

THE HICKORY TREE.

The principles of the old DEMOCRATIC party, secure to man social and political Equality—they elevate the masses—they secure the greatest good to the greatest possible number—they protect man in the pursuit of Liberty, and Happiness—they spread the Empire of Human Freedom—they destroy Kings and Tyrants—they break the fetters imposed by petty despots—they laugh wickedness to scorn, and spurn the intrusions of Iniquity—they are the Cloud by day, and the Pillar of Fire by night, guiding the nation through all perils to the glorious consummation that Destiny has in store for it—they are the spear of Ishrael, detecting Falshood—the thread of Danahul, guiding through the labyrinth of Cunning, To preserve and perpetuate these principles, VOTE FOR GENERAL LEWIS V. BUREN, OF MICHIGAN, FOR PRESIDENT, AND GEN. WILLIAM O. BUTLER, OF KENTUCKY, FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

Freemen! cheer the Hickory Tree, In storm its boughs have sheltered thee, O'er Freedom's Soil its branches wave, 'Twas planted on the Lion's Grave.

Intelligencer & Journal.

E. W. HUTTER, EDITOR.

FOR PRESIDENT, Gen. Lewis Cass, OF MICHIGAN.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, Gen. William O. Butler, OF KENTUCKY.

FOR GOVERNOR, Col. William Bigler, OF CLEARFIELD COUNTY.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER, Israel Painter, OF WESTMORELAND COUNTY.

Lancaster, August 29, 1848.

Democratic Central Committee.

The gentlemen composing the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania, are requested to meet at the house of H. HUTTER, at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, August 30th, at 5 o'clock P. M., on business of importance.

E. W. HUTTER, Chairman.

Lancaster, Aug. 29.

We owe thanks to that staunch and indefatigable Democrat, J. W. BAKER, Esq., for an accession of twenty members subscribed to the Intelligencer in the borough of Columbia.

Aid to the Governor.

Col. SAMUEL SNODGRASS of Columbia, in this county, has been appointed by Governor Johnson an Aid-de-Camp, with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in the Militia. That gentleman we know of no man, Whig as he is, on whose aid and services we can rely. It is to be apprehended, however, that Governor Johnson is making his honors quite too cheap. The aids he has already appointed would constitute a well-armed battalion, and if the commission mill at Harrisburg continues to grind appointments out at this rate, they will not be worth the taking. Executive honors, like fine gold, are only valuable because of their rarity—a secret which his Arcturion does not seem to understand.

Thaddeus Stevens.

The nomination of this gentleman for a seat in the National Council, against the earnest remonstrances of those to whom the Whig party has long accustomed to resort for counsel, is doubtless the homage paid at all times, and by all men, to pre-eminence and distinguished talent. The conviction that this country is now in its infancy, and that the resources of population and territory, should be represented in Congress by one capable of a more expanded effort of intellect than the drawing out of a sleepy "Aye" or "No," has forced upon the boards one, who for years had been banished into political exile, and between whom and the party that now claims in his behalf the public suffrage there is little genuine affinity. Mr. Stevens has never, in man or in practice, belonged to the fraternity of frail politicians, who at the baptismal font, under the sponsorship of JAMES WATSON WARREN, prostituted their use to the one consecrated name of "Whig." He has frequently exercised himself in the amiable amusement of "whipping" in this tractable party, but beyond the infliction of his lash he has never extended to them any special mark of his favor. Whilst that Infatuation lasted, Mr. Stevens was an Anti-Mason, but when the ghost of WILLIAM MEXLEY had fulfilled its purpose, and the old woman had ceased to hang horse-hoof above the doors to keep away the witches, he turned Native, by whom his name was introduced at the eleventh hour into the congressional canvass, and to whom he is indebted for this triumph over the established church of Whiggery.

