

Daily Intelligencer.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 15, 1890. PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR, BUT SUNDAY SERVED BY CARRIERS IN THIS CITY AND SURROUNDING TOWNS AT A YEAR IN ADVANCE; 50 CENTS A MONTH.

WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER.—One dollar and fifty cents a year, in advance. Sent by check or postal note, and where neither of these can be procured send in a registered letter.

Address, THE INTELLIGENCER, Lancaster, Pa.

LANCASTER, PA., May 15, 1890.

Needlessly Troubled.

The New Era is disturbed that Mayor Clark recommended to councils uniforms and increased pay for the firemen. The objection is that such expenditure will strain the appropriation. If so, it ought not to be made until the appropriation is big enough to cover it.

It is clear enough to anybody. The finance committee we believe recommends the appropriations and councils make them. If there is no money likely to be in the treasury to cover a further appropriation for the fire department, then it cannot be made unless some other appropriation is cut down.

The mayor recommended to councils such expenditures and appropriations as he thinks should be made; which councils make if they think them advisable and can find the money for them. The degree of the need of a uniform and better paid fire department is a matter for the consideration of councils, to whom the mayor has referred it.

We understand that the uniforming is to enable the force to be better distinguished at fires by their chief and each other, which seems to be advisable. We also understand that the house firemen are not as well paid as the policemen, and there does not seem to be any sufficient reason why they should not be, as they are steadily on duty day and night.

If there is no money or no appropriation, they cannot get it; but the New Era is off its base in assailing the mayor for recommending a judiciary committee, in advance of the report of the finance committee making the appropriations and in ignorance of it.

And, furthermore, what implies this new born zeal of our contemporary to hold up the state of the appropriations to defeat what it deems a wise expenditure? Does it not know that Mayor Clark found all the appropriations overdrawn and the treasury bare? And does it know that the appropriations to be made have to bear the burden of expenditures already made; that the hose house on Duke street, for instance, was bought months ago for $5,000, and that the money now has to be appropriated for it?

This money would have paid the proposed salary increase four times over; and it was useless expenditure at this time, since the city has not the money to equip the house with fire apparatus.

If it is a good thing for the firemen to be uniformed, as our fathers and grandfathers were, whose caps and capes hang yet in old houses as pleasant reminders of the ancestor's public service, it will hardly trouble the city to find the small sum needed for the expenditure. It may come out of the sum appropriated for the general expenses of the fire department.

We have undertaken to look into this matter at the instigation of our contemporary to give his opinion thereon. But it will not be the editors of the INTELLIGENCER do not detest Mayor Clark's action, and have no responsibility for it further than as he is the mayor elected by the party for which it speaks.

Kentucky's Difficulty.

The Democratic caucus of the Kentucky Legislature is balloting for United States senator, finding a choice difficult to make between the half dozen first-class men who are left in the race after the withdrawal of as many more who concluded that the pace was too hot for them.

This is a remarkable number of candidates for a legislative caucus to be embarrassed with, and testifies eloquently to the richness of Kentucky in the number of statesmen a product for which the Commonwealth has been noted as far back as the time of the Revolution.

Doubleless Mr. Carlisle will finally win the prize, if prize it may be called to him. It is a question whether it would not be better for him in the long run to be defeated and be induced to shake the dust of Kentucky from his feet and migrate to Kansas, where his son is already established in business, we believe.

sanction to wild a plan, but the Philadelphia Ledger calls attention to a clause of the declaration of purposes which it thinks would have attracted Mr. Cleveland's attention but for his interest in tariff reform. The "purpose" referred to is as follows: "To secure... the enactment and execution of laws which will express the most advanced public sentiment upon all questions involving the interest of farmers and laborers."

The Ledger thinks that the phrase, "most advanced public sentiment," hints at socialism, but that it is not even a public sentiment in this country, and the great mass of citizens of all parties regard the socialistic idea as not advanced, but very far in the background. It is in socialist, soldier-ridden Germany that socialism thrives best to-day, and it is weakest in this land where the people rule. We are in the very vanguard of progress, and the Socialists are in small favor here.

