea of the character of Decorative Work we are at present doing.

We not only exhibit these goods, but are ready to make suggestions and submit special drawings for all kinds of Decorations, whether simple or elaborate.

Oriental Rugs and Drapery Stuffs I

For a short time only a most interesting feature of this Special Exhibit of Interior Decoration will consist of a Display and Sale of Oriental Rugs and Drapery Stuffs, including rare specimers of Turkish and Persian Rugs, Antique and Modern, Bagdad and Jijim Portieres, Damascus Curtains, large variety of Table and Mantel Covers, Art Squares, and various other articles representing the Persian and Arabic Ancient Art Works. These Goods are the Finest Ever Exhibited Here.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The Oriental Goods, in charge of Mr. S. A. Kenleyan, will be here for a short time only, and those wishing to examine or purchase these Bare Goods will find it to their advantage to make selections immediately.
