With the exception of the medical department consisting of doctors, the Sisters retained complete control of all the departments of the asylum, even the dispensing of necessary medicines being done by trained Sisters. The staff was composed as follows: Sisters, 72; lay, 92. Total, 164, of whom three were in the office, two in the parlor and the others in the wards, kitchen and working departments watching over the patients; lay keepers (female), 14; keepers, 28; night guardians (male), four; night guardians (female), two. Besides these, two female keepers and four Sisters and lay Sisters on an average kept watch each night.

Firemen Unable to Pight the Plames Or Induce the Manlace to Escape-Latest Details of the Terrible Disaster.

The Longue Pointe lunatic asylum, ter The Longue Pointe lunatic asylum, ten miles from Montreal, Canada, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday, and about 50 of the inmates are believed to have perished in the fiames. The asylum was under the charge of the Sisters of Providence, and several of the sisters lost their lives in trying to save the patients. The asylum was founded in 1872, and the vention and check of fire appear to have been very defective.

There were incarcerated in Longue Pointe 1,300 lunaties, for that asylum was a prison more than a hospital, and not more than 1,100 are accounted for. But many escaped into the fields and woods, and the dead are ashes amongst ashes. What the number of the dead is in purely a matter of conjecture and can never be ascertained, since no other record is kept than that in the asylum books, and they are also destroyed.

Ever since Quebec was a province its management of these most helpless of all rectures has been its shame. They have seen farmed out to the nuns at $100 a head ser year, and the sisters' aim was to keep hem as frugally as possible, and with the east possible outlay for permanent works or repairs. While their most urgent bodily was to was sarrolled no attemnt was made ated on Tuesday by its new superintendent.

Hitherto patients of all denominations were crowded together, and the Protestants, by persistent personal solicitation, raised enough money to found an institution of their own, in which their own patients are being cared for. For years the government has been urged to redeem its treatment of the insane, and last summer the Mother Superior, with a body guard, was sent abroad to ascertain if anything could be learned from similar institutions in Europe. At 5 minutes of 12 a telegraph message was received in Montreal, saying the asylum was on fire and imploring assistance. This could not be given without first containing Mayor Grenier, who was found at the Banque du Peuple, and he at once ordered engines to be dispatched. One engine and two reels started on their tenmile run, and were quickly on the spot, ordered engines to be dispatched. One engine and two reels started on their tenmile run, and were quickly on the spot, but they might as well have remained at home, for in five minutes they exhausted the water supply. The only thing that could save the building was the St. Lawrence river, and it was half a mile distant. The fire originated in a cupboard, and was the work of a patient. The building was constructed of brick, and was 600 feet long, running back from the river half the distance. The main building occupied the centre, and on each side extended four wings, six stories in height. To the cast were the men's wards and to the west the women's, making 60 in all. In the rear were the engine house and the laundry and the store rooms, all of which were saved. The fire started on the women's side, on the upper story, and, as the ventilation was carried on by a longitudinal shaft connected with the towers, the flames appeared blazing up through the roof in the centre tower. When a reporter arrived with the firemen, the doine of the tower had just fallen, and flames were bursting out everywhere. Streams of water were brought to bear on the flames, and while they lasted some good was done, but that was for a very brief space, and then the horror of the situation was revealed.

Not a mule patient was lost. Among the women it was different. The less hopeless cases were placed in the lower wards, and they were removed without difficulty, but from the upper wards, where the violent patients were secured, there came the wildest screams as they resisted the nuns who were beseeching them to make their escape. At the windows a maniac would be seen peering through the bars, grinning and jabbering at the bright flame that went up to the sky.

and jabbering at the bright flame that went up to the sky.

As the heat became more intense she would grasp the bars and remain there until the flames enveloped her. The inhabitants had come from all parts, attracted by the blaze, and in an hour the little village was one surging mass of vociferating people, recounting the strange scenes they had beheld. When the firemen found they were powerless to save the building they turned their attention to the inmates, and burst in the doors with axes.

powerless to save the building they turned their attention to the inmates, and burst in the doors with axes.

