That it is in motion is the last thought which would be likely to suggest itself to the mind of any one passing it; yet it is a well established fact that this entire moun-

some time in the future to dam the Columbia and form a great lake from the Cascades to the Dalles. The Indian traditions indicate immense movements of the mountains hereabouts, long before white men came to Oregon, and the early settlers, immigrants, many of them from New England, gave the above described mountainous ridge the name of "traveling mountain," or "sliding mountain."

In its forward and downward movement the forests along the base of the river have become submerged in the river. Large tree stubs can be seen standing deep in the water on this shore. The railway engineers and the trackmen find that the line of the railway which skirts the foot of the mountain is being continually forced out of place. At certain points the roadbed and rails have been pushed eight or ten feet out of line in the course of a few years.

Sir Edwin Arnold and a Christian Epic.

From the New York Tribune.

Letters from Tokio give some interesting facts about Sir Edwin Arnold's new poem, upon which he has been working for six months. He lives in the Japanese quarter, and has adopted the native customs in many respects. When he comes in from a walk he leaves his shoes at the door and enters the apartments in his stockings. He has also become expert in writing Japanese in the native style, and by the aid of two pretty Japanese girls he has mastered the language, which he speaks fluently and writes with ease. It was only by the polite fiction of serving as an English tutor to these two young women that he was permitted to live in the native quarter.

Sir Edwin has written comparatively lit-mitted to five in the native quarter.

Sir Edwin has written comparatively litlie for his newspapers while in Japan. All his leisure has been spent on his new epic of Christianity, which he has been turning hier in his mind for the last twelve years.
He conceived it before he wrote "The Light of Asia," and subsequently he travhied through the holy land, visiting all he places memorable in sacred story. He has seen all the places which he describes n his poem. This poem consists of 60,000 n his poem. This poem consists of 60,000 ines. It is written in blank verse and is elleved by excellent little lyrics.

His study of Mary Magdalen is said to be a fine piece of work. The poem will be outlished first in the United States. But what multisher will issue it is not yet set.

hat publisher will issue it is not yet set ed. He has received an offer of $100,000 om a syndicate for it.
