Address Before the Literary societies by J. Freeman Hendricks, Esq.

MILLERSVILLE, July i.—The exercises commencement week, which were so polly begun by Dr. A. R. Byerly's backmrate sermon to the class on Sunday orning, were continued this evening by address before the literary societies.

Many of the alumni are here to enjoy se commencement festivities and renew remer friendships. This is especially se of the members of the classes of 1870 and of 1880. The class histories of these of classes are to be read to morrow; a mority of the members are said to be seen now. The parents of many of the sunting class are also here to witness a graduation exercises. The chapei was enforce nicely filled when the meeting a called to order.

It introduced his subject by referring to time when he was a student here and y speaking feelingly of the valuable struction he had received at this shool. He addressed himself to the dents, and showed that success life depended largely upon the farm, and amount of preparation ade for life in the school, upon the farm, at in the workshop. Preparation for the must be made before the race begins, staffer it is in progress or when some one has already touched the goal. To seem the hear and spends his life in enjoying it without labor is of no value to society or late, and had better not exist. A fool may habert, but it requires virtue to learn. Labor is digutied, and if howest and true and the progress of the great-My bring success. Genius is nothing more in a capacity for hard work. The great-geniuses were ever the hardest workers. e and talent are given to us by a Creator for the purpose of fulfilla cartain mission or life work. one is born for a certain mission for ich he is especially adapted, and it is work to find out what that mission is. succeed be must rely upon his own ex-ons. The overcoming of each difficulty res the victor stronger. Help from his, self-help, strengthens; help from fout weakens. A single and intense pose is another essential to success, w men must concentrate their energies ad yet not become narrow. To succeed these times he must be a specialist. The inge of human knowledge has so widened the we can become market. we can become masters in only one g. The body must be developed phytaing. The body must be developed phy-ically to insure the most vigorous mental activity. Purity, truth and honesty of purpose are the safeguards of youth. It is charged that Mr. Packer, individually, drew his check for $3,000, when he had only $1,000 in bank; that as president he created in the state of the bank; and that it was discovered only yesterday, when sank Examiner Stargis found the check smong the bank's papers. President Packer ays the proceeding is an outrage, but that he will come out of it with clean hands. He waived examination, when arraigned this afternoon before Commissioner Hoyne, and was held in $5,000 bonds to the United States grand jury. The case will be heard sates grand jury. The case will be heard in October. Mr. Packer has resigned his office as president of the Park National bank. C. F. Bell, cashier, has also offered his resignation. In Love With a Picture.

In Love With a Picture.

Mrs. Anna Tapley, a young widow who has been a clerk in the registered letter department of the postoffice at Louisville, ky., was married Monday evening. The groom is J. Frank Sweesy, of Omaha, and the two had never seen each other until last Friday. The match was made by Mrs. Hartman, who went to Omaha some months ago. She carried a photograph of Mrs. Tapley. She met Mr. Sweesy shortly after her arrival and showed him the photograph, with which he fell deeply in love. An introduction by letter was arranged, and a correspondence followed, resulting in an engagement. The wedding day was set for July 2, and last Thursday the groom called. He went to see Mrs. Topley Friday and was so fascinated with her that he persuaded her to hurry matters. The wedding Monday evening was the result, and to-day Mr. and Mrs. Sweesy left for their Nebraska home.

PORCUPINE'S CHRIST.

PORCUPINE'S CHRIST.

The Indian Says He Saw Him and Gives a Description of the Messiah.

The Indians on all the reservations around Fort Custer, Mont., are in a state of excitement bordering on frenzy over the alleged coming of the Messiah.

A few days ago Porcupine, the apostle of the new Christ, gave to an army officer the story of his meeting with the Messiah.

Last evening he arrived here with a few followers and related his story with additional details. He spoke to the officers and ladies of the post for over an hour and fully explained his religion, which closely resembles the Christian religion of the whites except that Porcupine claims positively that Christ has come back to earth and is now in the flesh near Walker Lake, Nev.

Porcupine did not know anything about the first Christ, but he says this Christ told him that He had been on earth hundreds of years ago, when he appeared to the white people, who used Him roughly, and even killed Him. Porcupine mays he saw marks on the bands of the Christ, who said He had been nalied to a tree by the hands, and that spikes had also been driven through His feet and His side had been cut open.

The Christ did not show the scars on His through His feet and His side had been cut open.

The Christ did not show the scars on His feet, as He had on His shoes, nor did He show the wound in His side, but all knew that what He told them was true.

Porcupine said he did not believe in the Christ when he first heard of Him, but no sooner did he see Him than all doubt vanished from his mind, and he knew he was looking at a God. He had never seen such a man before, and never would unless he saw this man again, which he meant to do. It was evening when Christ came walking into the camp and they all knew who he was without being told. He described Christ as a large man, with a tawny skin, a noble carriage and face. Christ did not speak the first day Porcupine saw him, but commenced talking on the next day soon after sunrise and did not cease until the sun was near the western horizon.

A Tennis Ciub's Reception. The Racquet club gave a reception at their handsome grounds, on North Lime street, between James and Frederick, last evening to their friends and the members of other tennis clubs of the city. The grounds were beautifully illuminated by Chinese lanterns. Refreshments were served and the two or three hundred guests present had an enjoyable time playing ennis, dancing, &c.

Cigarmakers Well Off.

The treasurer of the Cigarmakers' Intornational Union of America has just issued a report of the financial condition of the union at the close of the year 1889.

The organization represents 305 unions, with a total membership of 17,555. There were $2.19,190 in the treasurer's hands on January 1, 1889. During the year $302,208 were received from dues, fines, assessments and other sources, and the balance in the treasury on December 31, 1889, was $285, 136. Besides this there are outstanding loans to be collected which amount to $56,489. Cigarmakers Well Off.

New All-Rail Boute to Boston Via. the Poughkeepsle Bridge.

The establishment of a new continuous rail route between Washington, Philadelphia and Boston via. the famous Poughkeepsle Bridge, opens up a most desirable line of communication between interior Pennsylvania and New England. To reach any point east of the Hudson river, it heretofore was necessary to unson river, it heretofore was necessary to un-dergo the fatigue and annoyance of a long jour-ney through the streets of New York or the equally objectionable train "float" transf around that city. Now, however, one may rid over solid steel rails the entire distance withou change of cars. Through Fullman buffet sleeping cars and through coaches are run on train leaving Philadelphia, Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets, at 6:15 p. m., and Philadelphia, Ninth and Green streets, at 6:15 p. m. This train runs via. Bethlehem and Pen Argyl. At the latter point it is met by a connecting train from Reading via. Slatington, which leaves Reading at 6:05 p. m., and has connection from all the branches of the Reading railroad centreing at that point. The traveler by this route secures a full and comfortable night's rest and reaches Boston early in the morning, where connections are made under the same depot roof for all point in New England. Time tables, through tickets change of cars. Through Pullman buffet sleet in New England. Time tables, through tickets and baggage checks are obtainable at Reading R. R. stations and ticket offices,