Inside, Chief Benoit says, it was such a sight as no fireman ever witnessed. In one ward that he entered were 25 patients, and at his approach they huddled together like a pack of beasts, entwining their arms into one mass of humanity. He seized the nearest, but, said the chief: "I could no more separate the crowd than I could parts of your horse." He tugged at them until the fire dartsd into their garments and enfolded them like a shroud of flame and then he escaped with his life. In another ward three firemen were nearly trapped to death. They entered, and the door, which had a spring lock, closed behind them. As is customary, there was no handle on the inside. The goor resisted their axes, and they rushed to the windows, but were driven back by the flames. The chief, suspecting their peril, sent aid to the other side, and the men were carried down on ladders.

The engineer of the building did good work in saving nine patients, and every fireman made a record of which he may feel proud. On the first alarm the engineer turned on the hose, but it was utterly usaless, as the fire leaped along the ventilating shaft to the towers and burned in a dozen places at once.

Sister Therese, the superioress, is broken-hearted, and being at present in ill health, her name may be added to the already long list of victims. Doctors Bonrque and Baralet were carried from the building unconscious, and whatever can be said of the management as a whole, individuals exercised every power to lessen the calamity they neglected to avert.

Lodge After Three Members Receive Degrees-A Fine Banquet Served.

Last evening a large number of visiting Odd Fellows of Lancaster had a gala time in the town of Marietta. The delegates from this city left Lancaster on a special train at 6:30. There were twenty fully equipped members of Canton Lancaster, Patriarcha Militant, under command of Captain-elect H. Leachy. They glooked very well in their handsome uniform. Besides these, there were the degree staff of Herschel Lodge No. 123, about thirty members of Monterey Lodge No. 242, and several of Hebel Lodge No. 569.

When the train, bearing the visitors, arrived in Marietta they were met at the station by a committee of Donegal Lodge, No. 129, with the Marietta band. They were escorted to the room of the home lodge, and as they passed through the streets the visitors attracted much attention. In addition to the Lancaster members there were representatives from the following lodges: Susquehanna, No. 80, and Orion, No. 876, of Columbia; Bainbridge, No. 617; Elizabethtown, No. 128; Chihuahus, No. 17, of Wrights ville; Drumore, No. 317, of Fairfield; Cohocksink, of Philadelphia; and Pacific Lodge, of Connecticut. There were over two hundred members of the order in the room and speeches were made by Dr. B. F. W. Urban, of Herschel lodge: Past Grand Price, of Connecticut, and E. J. Erisman, district deputy grand master of Lancaster county.

The degree staff of Herschel lodge conferred the first, second and third degrees upon three candidates. The work was done in an admirable manner, elicting the greatest praise.

After the work had been finished all present were invited to the large room on the second floor, where they sat down to an elegant banquet that had been prepared by the home lodge, assisted by the ladies. There were three very large tables and about 250 people ate. The band was stationed upon the stage and it played the liveliest kind of music. The supper was a splendid affair and everybody enjoyed it heartily. At a late hour it was over and the Lancaster people left for home, arriving here at 2:15 this morning, well pleased with their trip.

The committee of arrangements of Donegal Lodge consisted of H. G. Beatty, William M. Tinsiey, Dr. J. O. Libhart, Benjamin Ohmet, I. R. Bartel, A. Wisman, D. G. Engle and A. R. Lutz. The ladies furnished the cakes and many of the other good things that filled the pratty tables.

Dr. McCormick moved to amend the movement by leaving the salary at the same figure as now paid, $1,500. He offered the amendment because he did not think the financial condition of the board warranted the increase.

Mr. Brown, in an argument in favor of making the salary $1,800, said the salaries of the high school teachers since 1880, when Prof. Buchrie came here, had been increased from 17 to 29 per cent. and in the other schools the ayersge increase was 21 per cent. During all the time Prof. Buchrie has been here his salary has not been increased. Since 1880 the salaries of city superintendents throughout the state had been increased and he instanced Allegheny City, from $1,800 to $2,200; Allentown, from $800 to $1,500; Altoona, from $1,000 to $1,200; Harrisburg, from $1,300 to $1,800; Pottsville, from $1,000 to $1,700, and Reading, from $1,500 to $2,000. The proposed increase from $1,500 to $2,000. The proposed increased duties had been put on the superintendent since the adoption of the free book system.

