Amos Rote, undertaker, his children and Samuel H. Gruel made a narrow escape from a terrible death on Monday afternoon.

They were in a wagon driving to Gruel's tee house, in the southern part of the city. To get there it was necessary to cross the Quarryville railroad at Conestoga street. The shifting engine was backing on the track near that street and the occupants of the wagon did not notice it until it was nearly on top of them.

When Mr. Rote saw it coming he jumped from the wagon on the east side of the track. Mr. Gruel struck the horse a sharp blow and caused him to jump across the track, just in time to avoid being struck. These people say that the bell was not rung or whistle blown, and they had no means of knowing that an engine was coming. The matter was reported the coming. Mayor Clark. He will ascertain whether Cigarmakers have adopted a uniform consisting of a brown hat, blue hadge and cane. Thos. Deitol Lodge, A. A. I. S. W. will wear blue shirts, white and blue belts and a badge and have a band.

A Horse Case Heard, A horse case was the attraction at Alder. man Barr's last evening. The office was througed with witnesses subprenaed to estify in the civil suit brought by Peter Dommell against Constantine Boettner to recover $60, the price of a horse. Domme howed that he sold the horse for $60 and Boetiner and his witnesses testified that he was a balking horse and not sound and gentle, as represented. In rebuttal Dommel proved that all the time he owned the horse 4 years the horse never balked. The preponderance of testimony was in favor of the Dommel side of the case and the alderman entered judgment in his favor for $50 and costs. An appeal will be taken by Boettner to the court of common pleas.

Gust Zook's Opinion of the United States Savings, Loan and Building Co., of St. Paul, Minn. LARCASTER, PA., July 10, 1890.

To the Stockholders of the United States Sa Loan and Building Co. :

On my way there, I met eighteen other deie-gates from different sections of this state and New Jersey. Upon our arrival at St. Paol, the delegates met in the pariors of "Hotel Ryan" and organized by the selection of Geo. W. Han-cock, of Philadelphia, as chairman, and M. K. Watkins, of Mt. Carmel, as secretary. In order to make a thorough examination of

I desire to state here that the delegates from the East were good business men and fully able to make a strict examination of the affairs of the company.

Each committee having performed their duty, we met by arrangement in Philadelphia on July 10, 1890, and made a general report, which will be forwarded to you from the Philadelphia office.

As to the character and standing of the officers, I made inquiry of my friend. Judge John P. Res, of Minneapolis, and I take pleasure in stating that he spoke in the highest terms of the men connected with the company, and of its president, Gen. Hubbard, with wh well acquainted; he said for honesty and in, tearlty of purpose, no one stands higher in the state of Minnesota.

In conclusion I would say that I feel satis-fied, if the officers of the company continue in the same wise and economical course, that the returns will be as large as the Association represents.

Yours Respectfully,
J. GUST ZOOK.
