Three Children of a Family Die of Black Tongue Diphthe-ia. WHITE ROCK, June 16.—The family of Benjamin Jenkina, who resides near the Union, in Colerain township, have been greatly afflicted. Some time ago several of the children were taken with that dreaded disease, black tongue diphtheria. Of the seven children three have died. Two of these were twins, aged four years, and a third was six years. One died on Thursday, another on Friday and a third on Saturday. The other children are sick, and, in the opinion of the physicians, they on Saturday. The other children are sick, and, in the opinion of the physicians, they cannot all live. The family has been placed under strict quarantine and are cut off from communication with the outside world, so that the disease can not spread. There are some improvements in the building line being made at present. David Burnite and W. R. Hastings, of Union, are building up additions to their houses. Samuel Witmer, whose barn near Collins, was destroyed by fire recently, has erected another in its stead.

June July August Reptember October December was destroyed by fire recently, has erected another in its stead. The farmers have siready begun making hay and quite a number of meadows have been cut off. The wheat looks well, but it is covered with lice. In this section the oats looks very bad, and it is believed that the rust will prevent any kind of a crop from being harvested. Some farmers have given up all hope for it and they have ploughed it down, planting Huugarian seed in its stead. Vear Year Crude Oll-July June. July... August September October Decomber Year Cousols