The amendment to make the salary $1,500 was a lefeated by the following vote: Messrs. Bolenius, Brinton, Brosey, Darmstetter, Judith, Lichty, Lippold, McComsey, McKillips, Pontz, Raub, Reilly, White and McCormick—14, voted aye.

The Street Committee Open Bide and Find Little Competition for Work.

Last evening the street committee of councils held their regular meeting, and all of the members were present.

A communication was received from F. G. Musser, who represented citisens in the castern end of the city, setting forth that North Franklin street was in an almost impassable and dangerous condition. This street had been returned to court, as a nuisance, some time ago, and a true bill was found. W. T. Brown, seq., who was then the city solicitor, asked that the case should not be pushed, as he said that the city would see that everything would be right. Nothing was done in the matter, and in his communication Mr. Musser stated that the case would be brought before court at the June term, witnesses to prove the nuisance would be subponned and a conviction would be asked for. The committee instructed the clerk to ask Musser's people to take no action in the matter until the committee examine the street and see what can be done.

It was shown that the grade of the street had been reised in laying the asphalt blocks.

people to take no action in the matter until the committee examine the street and see what can be done.

It was shown that the grade of the street had been raised in laying the asphalt blocks, in front of lesse Lute's store, at North Duke and Chestnut streets, under the old committee. Mr. Lute's pavement is now much lower than it should be and if it is not raised a suit against the city will result.

The street commissioner was ordered to relay the pavement, raising it at the expense of the city. Mr. Lutz will be satisfied with this.

The bids for the supplies and city work were then opened.

For removing the stone crusher from its present location at Graeff's Landing to J. F. Stauffer's quarry, putting it in position, repairing the boiler, making new buildings, &c., there was one bidder. J. F. Stauffer agreed to do the work for $200 and he was swarded the contract. A sub-committee to consist of Chairman Cummings. City Regulator Herr and Mr. Auxer was appointed to see that the work is done in accordance with the specifications.

For building the new sewer on North Mary street, between Chestnut and Walnut streets, there were several bidders. To do the whole work the bids were: Francis Aucamp, $645; Davis Kitch, $576; Daniel Schwebel, $520; John Kendig, $551 for the sewer and $45 for the conduit. Daniel Hunter asked $1.15† per lineal foot.

The contract was awarded to Schwebel and the street commissioner was authorised to employ a man, at $1.50 per day, to superintend the construction of the sewer and see that it is laid the proper depth and made according to the specifications.

For laying the crossings John Kiphorn's proposal was 6 cents per lineal foot. Fred Wagner offered to do the work for 4½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½ cents per foot and also to lay gutters for 2½

After the meeting of the committee had adjourned, Chairman Cummings invited the members, as well as the street commissioner, clerk and reporters, over to Cormeny's cafe. Here Mr. Cummings had prepared an elegant supper which Mr. Cormeny had gotten up in elegant style. The chairman invited all to sit down and partake, and no one needed much urging to do so. A couple of hours were very pleasantly spent, and during that time speeches were made by the chairman, clerk and street commissioner, as well as every member of the committee. Every-body was profuse in their thanks to the big-hearted chairman, who, in his speech, said there was no particular cause for the set-out, as he merely gave it in order to promote general good feeling among the members of the committee. The occasion was certainly a very happy one, and the chairman was voted a prince of good fellows.

old favorite and his rendition of "Dat Watermillion" especially appreciated so much that he responded thrice.

But what can be said of the instrumental parts? Of the applause that greeted the violin solos of Mr. Hopkins and the flute solos of Mr. Small! Mr. Eby and his Mandolin club deserve praise, no less than the Giec club. Their music was well rendered and well received.

The scenic decorations were truly college. Everywhere shone the colors, encircling pillars and draping the stage in varied festoons from which were pendant footballs and college trophics. In front was a pyramid of base ball bats, folls, gloves, dumb bells, rackets, everything calculated to cause the student's heart to rejoice. From either side descended a mass of foliage and brilliant flowers, from behind which issued the melodies like the notes of birds from a tropical forest. Huge antiers adorned the walls and tennis nets, oars and trophies lay in confusion so charming to the student's sense of comfort. Rarely has Lancaster witnessed so odd and yet so pleasing a scene.

