

Weather League Is Making Money, Says W. I. Harris.

NEW SCHEDULES THE ONLY HOPE.

Something Done Are Draining the Pockets of Both the Magnates and the Players—Remedies Suggested by Those Who Understand the Situation.

What is known as the baseball war is now at its height in the cities of New York, Boston, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. These cities are universally acknowledged to be the most profitable of any in America, and being but one other—Chicago—which is in any way to be compared to them. It is generally held to be a fact that the weather league is making money, and that there are occasions when such an "operation," or an array of facts amounting to the same thing, may be pardoned. In commenting upon the result of this fight as its very inception, my argument was that sympathy for the players would be a temporary factor in it and that within two months the contest would narrow down to a question of ball playing and attractions pure and simple, that the players were going into business on their own hook did not have a monopoly of the skillful talent and that they did not have all the attractions. This view was scoffed at by three-fourths of the baseball writers of the country, particularly by those who have done the most to foster the players' league. The season is now more than five weeks old. The following figures cover the period from May 16 to 23, inclusive, practically the fifth week of the campaign:

League	Attendance	Receipts	Expenses	Profit
New York	5,380	$1,201	7,200	$4,144
Boston	3,910	940	5,200	2,290
Philadelphia	15,611	3,737	8,300	2,737
Brooklyn	4,861	2,706	6,673	3,967
Total	20,800	$13,590	30,670	$13,800

* 50 per cent. added for grand stand. † 25-cent surcharge.

These figures are pregnant with meaning. They show first, if they show anything, how futile is the hope that two clubs, both having the same name, can play on the same days during the season. It is fully of expenses and high salaries. To fully comprehend this self-evident fact it is only necessary to reflect that the expense of the clubs which are parties to the conflict averages at least $75,000 a week. In twenty-five weeks—some of the Brotherhood clubs, indeed all but one or two, will run nearer $5,000 this year—which means a weekly average of $5,000. It will be seen that during the first five weeks of the campaign the players have covered the clubs playing at Boston (N. L. and P. L.), at New York (P. L.) and at Philadelphia (N. L.) were the only ones which came anywhere near receiving enough money through the gate to pay combined expenses, say $6,000 per week, and that the total loss to the clubs, collectively, was $6,464 in the Brotherhood, and $3 less in the League. Of course, these figures are not exact, but they are figured on the playing attendance as given out officially by both leagues and are near enough to show how the light progresses.

It is evident that unless there is an enormous increase in the aggregate attendance during the balance of the season, the Brotherhood stand to lose a great deal of money if they continue the cutthroat policy of conflicting dates. Unless a change is made it will be a case where the longest purse will win.

I do not propose to discuss here the question as to which side has the most right to the dates in the east generally known as "plum" in baseball parlance. The League people say they cannot afford to change their schedule; the players' league doesn't seem to know whether it can afford to do so or not. In my opinion the players' league, with the exception of two clubs, will not come anywhere near paying expenses unless it does some near paying expenses.

This is true also of the League; but as has been aptly said by that brilliant baseball wit and philosopher, Frank Hough: "The League magnates are losing what they have made, while the players are losing what they expected to make." How long will the men back of the Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn and Buffalo clubs go down into their pockets to make up a deficit that is apt to run up to $1,500 a week in most of these clubs? The players' league has no profitable future as long as it is run on the policy of "anything to beat the old League," and, on the other hand, the old League cannot exist as long as it is run on a like policy as pursued against the Brotherhood.

The Brotherhood has everything to gain by changing its schedule and very little to lose except its pride and the very doubtful gratification of its revenge towards its old employers for real or fancied injuries. The new organization should take the advice of the Sporting Life, which has fought so hard for it, and, putting aside its pride, proceed to reorganize on one or more days in that its existence may be prolonged and very probably be made permanent.

The figures I have given above show a large falling off in public interest over the same period last year, as during the entire time they cover the weather was threatening and rain seemed a likely thing over every game, and as a matter of fact rain prevented games on one or more days in a city except Philadelphia.

The weather handicap kept away many who were likely to increase as a result of baseball war and be shown in the statistics as turnstiles, but the general interest in the game as ever. Warm weather will give part of it into action. A change of their side it would be life.

