An Address by Henry Clay. His name submitted to a National Convention. HENRY CLAY has given publicity to the following Address, authorising his name to be presented to the Whig National Convention.

TO THE PUBLIC. The various and conflicting reports which have been in circulation in regard to my intentions with respect to the next presidency, appear to me to furnish a proper occasion for a full, frank and explicit exposition of my feelings, wishes and views upon the subject. This it is now proper to make. With a strong disinclination to the use of my name again in connection with that office. I left my resilence in December last, under a determination to announce to the public in some suitable form my desire not to be thought of as a candidate. During my absence I frequently expressed to different gen-tlemen my unwillingness to be again in that attitude: but though no one was authorized to publ way or the other, having reserved the right to do so exclusively to myself, on reflec-tion, I thought it was due to my friends to consult with them before I took a decisive and final step. Accordingly, within the course of the last three months, I have had opportunity of conferring fully and freely with them. Many of them have ad-dressed to me the strongest appeals, and the most carnest entreaties, both verbally and written, to issuade me from executing my intended purpose. They represented to me that the withdrawal of 43 do, on 8th Avenue, would be fatal to the success, and perhaps lead to the dissolution of the party with which I have been associated, and especially in the free States: that at no former period did there even exist so great a probability of my election if I To John Jacob Astor, the interest would consent to the use of my name; that the great States of New York and Ohio would in all probability cast their vote for me, that New York vould more certainly bestow her suffrage upon mo would more certainly bestow her suitrage upon noe than upon any other candidate, and that Ohio would give her vote to no candidate residing in the slave States but to nie; that there is a better pros-pect than has heretoforo at any time existed, that Pennsylvania would unite with them : that no can-didate can be elected without the concurrence of two of these three. States; and none could be defeated upon whom all of these should be united; "that great numbers of our fellow citizens, both of native and foreign birth, who were deceived, and therefore voted against me at the last election, are unerciore voteo against me at the list election, are including two hundred dollars a year to Fitz t now eager for an opportunity of bestowing their suffrages upon me, and that while there is a strong and decided preference for me entertained by the great body of the Whig party throughout the U. whom I refer) at the to his son William-being at least twenty millions tates, that (the friends to same time are convinced that I am more available of dollars. than any candidate that could be presented for the American people. I do not pretend to vouch for the accuracy of all these representations, although not entertain a doubt that they have been honestly made, and are sincerely believed. It has been, moreover, urged to me that the great obligations under which I have been hitherto placed by a large portion of the United States, the ull force of which no one can be more sensible of than I am, demand that I should not withhold the use of my name if it should be requested. And I have been reminded of trequent declarations which I have made, that whilst life and health remain, a man is bound to render his best services upon the call of his country. Since my return home, I have anxiously delibersince my return home, i have anknowly demote ated upon my duty to myself, to my principles, to my friends, and above all, to my country. The conflict between my unaffected desire to continue in private life, as most congenial with my feelings and condition, and my wish faithfully to perform all my public duties, has been painful and embarrassing. If I refuse the use of my name and those injurious consequences should ensue which have here as another the state of the state justly incur their reproaches, and the reproaches of my own heart; and if, on the contrary, I should the use of my name, whatever the result may be, I shall escape both.

I have, therefore, finally decided to leave to the ening his host on the subject, he was met with the National Convention, which is to assemble in June. query from the farmer. the consideration of inv name, in connection with such others as may be presented to it. to make a flow r selection of a suitable candidate for President of market? the United States, and whatever may be the issue of its fair and full deliberations, it will meet with my prompt and cheerful acquiescence.

It will be seen from what I have stated, that there was reason to anticipate that I would decline giving my consent to the use of my name again as a candidate for the Presidency of the United States. Owing perhaps to this as well as other Lancaster the past winter: causes, many of my friends and fellow citizens Amount of a private donation transmitte have avowed a preference for, and directed their attention to, the distinguished names of other citisingle women Deduct amount of sundry receipts for zens of the United States. Morible Affair in Grafton, N. H.

· CANAAN, N. H., April 8, 1848. The quiet community of this charming inland town has been thrown into a feverish state of ex-citement by the arrival here yesterday of the Rev Enos Dualey, a Baptist clergyman of some note in these parts, in charge of an officer, to undergo an examination for the murder of his wife, in the neighboring town of Gratton, about five weeks The facts connected with this horrible charge, as I have been able to collect them, are these: About the middle of March, Rev. Mr. Dudley took his wife out to ride, and after an absence of a couple of hours, he returned to his house, bringing back the lady a corpse. In explanation of the tra-gedy; he told his family that the sleigh upset, gedy; he told his throwing his wife violently against a stump, and causing her death upon the spot. He at once proceeded to make a collin with his own hands. with little assistance as possible, placed the body ing it. The funeral was conducted with haste, and marked with a total absence of all decent preparation and display.

The version he gave of the manner of his wife's death, appears at first to have been credited; but the manner of her burial, and something peculiar in the conduct of the husband after the toneral, aroused susperious of fout play. At the suggestion of peveral or the decased triends, the lady was disof jeveral or the deceased iriends, the Lay was dis-entered in the early part of this week, and a coun-cil of physicus field a post more at the and a coun-upon it. The positi was a manimous option among the medical mea, that the deceased was strandfor early stationary—500 bbis sold at $3,871, a $6,00 retarn, and $7 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is nearly stationary—500 bbis sold at $3,871, a $6,00 retarn, and $7 for fancy brands. Rye strangled!

This announcement caused an immense excite ment in Gratton, where the accused was well known, and aside from some peculiar leaning to-wards the doctrines of Millerism, much estermed and respected. He was immediately arrested, and conveyed to this place, where the attar is now being investigated. The examination 1 hurdly conveyed to this place, where the aftair is now mand is no terately active, and about 20,000 bush-being investigated.
