What We Must Have.

The mayor's message to councils are a gratifying financial condition the city, with but half a million of four per cent. indebteduess upon it. This is not a great burthen and not sufficient to arrest further loans for neces. sary improvement. The city can afford to be just at least; and it is not more than justice that is demanded from it, when it is called upon to supply clean instead of muddy water to those whom it charges for water and not for mud; and to provide good roadways in return for the heavy taxes that it exacts. These two things must be attended to. These two things must be attended to

We must have clean water and clean and well paved streets. To this end we must not pump the creek water directly into our supply pipes, but must provide settling reservoirs. We think that these should be made at the creek bank, to avoid the pumping of the present reservoirs full of mud. A supply reservoir in the West End will be needed in the future, but is hardly an imperative present demand.

We must stop hauling limestone on our streets for their top dressing. We need a better material; our need is for a smooth, hard, clean, noiseless, enduring roadway that yet will be safe for horses feet. Such a pavement the Macadam certainly is not. It will not do for city streets, as our experience clearly teaches us. But the Belgian block is as bad, and worse, because more costly. It utterly falls to answer the need. It is rough, noisy and slippery. We cannot approve Mr. Erisman's proposition to lay it down even on so hardly used a street as Prince; because we think that it is clearly shown that hard burned bricks make a cheaper and better roadway.

It would be foolish to use costly Belgian block when we can make a better block out of our own clay at our own doors. It makes a nearly smooth, noiseless, enduring and safe roadway, when properly laid of proper material; and it has been tried long enough in various cities to demonstrate this. Bloomington, Illinois, and Wheeling, Ohio, have broken the egg for other towns, and all we need to do is to see how they have

The bricks need not be made of fireclay. They must be burned hard all through and vitrified on the surface to resist the invasion of moisture and the destructive effect of frost, and they must be well laid on a good foundation; our macadamized streets furnish the foundation already made. No better founda-tion is needed. All that is required is to level the street up to the proper curve and to cover it with hard burned vitri-

There is the whole scheme ; and a hundred thousand dollars will go a long way towards paving the town ; and the interest of the money will be more than levery year by the saving of the cost of repairs, to say nothing of the additional comfort given to the citizen and the wayfarer. We have no interest in brick machines or brick yards, we are sorry to say, as there seems to be a booming time ahead for them.

The French Spoliation Claims. There is a fair prospect that Congress will adjourn without making an appropriation for the French spoliation claims, although the statesmen have been bending all their energies to devising ways and means of spending Uncle Sam's emormous revenue, and the claims would save them that trouble to a very respectable extent. The courts and congressional committees have over and over again declared that these claims ought to be paid. The government took a large sum from France with the dearly-expressed understanding that it was for the American citizens who had suffered by French depredations upon our commerce. Generation after generation has passed away the heire of the claimants admits to be their rights, and yet this nation, now so wealthy that the government is embarrassed with surplus taxes, has neglected to hand over to the rightful owners the money paid so long ago by France. The incident furnishes a text for much cynical comment on the ways of republics; it is a disgrace to Congress and the nation. If the claimants could all be concentrated as the constituents of one or two congressman, so that their influence might imperil his election or prove of value to his party, the claims would be quickly attended to. Public sentiment has been gradually aroused in favor of the claimauts, and they will eventually receive attention if pension grab bills and other schemes of distribution leave enough money, but the persistent neglect of them in favor of all kinds of wildcat legislation, Blair school bills and subtreasury schemes, is disgusting. The appropriation needed for claims already approved by the court is about one million seven hundred thousand dollars, and it should have been one of the first duties of Congress to vote this amount, and of each succeeding Congress to do the same until the whole of this just debt is settled. To adjourn without provision for their payment after a session notorious for lavish appropriations would be simply scandalous.