We have ascribed the nomination of Mr. Stevens to the homage awarded to commanding intellect, but there is too much reason to apprehend, that yet more potent reasons exist at the bottom. He is the seems face of the South—an abolitionist—willing not only to exclude Slavery from newly acquired territory, but that is infinitely worse, interfere with its existence where the Constitution has already planted it. If we are mistaken in this, we shall be happy to publish a correction. At all events, Mr. Stevens has been unequivocally selected as a champion, able and willing, to "sway" the line, and the representatives from beyond Mason and Dixon's line, who go into Congress, the pre-determined Agents of sectional jealousies and divisions—the foe of the peace and quiet of that portion of the American people, whose interests are threatened with violent assault. He has been chosen, on account of his talents, and in spite of his faults, to some extent internal discord, which is already, like some fell spirit of Pandemonium, convulsing and rocking the Union. His mission is to be one of strife, Division, and of Hatred, and surely none so well qualified to fulfill it—none so well calculated, by dangerous declamation, to widen the breaches which every Patriot should seek to heal—none better designed to pull down the sacred compromises of the Constitution, and to condemn the solemn injunctions of the Father of our Country, to "fraternize indignantly of the fraternal" of all such alarming and dangerous designs.

By these and kindred movements, may our republican friends at the South be admonished—

"Forewarned, forearmed," is an admirable maxim in politics. The signs portend an approaching tempest. If Northern Fanaticism invokes the aid of its abject men, the friends of the integrity of the Union must not fail to draw upon their intellectual resources. Greek must meet Greek, diamond cut diamond. When the evil mind, the ungodly spirit, commences its course, it falls an armed man, in an inglorious struggle. Let, then, the Democracy of the North and the South, the East and West, unite in the determination to send to the next Congress, not only STATESMEN of lofty public experience, but PATRIOTS, also, of enlarged minds, and pure hearts, determined to preserve the Union at all hazards—who have long accustomed themselves to regard its dismemberment as the worst calamity which a righteous Providence could send upon the nation. Encountered by this array of talent and virtue, these insatiable Zealots may go on, foaming and fretting, for a season, but they will ultimately vind themselves up in the flames of their own disgrace as certainly as that they have existence.

Old Berks.

We receive the most encouraging news of the political prospect in our excellent and well-beloved neighbor, OLD BERKS. This giant of Democratic strength is full of grandeur, and when once Hercules stizes his club, look out for breakers. Those people familiar with the signs of the Times, assure us, that they portend a perfect hurricane of Democratic majorities this fall. The republican legions of the Heidelberg, the Tulpehook, the Berns, of Exeter, Greenwich, Alsace, Cumru, Rockland, Windsor and Bethel, and the other townships that constitute this glorious old county, are literally breaking down the doors of the Stimulantes, and three consecutive themselves afresh to the cause of Democracy and the country. They will roll up not less than 5000 majority for Cass and Butler, and if the Taylorites do not behave remarkably proper, they will go a cool hundred or two beyond it. Since the last Presidential election the population has increased "right smart," and many of the Bubens, who were then on the wrong side of the old folks intend to bring every one of these young ones along, and the way they will crowd the boxes with ballots for the Democrat. Zettel will be a caution to the Whigs. Native Americans, Barn and Churchmen, and all that class of much deluded people.

Federal County Convention.

The deleigate convention of our Federal opponents, held in this city, on Wednesday last, excited an unusual degree of interest. As a nomination for office by that party, in this their stronghold, is synonymous with election, the anxiety among the place-seekers to "get upon the ticket" was intense. In addition to the customary strife for the mere "spoils," a hotly contended rivalry was maintained between the "Old Hunkers" of the Whig party, who favored the nomination of A. H. STERN, Esq., for Congress, and the rebellious Anti-Masons and Natives, who at the eleventh hour of the canvass introduced the potent name of THADDEUS STEVENS, whose name had long passed as uncontroverted law, had for weeks before a ticket "cut and dry" for the occasion, but the infusion of this new element made a wolf dash in the reckoning, as the many wary faces bore witness. The following are the candidates finally agreed upon:

FOR CONGRESS—Thaddeus Stevens, (City).

