THE HISTORY OF TWO TREATIES. Ex-Secretary Bayard Speaks of Those

Withdrawn by Mr. Cleveland. Ex-Secretary of State Thomas F. Bayard was interviewed on Tuesday at his home in Wilmington on reciprocal relations of the United States with other countries during the Cleveland administration. erning the reciprocal policy American sugar-growing countries, which had been negotiated by ex-Secretary Frelinghuysen, and which was said in a New York paper on Tuesday to have been so distasteful to President Cleveland that congressional action thereon was not taken, the ex-secretary said:

"There were two treaties which were still before the Senate when Mr. Cleveland took office on March 4, 1885. One was the Nicaraguan canal project, which committed the United States to the purchase and acquisition of sovereignty over a narrow strip of land and water within the bound-aries of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, coupled with the agreement to construct and main-tain a canal across the 1sthmus. This was one of the treaties recalled by Mr. Cleve-land from the Senate, which body had already refused to ratify it, although still retaining the instrument in its custody.

"The only other treaty withdrawn by Mr. Cleveland was the proposed commercial treaty with Spain proposing certain reciprocities of trade between Antilles and the United States. By it more than $30,000,000 of our revenue derived from duties on sugar would have been made a free gift to Cuba and Porto Rico, without diminishing in the slightest degree the cost of sugar ng in the slightest degree the cost of sugar to the American consumers. The treaty was therefore recalled because it was considered wiser for the government of the United States to make such reductions in revenue that would inure to the benefit of its own citizens and lessen the cost of livthe laboring population of this y. It was also considered that it is country. It was also considered that it is wiser for this government to retain in its own hands the sole and absolute control over its sources of revenue than to tie them up in conventions with other govern-The Self-Acting Roll Company. The Self Acting Bell company was chartered by the governor on Tuesday. The capital stock of the company is $20,-000, and the directors of the company are Edwin E. Snyder, Charles S. and Philip C. Snyder. George E. Fahne-

Five young boys, who were found in the disreputable club room on Monday evening, were before the mayor this afternoon and they were each given a severe repr mand. All promised to behave in the best possible manner in the future, and as their parents have learned of their conduct also it is likely that they will. ## A LAD'S SAD FATE. WILLIAM RUSS DROWNS IN THE RIVER ON

PUENDAY AFTERNOON. With Companions He Enters the Stream And Gets Beyond His Depth-The

Funeral on Friday. COLUMBIA, July 23.—A very sad drown-ing accident happened about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Susquehanna river at this place, whereby Willie Russ, thirteen-year-old son of Frederick Russ, liquor dealer on South Fourth street, met his death. The secident did not me known until some time later, owing to the boy's frightened companions afraid to tell of the affair. Young Russ, in company with Harry Appold, James Brady, Fred Brosey and Harry Quenzer, went to the river, lear the Susquehanna rolling mill, and went in swimming. Willie Russ got beyond his depth, and being un-able to swim was washed off his feet. The other boys became badly frightened and were powerless to help Russ, as they could not swim. They boys ran away and agreed upon a story that while at the saw mill: a boy had told them that young Russ had been drowned. This story they told a lad named Willie Smith, who at once the father told the boy's mother, being at Harrisburg at the time. The s stuck to their story, until he-measures were resorted to, when pey told a straight story and said that they had been in swimming with Russ and saw him drown. A searching party was formed and the body recovered about 6 o'clock last evening about twenty feet from shore, almost at the, spot where he went down. Deputy Coroner Hershey empannelled the following jury, who viewed the body; Henry Westerman, B. Schill, Alex Craig, Peter Mummau, John J. Zeigler and Cyrus

Bruner. A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered. The body was removed to the parents home, and the funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Salem

Latheran church. Officer Shill arrested a man and woman this morning about one o'clock on the railroad near town. They were very drunk and had with ithem a small boy, who bore evidence of being shamefully abused. They were locked up over night and this morning sent to jail for thirty days by Squire Solly. Investigation will be made as to who the child is and an effort will be made to place him in some institution away from the influences surrounding him. A big wreck happened yesterday at 4 p. m. on the Port Deposit railroad, about one mile south of Peach Bottom. Engine No. 860 struck a cow, throwing the engine off the track and wrecking nine cars. No person was hurt. The tracks were torn up for some distance. The wreckers were in service and returned this morning at 5

THE OPENING SERVICES.

A Large Attendance at the Methodist Campmeeting at Landisville.

Large Number July 23.—The first meeting of the camp was held in the auditorium at 7:15 last evening, and was very well attended. Everybody seemed anxious for camp to commence. After singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus" Name,"

Rev. Marces of Streamers, made the open-

Rev. Magee, of Strasburg, made the open ing prayer of the camp. Rev. J. F. Crouch then read the 148th salm and spoke a few words of welcome. He told, in a very cheerful manner, all who were interested in the camp their respective duties for the next ten days. Several of the ministers spoke, among whom were Dr. Vernou, of Lan-caster; Rev. J. Dungan, of Marietta; Rev. Charles Roads, of Philadelphia; Mr. Patton, of Columbia. After prayer by Rev. E. C. Yerkes, and benediction by Rev. Gaul, of Christiana, there was a general handshaking.

The spirit of the people manifested at this meeting shows their Intention for work. A few young people gathered around Prof. Kirkpatrick, joining with him in singing some of the new songs. A large crowd enjoyed the music. Among the new arrivals are Rev. J. largis, presiding elder, Dr. S. M. Vernon, Lancaster, Rev. C. Gaul, Christiana, Rev. E. C. Yerks, Lancaster, Aldus C. from Duke. When the horses reached James they turned. One of them ran on either side of an electric light pole, which struck the yoke and brought them to a standstill. The sudden stopping threw Bates from the wagon and he landed on the sidewalk, some distance from the buggy. He was considerably bruised, but his injuries are byino means serious. The horses were almost stripped of their harness in the skirmish.