The Nomination of Mr. Hensel. Our two Democratic county contemporaries, the Columbia Independent and the Herald, present the name of W. U. Hensel, esq., for the gubernatorial nomination and ask the vote of the county delegates for him; which he will doubtless obtain if he desires to enter the contest for the nomination; as to which we are not advised. We agree with our Columbia brethren that Mr. Hensel is eminently fit to be governor, and that the Democracy of the county will be artily rejoice to have him chosen for the nomination; and there is no reason why Laneaster should not have a candidate of her own to name, as well as other counties. Ostside of the natural preference which the Democracy of the county always has shown, and doubtless always will show, for one of their own number for nomination to a state office we believe that its sentiment is decidedly in favor of the nomination of Mr. Wal lace for governor, and that he is entitled to the vote of the Lancaster county delegates after every fair effort has been honestly made and exhausted to secure the nomination of the county's own candidate, if she presents one.

The report of the state commissioners of fisheries for 1887 and 1888 has been in sued, rather tardily but very handsomely, by the state printer. It is a bound volume of a hundred pages with a score of excel-lent illustrations of the state hatching establishments and of the finny beauties of Pennsylvania waters. The fish pictures are drawn with accuracy that will be ap preciated by fishermen as representing the tions, and enabling anyone to recognize fish that may be less known. The name o H. C. Demuth, of Lancaster, appears in the list of commissioners as secretary of the commission. A detailed statement of the distribution of young fry from the hatcheries shows many thousand given away by the state, and if they had all been well cared for afterwards fish might now be far more plentiful. Anyone can obtain the fry by application to the commissioners for the proper blanks to be filled up and sent to the nearest hatchery. When parties have approved applications and accompany the fish, the state will furnish cans for transporting them, which must be immediately returned at the state's expense The commissioners quantly observe that no man should go to sleep while transport ing fish, also that brook trout put into mild, still water are thrown away.

THE river and harbor bill, recently passed by the House, authorizes the survey of the Susquehanna river above Havre de Grace and also of the west branch of the river "in order to ascertain if the navigation car be materially and permanenly improved by the construction of embankments or otherwise; such survey also to be made with a view of ascertaining the best method of confining the waters of the river in times of great flood to the general course of its

The flood part of this may be all right. but the navigation scheme seems rather wild and romantic, like the part of the river that borders the lower end of this county with miles of rocks, rapids and sandy shall

THE Cramps have been so discouraged by that awful failure due to the rejection of the poor little dispatch boat Dolphin that they are organizing a ship-building com-pany with a capital of three millions and a balf.

In the Lebanon county court a farmer charged with cruelty to animals by sawing off the horns of his cattle has been found not guilty, the jury evidently believing that If the veterinarians were right in assorting that the operation was painful the farmers were right in believing that it was benefi cial in preventing the animals from fighting. Although several witnesses of long experience with cattle testified their belief that the cattle do not suffer from dehorning the scientific evidence that they do suffer seems irresistible, showing a large number of nerves at the horns. The advisability of removing the horns being admitted and the pain of the operation being the only objection, humanity demands that the removal should be made as painless as possible The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals should now devote its attention to securing the passage of laws that will compel the use of some anaesthetic. Brutes should have the benefit of the most improved and painless methods of modern

SPEAKER REED HORRIFIED.

Massachusets Representative in the House in His Shirt Sleeves.
For the first time in the history of the House of Representatives a member on Friday took off his coat and his cuffs while he was making a speech. Strange to say, it was Joseph H. Walker, a Republican representative of the cultured state of Mas-sachusetts. Unlike many of his colleagues, Mr. Walker has not exchanged his colleagues, Mr. Walker has not exchanged his old-fashioned black broadcloth winter suit for flannel or pongee since the hot weather come in, and so he felt the heat of the hall when he started in to oppose the free When he started in to oppose the free when he started in the oppose the free when he started in the oppose the free when he was a started in the oppose the free which when he was a started in the oppose the free when he was a started in the oppose the was a started in the oppose the was a started in the oppose the was a started in the oppose When he started in to oppose the free silver men he was comparatively cool, but speaking earnesstly, as in his way, and being badgered by sharp questions from his opponents, he got excited and hot. Once he said: "I defy any business man in this hall to deny this proposition." Thereupon quiet Mr. Lind, of Minnesota, a Republican, got up and said: "I deny it, and I can prove that it is fallacious." "Oh," said Mr. Walker, waving his hand contemptuously, "you are not a business man."