The sub-treasury scheme, which representatives of Farmers' Alliances have been urging, provides for the establishment of agricultural depositories or warehouses, under the control of the treasury department, in which the gross amount of cotton, wheat, corn, oats and tobacco, produced and sold in two years, exceeds a half million in value. The petition of a hundred citizens, and the donation of land for a site makes it the duty of the secretary of the treasury to establish the warehouses with a manager at a salary of twenty thousand dollars per annum.

Any owner of the staples named may deposit his grain, cotton or tobacco in the warehouse nearest to the point of production and receive therefor treasury notes equal to eighty per cent. of the net value at the market price determined by the manager, under rules prescribed by the secretary of the treasury based upon prices current in leading markets. These notes are made full legal tender, and in addition warehouse receipts are to be given showing the amount and value of the products deposited, the insurance, and the weighing, warehousing and other charges, and these warehouse receipts are to be negotiable by endorsement.

The money advanced is at once per cent. annum. All cotton, grain or tobacco remaining on deposit for a longer time than twelve months is to be sold at public auction and the proceeds, after the payment of the money advanced and charges, to be held subject to the order of the warehouse receipt. Fifty million dollars is appropriated to carry out the provisions of this preposterous bill.

In the first place, there would at once be a frightful amount of hustling for the office of manager in the thousands of depositories and the power of these officials, armed with money and patronage, is frightful to contemplate. The term of office is to be two years, so that the office would be continually open as an election bribe. Their authority to grade and price the products offered and so fix the amount of the loan would make them the most tyrannical inquisitors to be tolerated by an enlightened people.

But the whole nature of the scheme is opposed to the principles of our government. It would eventually make a commune of this republic, for if Uncle Sam is to form a national trust for grain and cotton, why not for oil, coal and iron and everything else. It is astonishing that any alliance should push this scheme, or that any congressman could be found to introduce it even "by request."

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

It is not a national trust, but a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many. It is a national trust for the benefit of the few, not the many.

is a word which should have no place in any vocabulary. A man must have ability to succeed, and a medical preparation, merit. There is no luck about HODGKINS. It was sure to succeed from the first, because it was good, and did all that was claimed for it.

$10,000 Found in An Ash Barrel.

A New York rag picker is reported to have found $10,000 in an ash barrel. The piece of good luck, but how much more fortunate is the sufferer from consumption who learns that, although the doctors may have pronounced the case hopeless, Dr. Pierce's Golden Discovery Consumption is a scientific disease of the lungs. The "Discovery" which is the best and most reliable of the age, strikes right at the root of the evil, and there is no restoring it, if taken in time. In all secretions or other blood taints, skin and scalp diseases, old sores and aches, it is guaranteed to cure, or money paid for it promptly refunded. By Druggists, W. T. H. & Co., 157 and 159 North Queen Street.

What We Want.

Give Homoeopath in pellets, Allopath in pills; but for rheumatism, for aches, for pains and sprains, Thomson's Electric Oil is infinitely superior to either. It has benefited so many people as it has had purchasers. All druggists sell it. Sold in Lancaster by W. T. H. & Co., 157 and 159 North Queen Street.

Van Houten's Cocoa.

Van Houten's Cocoa is a word which should have no place in any vocabulary. A man must have ability to succeed, and a medical preparation, merit. There is no luck about HODGKINS. It was sure to succeed from the first, because it was good, and did all that was claimed for it.

Scrofula in Children.

In the early part of 1887 scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild, then only 18 months old. Shortly after breaking out, it spread rapidly all over her body. The scabs on the sores would peel off on the slightest touch, and the odor was so offensive that it made the atmosphere of the room sickening and unbearable. The disease attacked the eyes, and we feared she would lose her sight. Eminent physicians of the country were consulted, but could do nothing to relieve the little innocent, and gave it their opinion, "that the case was hopeless and impossible to save the child's eyesight, unless she were allowed to try Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). That medicine at once made her well, and she has been healthy as any child in the land."