The programmes were the most beautiful ever issued in Lancaster, containing their concerts, patronesses for the year, repertoire, and a grand Glee club "log," making a souvenir of one of the most enjoyable of concerts. Finally when the college cheer was rendered for "everybody, ourselves included," every student in the hall gave vent with marked emphasis. The following were the patronesses: Mrs. W. B. Middleton, Mrs. H. C. Brubsker, Mrs. John C. Hager, Mrs. Robecca Foltz, Mrs. A. J. Steinman, Mrs. C. J. Swarr, Mrs. B. J. McGrann, Mrs. D. B. Shenk, Mrs. James E. Baker, Mrs. B. F. Kieffer, Mrs. John R. McGovern, Mrs. Henry Baumgardner. Thus ends the list of concerts of the club. During the winter they have sung in twenty-one concerts; and serenades, receptions and musicales almost without number. The club have been very obliging and have done everything in their power to please the people of Lancaster and strengthen the tie between city and college, and in return have been well received and patronized by the public. Their last public appearance for the year will be at the seminary commencement on Thursday evening, after which they will sing at a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. E. V

Gerhart.

To-day and to-morrow the annual public examinations of the theological seminary are held before the board of visitors. This evening the annual sermon before the seminary will be preached by the Rev. Dr. Hamlin, of the Methodist Episcopal church. Thursday evening seminary commencement, and Friday evening the fifty-fifth anniversary of the Diagnothian Literary society will be held in Fulton opera house at half-past seven o'clock.

Stole an Umbrella. Stole an Umbrolla.

David Harlan, while at one of the hotels in the southern part of the city on Tuesday stood his umbrella in a corner. His attention was attracted for a few moments to another part of the room, and when he looked for his umbrella it was gone. He learned that S. Sigmund and W. Burk, two young men, had stolen the umbrella and he made complaint against them before Alderman Barr for larceny. They entered buil for a hearing.

CLERK OF ORPHANS' COURT

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Death of an Aged Colored Woman.

Jeanette Whipper, colored, aged 93, died this morning at the residence of Henry D. Smith, No. 405 North street, from old age. About ten years ago she was stricken by paralysis and since then has suffered two strokes. She was born in Drumore township, between Chestnut Level and Unicorn. She moved to this city with her granddaughter, Mrs. Smith, about twelve years ago. Her husband died many years ago. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon. Services will take place in the Strawberry street A. M. E. church at 3 o'clock.

Got Thirty Days.

This morning the mayor had Jimmy Ryan, a tough looking old man, who is very well known to the police. He was drunk yesterday and went up to St. Joseph's church and soon became a nuisance. He was taken in charge by Officer Seiber and Mayor Clark gavanim thirty days. Jimmy peddles lead pencils until he gets enough moneyto fill himself with rum, and he usually turns up in jail.

On a Rafting Trip.

This merning a party of Lancaster gentlemen, consisting of John Schaum, T. C. Wiley, William L. Browne, James C. Leman, D. P. Stackhouse, John C. Carter, William H. Snyder, Harry Carpenter, Israel Carpenter, W. J. Fordney and James C. Wiley, started on a rafting trip. They left here at 6:30 and went to Columbia, where they boarded a raft which was in charge of Fred. Waller, the well known Susquehanna pilot. They went through to Peach Bottom.

Many Defendants.
Thos. II. Smith to-day filed a mechanic's lien for $169.61 against the owners of the stocking factory at Manheim. There is nothing unusual about the lien except the number of defendants. It is not an incorporated company, and the lien must be indexed separately against all the members of the company, 112 in number.

James Tarr is a resident of the Third ward and one of the floaters who is always in the market. On Saturday he saw an opportunity of making a good stake, and after standing at the Third ward polls until his price was offered he voted. He then went to the Second ward polls, where he repeated the same tactics. Jim thought this too good to keep and he boasted of what he had done. Later on that same night he heard that a prosecution would be brought against him for violating the election law and he skipped away from town. He is likely to remain away until the matter is forgotten and interest in the late primary is a thing of the past.