A little later on Payson, of Illinois, one of the Republican leaders, interrupted to ask a question, when Walker said: "Oh, you are the fellow who said in the caucus the other night you couldn't be renominated without free silver:" which stailed the polite Payson so that he could hardly ask a question. But the climax was reached when, as he got hotter and hotter, Walker stripped off his long-tailed coat, laid it on a dosk, and took off his cuffs and laid them aside. laid them aside.

It was so funny that the House had to laugh. But on second thought the House was shocked that its dignity should be treated so lightly, and some very severe comments were made in conversation on both sides of the hall. Speaker Reed was out at lunch, and Walker's colleague, General Cogswell, was in the chair. He did not feel, of course, that he could say anything to Walker, but when Speaker Reed returned he gave a broad intimation that Mr. Walker must put on his coat or take his seat. Mr. Walker did not choose to put on his coat, so he shortly took his seat.

The only other time when a member took off his coat in the House of representatives for any purpose was when that picturesque Greenbacker, George W. Jones, of Texas, during the scrimmage between Sparks and Anderson, of Iowa, pulled off his old butternut coat to take part in the fray.

Another Service Pension Bill. Senator Blair on Friday introduced a service and dependent pension bill. The service pension feature provides that every man who served sixty days or more dur-ing the late war and was honorably discharged shall be entitled to a monthly pen-sion of one cent for each day's ser-vice; provided, however, that aside from any pension he may be receiving his au-nual income is not more than $12, nor less than $6 a month, and shall be allowed in addition to any other pension the applicant may be receiving. The dependent feature of the bill is in general comformity to the various other bills having this end in view. The lowest monthly rate of pension for dependency is fixed at $5, and the highest at $12, except that for minor children the rate is fixed at $4, an increase of $2, from the present rate.

A Woman Killed by Lightning. A Woman Killed by Lightning.

Mrs. Lewis Bechtel, aged 40 years, wife of a prominent farmer near Boyertown, Berks county, was struck by lightning and instantly killed on Friday afternoon. The hired girl, Mary Williams, was also severely burned. Several other members of the family scated near their mother escaped. The fluid followed a metallic clothestine from the yard and jumped off, the current striking the unfortunate woman in the neck, and passing down her back. Her body was badly blistered and her clothing partially burned.

Engineer Warg Acquitted,
The jury in the case of Prosper Warg, of Weatherly, returned a verdict of "not guilty," the county to pay the costs. The charge against him was criminal negligence in causing the death of Engineer Musick at Laury on December 20 last. Warg was the engineer of a Lehigh Valley freight train, and was running ahead of the Buffalo express, which was half an hour late. He had orders to occupy twenty minutes of that time and then vacate the main line. While entering a siding at Laury's Station, the express ran into the rear of his train, causing the death of Engineer Musick, of the express. Engineer Warg Acquitted.

A Victim of Insane Jealousy.

James Mathewa, of Carbondale, Pa., suspected his wife of being unfaithful. He chalked the floors that he might have evidence by footprints if visitors entered the house; forbade his wife to cross the threshold, bought a buildog and placed him in the front yard to keep off "tresspassera."

Friday morning Mrs. Mathews went into the yard. The buildog broke his chain and pounced upon the woman. She was terribly bitten, the mayage beast tearing the shoes off the woman's feet, and leaving the marks of his teeth all over her body. It is believed she will die. The feeling in the neighborhood was high against the husband, and in the evening he locked himself in the house.

Base Ball Notes. On account of rain in many cities yester day the usual number of games were no played. Those that did come off resulted as follows:

as follows:
Players' League—New York 12, Brook lyn 2; Cleveland 14, Buffalo 4; Chicago 9 Pittsburg 5.
National League—Boston 10, New York
3; Cincinnati 9, Pittsburg 5; Chicago 12 Cleveland 4.