W. I. HARRIS.

PRINCE, THE BICYCLIST.

The Man Who Busted Reading in the Great Race at Omaha.

time was for one mile, and the best time was 2:52, which at that date was the best record for a mile race. In 1880 he came to America to race against Woodside, the champion of Ireland, and Decry, the champion of France. He defeated both on all distances from one to twenty miles, and at that time he made the best records to that date. He is the only one who ever defeated Harry Hingham, of England, who held the champion seventy-two hour record for seven consecutive years in England. His most notable American race was in 1887, at Minneapolis, Minn., when he ran against Albert Shock. The race was twelve hours a day for six days, and the number of miles covered was 1,043. Prince being out of the saddle but six minutes during the seventy-two hours.

EDWARD READING.

Edward Reading, popularly known as "The Soldier," was born at Mansfield, O., in 1864. He entered the army in 1882 as a musician, and at the present time is the principal musician of the barracks band at Fort Omaha, Neb. He commenced riding under the instruction of John S. Prince. His first race was 100 miles against W. F. Knapp. He covered the distance in five hours and forty-nine minutes and set his own pace. This record is considered first class for a beginner. In 1886, at Chicago, in the great "free for all" race, he defeated such riders as Knapp, Morgan, Prince, Shock, Neilson and others. It was a forty-eight hour race, and he covered 698 miles.

A TWO STORY DWELLING.

It Costs $1,200 and Makes a Pleasant Home.

This pretty little house may have either brick or stone foundation, and has two stories and an attic, with a 6 foot 6 inch cellar.

VIEW.

In the first story is a 7x10 hall which opens from a good sized veranda and is connected with the parlor, hall, living room and kitchen. In the second story is a fireplace and its two windows give plenty of light.

Back of it comes the kitchen or living room, size 14x14, also with two windows. From this opens a 7x10 foot pantry, which in turn leads to the cellar stairs. Back of the pantry is a little porch.

In the second story are two good sized bedrooms and one smaller one, which are connected by a hall, and each one of which is supplied with a commodious closet.

Comfortable couches which show no work are so inexpensive now that no one need be without one or more. They are for sale either simply covered with cretonne or left plain, and draped with a Bagdad or other large rug. An old fashioned sofa which had been consigned to the garbage recently seen by the writer, and it had been so transformed that it looked like an extremely modern couch. The back had been increased and discarded, and an upholsterer had added new springs and a covering of stout white cloth, for which he charged $3. Some handsome cretonne, fifty inches wide and a trifle over three yards long, had been converted into a spread by simply hemming the raw edges. This was laid over and pinned to the main body of the sofa, and the top of the head, which of the couch, no tacking whatever being necessary. Two large pillows of the same material placed against the wall make a really handsome piece of furniture out of one which was decidedly unattractive before.

There is a combination chair and table, which as a chair has a round wooden back, with a seat covered in tapestry. The table is formed by simply turning the back over to rest upon the arms. This piece of furniture is suitable either for the hall or the card room.—Art Amateur.

A new flat tree has a long mirror, around whose oval top rows of pegs are placed. It is supported on a small, simply-carved chest, which serves as a seat.—Art Amateur.

Some odd and pretty hall stools in oak and mahogany have perpendicular rows of splines closely set and the top carved with a moon's face.—Art Amateur.

MARTIN BROS.

There is a difference.

You know there are good shapes and bad shapes in every article of manufacture. In hats, in shoes, in furniture, in houses, etc. There is a difference in our clothing, and most ready-made clothing. One difference is in the shaping, another in the style, and backing all this are our economical prices. In reference to the fit and finish of our clothing it nearest approaches custom tailors' clothing. A gentleman told us this of a suit he bought for his last week on showing it at home to his wife she said: "Why, when were you measured for a suit? I didn't know you were measured."

Men's Suits, $5 to $25, a handsome choice. Very popular lines, $10, $12, $15, $18. Boys' Suits (Long Trousers), $5 to $15. See the $7, $8 and $10 lines. Boys' Knee Pant Suits, $1.50 to $10, tasty as you would like, $5, $5.50 and $4 for all-wool.