Cancer of the Nose.

In 1875 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed, and consulted my physician. His treatment did me no good, and the sore grew larger and more offensive. I was until I was persuaded to take S. S. S., and in a few bottles cured me. This was after all the doctors and other means had failed. I have had no return of the cancer.

DR. HAINES' GOLDEN SPECIFIC.

It can be given in a cup of coffee or tea, or in articles of food and drink, to both the patient, if necessary. It is absolutely harmless and will effect a cure in all cases, whether the patient is a moderate drinker or an absolute teetotaler. IT NEVER FAILS. It cures so many cases of this kind, and is so effective, that the patient undergoes no inconvenience, and is able to resume his usual avocations as soon as he feels better. It is sold by all druggists at $1 per package or by mail on receipt of the money, by address to the proprietor.

THE LANCASTER TRUST COMPANY.

Acting as Assignee, Executor, Guardian, Agent etc. Rents Boxes in its Fire and Burglar Proof Steel Vaults. Stores Valuables at moderate rates. Nos. 36 and 38 NORTH QUEEN ST. ap21-2nd

Special Notices.

ESTATE OF CAROLINE BENNER, LATE of the City of Lancaster, deceased. Letters of administration on said estate having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted thereto are requested to make immediate payment, and those having claims or demands against the same, to present them without delay for settlement to the undersigned, residing at 133 East Walnut Street, Lancaster, Pa.

Photographs.

Wanamaker's.

Philadelphia, Thursday, May 15, 1890. Gloriosa. A brief study. Sooner or later every need is supplied. Zephyr weight stuffs, strong, beautiful in style, suited to the whole range of dress, from the plain and practical to the elaborate and elegant, were sadly needed. There was nothing to meet the need. Women were burdened with heavy stuffs or obliged to accommodate their wants to silks, linens, or cottons.

The advent of the silk and wool stuffs—delicate and strong, wonderfully varied, remarkably beautiful—Henrietta, Gloriosa, Lansdowne, solved the question. Yesterday we told of Lansdowne the true and Lansdowne the false, the legal trademark and its illegal appropriation. To-day we ask you thought upon Gloriosa.

Gloriosa is not a protected trademark. You may call coarse burlaps "Gloriosa" if you choose. You'll only be laughed at for your pains. Anybody can write, print, or paint "Gloriosa" upon any fabric without fear of legal pains and penalties. If it is done with intent to mislead and deceive, another question comes in.

But Gloriosa has a definite meaning: it describes a particular cloth, with an individuality all its own which fits it for many special uses. The European maker that originated it alone has the wit and knack to make it properly. Many have tried it—we have experimented with others—but none successfully; therefore our stock is limited to the one only true maker of Gloriosa.

You may buy others, imitations, quite rightly called Gloriosa, but you need to know what you are buying. In no other dress stuffs can you be so easily misled by appearance. The prices of ours are $1.50 and $1.75 for colors, stripes and plaids. Others are lower priced and dearer. Examine with care. If the stuff slips on the warp, seams and button-holes will break; if it is tender across the piece, it will not wear. Only this: be intelligent before you buy. If you want to see the standard Gloriosa and form your own judgment about it, our people will show you.

In stock to-day 60 styles of Gloriosa and 22 styles of Lansdowne.

John Wanamaker.

Howers.

REILLY BROS. & RAUB.

"BEAUTIFY YOUR LAWSNS."

Lawn Mower $5.00.

LAWN GRASS SEED.

REFRIGERATORS!

REILLY BROS. & RAUB.

LAWN GRASS SEED.

Special Notices.

Photographs.

A CARLOAD Large White Potatoes Wholesale and Retail, BURSK'S, 17 E. KING ST.

REIST I WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCER, CORNER WEST KING AND PRINCE STS.

Furniture.

Ochs & Gibbs.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

Widmyer's.

STILL COMING IN DAILY, D. P. Stackhouse's, 28 & 30 EAST KING STREET.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Stackhouse.

Piles of Dress Goods, NEW YORK STORE.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.

Stackhouse's.