CHARLES STANK.

SWIGGING IN THE STYLE.

governor always insisted that mint drinking was an acquire tasts. He the drink, however, and had made it iy, so that when I was taught I was r the instructions of a master. Gov-Wise held that a man should make drinking a business and should ake one until the thermometer lored at least 95° in the shade. Then ould abstract his mind from the con-lation of all other topics until he has ed his glass.

at one man can make as much money for a employer in winter as three men can ake in summer. You see there is a great al of labor in mixing these fancy drinks, d great care must be exercised to have an Just right. The same quality of more is used in making these fancy inks as is used in the straight drink, en there is the chopped ice and the juices d extracts and the fruits when they are season. No canned fruits are ever used No canned fruits are ever a first-class bar. You see that all these tras cost money, so that when you come strike a balance it will be found that the ight drink will pay the best.