The Rochester and Brooklyn clubs played to darkness in the eighth inning yesterday, when a heavy rain set in. Each had scored five runs.

VAN HOUTEN'S COCOA-Delicious-Made In

Though pure and simple and so mild, It might be used by any child, Yet SOZODONT'S so swift and sure That mouth and teeth with wondrous speed From tartar and from taint are freed Till they become sweet, white, and pure.

A Good Talker on the stage or platform, in society or at hom must not only possess brains but a clear, stror voice. Catarrh, or a severe cold, is almost et tain to finjure the voice. But these completes may be completely eradicated with a few a plications of Thomas Electric Oil, unrivaled its specialties. Sold in Lancaster by W. Hoch, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

"Just Hear That Child Scream!"
Said Mrs. Smith to her sister, Mrs. Davis, as the sound of a child's shrieks came across the garden from a neighbor's house. "What kind of a woman have you for a neighbor? Does she abuse her children!" "No, indeed," replied Mrs. Davis. "She is one of the most tender mothers in existence. But you see she believes in the old fashioned style of doctoring. When a child needs physic, she fills a spoon with some nauseous dose, lays the little victim flat on her lap, holds his nose until he is forced to open his mouth for breath, when down goes the dreadful mess. Then come the yells." "No wonder," said Mrs. Smith, "Why doesn't she use Dr. Pierce's Pieasant Purgative Pellets? They are effective without being harsh, and are seasy to take as sugar plums. I always give them to my children." "And so do!," said Mrs. Davis. "Just Hear That Child Scream !"

"I'm All Broke Up!"

This is the usual exclamation of one afflicted with rheumatism or lameness. Rheumatic perpie are indeed entitled to our sincere sympathy and commiscration. Speedy relief is offered them in Dr. Thomas Electric Oil. It is the sworn remedy of all aches and pains. Sold in Lancaster by W. T. Hoch 137 and 139 North Queen street.

ASTRICH'S PALACE OF FASHION,

115 AND 117 N. QUEEN ST.,

LANCASTER. SATURDAY, JUNE 7. Second Day of the Great Bargain Sale of Ladies' Muslin Underwear.

Come early and avoid the rush. We have added to the 25c lot 5 doz. Men's White Unlaundered Shirts, with linen bosom. Never before were such bargains offered.

Over 200 dozens of all descriptions to be sold in 4 lots. Lot 1, at 25c each; consisting of 40 doz. Chemise, 35 doz. Drawers, 40 doz. Corset Covers, 15 doz. Children's Drawers, 20 doz. Aprons, with fine needlework edging, and finished with briar stitching; 10 doz. Children's Slips, with handsome embroidered yoke; 15 doz. full sized Skirts for Ladies, 25 doz. full sized Nightgowns, Mother Hubbard back and front.

All these goods are made of positively good muslin, well made and trimmed either with the finest cambric ruffling or finest grade needlework edging.

They must go fast. Do not delay coming for them. The sale of some of these goods will be limited to one or two of a style to give everybody a chance.

Lot 2, at 50c each, consists of 20 doz. Chemise, 20 doz. Corset Covers, 20 doz. Nightgowns, 15 doz. Drawers, 15 doz. Children's White Cambric Dresses, 15 doz. Shirts, with wide needlework flouncing. All we can say about these goods is that not one piece can be bought at regular price for less than 75c, and many pieces are fully worth $1. The sale of them will also be limited to 1 or 2 pieces of a kind.

Lot 3, at 75c, consists of 10 doz. Skirts, 10 doz. Nightgowns, 10 doz. Drawers, 10 doz. Corset Covers, 10 doz. Children's White Cambric Dresses: not one of this lot is worth less, nor has ever been sold less than $1.25 apiece. This lot we will also limit the sale to one of a kind only.

Lot 4, at $1; Nightgowns, Skirts, Children's Dresses, Drawers, Corset Covers and Chemise. We will also offer on Friday
