Taking Up Its Lead.

The tariff debate has opened in the House and is to be closed this week, we believe, under the Republican pro-

There is no question but that the party has taken up a heavy load; and there is little chance to doubt that it will be more than it can carry.

Under these circumstances it is hard to conceive how the people are to be persuaded that it is good public policy to keep up the tariff rates, which cause our manufactures to be more costly and our market to be contracted within our own boundaries.

We can confidently assume that the manufacturing interest will cease to support with its old time unanimity the party of a high tariff.

It is not without reason that the Republicans are still sticking to this policy fall to note the plain signs of the times. They are destined to learn this when they come before the people to defend the McKinley law, which Mr. Mills has aptly styled a cabbage-head production.

It is so plainly that the Democrats in Congress have no desire to prevent the Republicans from taking their stand upon it and they will not resist its passage beyond the amount of debate that the Republican majority is pleased to allow them the vote that they cannot deny them.

It is not without reason that the Republicans are still sticking to this policy fall to note the plain signs of the times. They are destined to learn this when they come before the people to defend the McKinley law, which Mr. Mills has aptly styled a cabbage-head production.

Woodwinking Farmers.

It is very amusing to note the irritation of Republicans at the ridicule they have drawn upon themselves by calling the McKinley tariff bill "a farmer's bill." Long lists of poultry, onions, cattle and carriages, as taxed by the new and old tariff, are published to show how miserably the farmer is to be taken care of, but so beef is exported, and as very few farmers are troubled by European competition in their trucks, patches the substance of the argument is quite evident, even to the defenders of McKinley.

Congress is so recklessly distributing in pensions.

Another point of interest to the farmer is the increased duty on agricultural implements which are largely exported and for which Mr. Farquhar, of York, has been asking more liberal legislation in order that exports might be increased. It is a marvelous fact that agricultural machinery made in America is sold cheaper for export than it is sold for home use.

It has been said of Speaker Reed that Democratic investive has no more effect upon him than bird shot upon a decoy duck, and perhaps the readiness seen in that capacity is part of a deliberate plan to excite Democratic members to flitter down to the line of fire of the Republicans, who try to make sensations over war sentiments, and love to represent the Southern congressmen as fire-eaters.

THE VISIT OF OUR SQUADRON OF EVOLUTION TO LISBON at the time of the excitement between England and Portugal seems to have proved a fine advertising dodge for our shipbuilders.

THE CONVENTION OF AMERICAN MECHANICS, in session at Harrisburg, adopted resolutions on Wednesday evening, declaring alarm at the attack made on the public school system.

THE CITY FATHERS OF SELECT COUNCIL passed an ordinance establishing a board of health and common council to hold a special meeting and will doubtless concur in the ordinance appropriating public funds for the year a thousand dollars is given to the board of health.

THE FOURTH STATE SANITARY CONVENTION, under the auspices of the state board of health, will be held on Friday and Saturday at Norristown.

MR. DARLINGTON has an intelligent constituency, and one which is famous for knowing on which side of it bread the butter lies. When you get among the Quakers with a deal you need to be wide awake lest you be left.
