DRAKIN BROWN'S WAY.
Old Deakin Brown live out f'um town
About four mile er so,
An' drives a spankin' team o' bays
Wen he goes to an' fro;
An' allon wen be overhauls me feller walkin' on the ground stops his team and cramps are An' calls:

Git in so' bey's lift!"

You'll see 'im sit an' chaw an' spit,

Git in an' hev' a lift!

T' see ol' Brown a saggin' down
On one e'end o' the seat,
An' leaning sideway's now 'n' agin
To watch 'em pick their feet,
You'd think. "Here comes a rooral swell.
But my! How quick your mind 'ud flop,
W'en deakin'd make them bosses stop
An' yell:
"Hullo

Climb in an' bev' a lift!"

They's folks who ride in all their pride in Fortune's r'g on life's highway. Us folks who trudge along afoot Ken see 'em drive past every day. They hain't like Deakin Brown at all; It makes no odds how tired ye git,

An' call:

"Hullo,
Climb in an' hev' a lift!"

A Valuable Discovery.

Mr. F. G. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., addressed a society of engineers, Saturday evening, respecting his discovery of a property of ateam which under some circumstances will cause an instantaneous doubling of boiler pressure without the application of more heat. His claims were demonstrated by a small boiler, in which the pressure was raised to 40 pounds, and, after being removed from the fire, suddenly thrown to 80 pounds. In another experiment the pressure was raised in an instant from 80 pounds to 160. It was claimed that this property accounted for many so-called mysterious boiler explosion, or those which withstood the inspector's test and then exploded at lower pressures. It was shown how this property could be readily removed from the boiler, and the same was demonstrated by successful experiments.

Supremely Delightful To the emaciated and debilitated invalid is the sense of returning health and strength pro-duced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When duced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When that promoter of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing potency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digestion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quietude is vouchsafed to the human system. A gain in flesh of course ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation. As surely as winter follows the fall of the leaf, does disease shadow the footsteps of declining strength, when the premature decadence of vitality is not arrested. Marasmus, consumption and other wasting maladies are prompt to fasten upon the enfeebled. A vert disease, therefore, with this grand enabling tonic, which not only renews falling strength, but mitigates and counteracts the infirmities of age and those of the gentler sex. Rheumatism, malaria liver and kidney troubles yield to it.

A Spring Medicine,
The druggists claim that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick head-sche, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane in the Hocky nts) combined with simple herbs, and i made for use by pouring on boiling water to draw out the strength. It sells at 50 cents a pack-age and is called Lane's Family Medicine. (1)

Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Ar kansas, writes: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, and they prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without affording me any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with the same unsuccessful result, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of untold agony. After suffering four months, I gave up all former remedies and commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work. I consider Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) the greatest medicine for blood poisoning to-day on the market."