In the Custom Tailoring Department suits to measure just as they should be and promptly. Did you see our suits at $20, $25 and $25 a suit to measure? Underwear and Negligee Shirts are active in the Furnishing Department. Poshing prices, taking kinds, everybody's size, 25c, 50c, $1 and up.

ONTARIO.

Mr. S. S. Howland's remarkable horse, Ontario, cleverly demonstrated his right to championship honors recently by jumping 7 feet high. This feat stamps Ontario as the most remarkable jumper the world has ever seen. He was ridden by his usual rider, James Freyling, who with his saddle and bridle weighed 150 pounds. The jump was made off a chair fence with a very poor take off and no spring whatever. All high jumps heretofore have been made off board floors covered with tan bark, which affords more or less spring. The jump was made off a chair fence of the following manner: The bar was first placed at 4 feet 6 inches, and raised 4 inches at a time until 6 feet 8 inches was reached. Ontario cleared each of the respective heights with- out difficulty. The bar was raised 7 feet. In his first effort he got over in front, but pulled off the two top bars. At the second, amid the greatest excitement, he cleared the bar without turning a hair, thereby scoring the heretofore considered impossible jump of 7 feet. Under favorable circumstances another 6 inches is within this marvelous horse's reach.

Leading Players.

Of the eight leading batsmen of the League last season six remain with the organization—namely, Glasscock, Anson, Tiersan, Thompson, McKean and Wilnot—while two (Brothers and Carroll) go with the Players' League. Of the nine players who led the organization in fielding in their respective positions, Bennett, Anson, Danlap, Denny, Glasscock and Wilnot remain, while Radburn, Fogarty and Radford are with the Players' League.

A Lad Who Had Learned His Lesson.

The value of teaching children something besides the "three R's" was illustrated the other day at Riverside, Cal., where the principal of a school gave her pupils a course of instruction on how to act in case of emergencies, such as drowning, gunshot accidents, etc. After listening to one of these lectures a bright lad named Haight went home and found his baby sister given up for dead, but being picked out of a canal. No doctor was to be had, so young Haight went to work to apply the lessons he had learned. In a few minutes the apparently lifeless infant was restored to consciousness.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where the "fever" is endemic, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South of the continent of this nature prevalent, and in the Tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the prophylactic influence which it exerts on the system. It has been adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not only resorted to it to obviate its use, but the emphatic professional endorsement and the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

A Spring Medicine.

The druggists claim that people call daily for the new cure for constipation and sick headache, discovered by the late Lane on the Rocky Mountains. It is said to be Oregon grape root (a great remedy in the far West for those complaints) combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by means of a footless syringe to draw out the strength. It sells at 25 cents a package and is called Lane's Family Medicine. (1)

NOBODY LOOKING! DURABLE! CHEAP!

Men's $1.50 Shoes.

New Spring Styles for Men's Wear, the noblest looking cheap shoe imaginable—clean, smooth, sleek, strong wearing soles, as near right in every way as good shoes can be made, and them for so little money. We know of no makes elsewhere to equal ours at the figures. We find a great many Lancastrians no wiser. That accounts for the many inquiries here lately for the best made $1.50 shoes. Have you been here to see them? If not, why not? To see them is to like to wear them. It is worth your while to come here again for the same sort. We have many different lines in the going shapes. That makes it easy to choose the style that pleases the fancy.

Here is an excellent make of shoes to tell of—Congress or Hubs, with plain toes or tips; a superior grade of stock in uppers and bottoms—seamless vamp, fair stitelled soles; fits the average foot snugly and neatly. They will wear strongly—the grade of the material in them is a guarantee of this. And the finishing—well, there's nothing "Bum" about it; it's all right.

Another line of shoes worthy of mention—a light weight summer shoe for dress. Have calf-skin uppers fitted, lined and trimmed much better than is to be had elsewhere. They will wear throughout. Put together strongly, and will be found to be as good as it looks. Oxfords, same make, and the same good material as above, with pretty tips, at $1.50.

Russet Oxfords, too, for those who'll want them. The latest style—this season's make. These go for the same money—$1.50. If the warm days tempt you to buy Russet Oxfords, remember we've the kinds to suit you.
