He was tries a maker and had an establishment is own, but falled recently, and was a employed by Stalkman to do some jobs around the house, unoit married a nice girl last Decemand his mother is a respectable old with some little property in her own ine. Early Thursday morning Stalkman, whose premises had been entered a ple of days ago, heard a noise in his k yard. He took his shotgun and, rating himself in a shed, watched the glars at work. They became alarmed turned to run, when the carpenter ity and deliberately raised his gun and pried the contents in the head of one of men.

The burgiar gave a piercing shriek and feil dead in his tracks. His face was completely riddled with shot. Stalkman was greatly surprised when he found he had killed his employe. Kunoit was net only a member of St. Matthew'a, but was a director of the Young Men's Christian association connected with it, and was until recently president of the church'choir. His sister, Miss Ida Kuholt, is a teacher in the parochial school attached to the church.

The pastor, Rev. H. Trees, in identifying be remains at the morgue, testified to the bung man's good character, and refused believe that he was at the Stalkman res-young man's good character, and reduced to believe that he was at the Stalkman residence on the burglarious errand. He declared that Kunoit had no bad habits and always spent his evenings at home with his family. The detectives state that Kunoit's face looks familiar, but they cannot place him. He was neatly dressed in a spring suit and fashionable necktie.

It is not at all certain that the conner will hold Stalkman blameless. The latter will hold Stalkman blameless. The latter states that he kept his money in the shop, and that Kunoit had seen him place it there on Saturday. There was only $4 there when the burglary was attempted. Kunoit has always had a most enviable reputation as an exemplary young man in every particular. His relatives are broken-hearted and his friends astonished at his sad end.

The Clangor of an Alarm Bell Close by, in the stillness of the night, could scarcely startle the ordinary individual more than do trifling noises the nervous invalid. But once the nerves are braced and the system invigorated with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, this abnormal sensitiveness is succeeded by a tranquility not to be disturbed by trivial invalid the still crause of tranquility not to be disturbed by trivial causes. Impaired digestion is a fertile cause of nerve weakness and unnatural mental gloom, and a vigorous renewal of the action of the atomach is one of the surest means of invigorating and quieting the nerves. Insomula, or sleeplessness, a form of nervous disease, is unquestionably benefited by sedatives, when it is prelonged, or of frequent occurrence, but its prelonged, or of frequent occurrence, but its permanent removal is more effectually schieved with the Bitters. This medicine is also signally efficacious for maiaria, rheumalism, constipation, liver complaint and torpidity of the kidneys and bladder.

Lingered Between Life and Beath.

Mrs. Geo. P. Smootte, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 28, 1835: "During the summer of 1837 my eyes became inflamed, and my stomach and liver almost hopelessly disordered. Nothing I ate agreed with ms. I took chronic diarrhose, and for some time my life was despatted of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, and the medicines administered by them never did any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the later being preferable to the agonics I was enduring. In May, 1881, I became diaguated with physicians and their medicines. I dropped them all, and depended solely on Swift's Specific 68, 8.8.), a few bottles of which made ms permanently well—well from then until now."

MADE HIS LIFE A BURDEN.

MADE HIS LIFE A BURDEN. MADE HIS LIFE A BURDEN.

I have had scrothla until it made my life a burden. I was inexpressibly miserable, sick, weak, sleepless, and unhappy; desiring that the short time which seemed to have been allotted to me on this earth would hasten to an end. I tried doctors' treatment and medicine, and travel, but none of these did any good, for theiserofula gradually grew worse. One physician, who I traveled far to see, and to whom I paid $150, gave up the case as hopeless. I them gave up all other medicines, and took only Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) Four bottles of that medicine cured me, and for the past four years I have had as excellent health and I am as free from disease as anybody living."