Assembly—Dr. Jeremiah B. Stubbs, (Fulton); D. G. Eshelman, (City); J. W. Fisher, (Columbia); Dr. S. Hower, (Rockland); D. W. Wintner, (West Hempfield).

Sherriff—Jacob Huber, (City).

Protector—George Brubaker, (Upper Leacock).

Register—Dr. H. B. Bowman, (Manheim).

Recorder—C. C. Kuffman, (Washington).

Commissioner—H. Musselman, (Strasburg).

Judge Frazer, (Paradise); William Gorchett, (City); Andrew McHenry, (Conestoga).

Delegates to State Convention—Nathaniel Kilmer, (City); Hiram Evans, (Cermanon); Marius Hooper, (Martic); Dr. Wm. Brooks, (Columbia); Dr. R. Jones, (Cotoy); Allen Yandt, (Earl).

Two sets of Delegates having appeared from Drumore—the one representing the Whig wing, the other the Native—the convention decided to admit one from each set—whereat Mr. HOPKINS, on behalf of the Whig claimants, and in obedience to the instructions of his constituency, protested against the proceeding, and with his colleagues, indignantly seceded. The second set of Native set, out of respect to the other side, also withdrew, leaving Drumore unrepresented.

Most of the nominations were effected by a remarkably close vote. On the first and second balloting, Messrs. Stevens and Smith, in the classics of the turf, "neck and neck," and the race was finally decided in favor of the former by barely the required majority. The same closeness was exhibited in the vote on Senator and Register.

We hear many of the disappointed applicants complain, that there was much "cheating at the board," and that they were refreshed with many more promises than performances. A sure remedy for this evil would be the adoption of the vino rose mode of voting, which would take it out of the power of any of the delegates to "hold the word of promise to the ear and break it to the sense."

This is the only honest, fair, and republican mode of voting—the only one which enables the constituents to discover the acts of their representatives—and is an effectual barrier against every species of treachery, fraud and dissimulation. We trust the day is not far distant in Lancaster county, when both parties will insist upon its adoption.

Musical Entertainment.

The lovers of first-rate music in this city will be gratified to learn, that those celebrated performers, Messrs. Kistner and Schreyer, will give a Concert, on the violin and guitar, at the hall of the Mechanical Institute, on Thursday evening. We bespeak on their behalf the patronage of all lovers of instrumental music, in which they are so proficient.

HONORABLE POLITICIANS.—Col. Field, (Whig)

was elected to the Legislature of Kentucky by a majority over Jesse Hayden, (Democrat), but Col. F. has resigned, and they are both again candidates for the Legislature in the county. Field, being elected by one vote, and finding that Hayden had voted for him, resigned, because he failed to vote for Hayden.

The Model Whig.

Politically speaking, he is soulless. He has no sympathies with the "big world" man. He is an antiquated land-tortoise, that moves not from one narrow circle all his life-time; although he is moved to more than a century, he would not move from his couch of down, to save a nation from the iron rod of despotism. Talk to him of Freedom, of Independence, of Human Rights, of the high destiny of Man, of the vast elevation of which he is susceptible, of the overthrow of tyranny, in whatever shape it may appear, and you might as well talk to stocks and stones. For such subjects he has no ear, no tongue, no heart. But speak to him of Dividends, of Bank Stocks, of Corporations, Charters, and the like, and he grants you his attention by the hour. He loves nothing better than to see a man, who has no such general laws, applicable to all. He pampers his own appetite to the amount of millions, and chaffers with honest Toil for the reduction of six-pence in price of unceasing labor. His plans of ease are all erected on the degradation of the masses, and his heaven on earth is the enjoyment of immunities from which they are excluded.

Specimen of the Laconics.

In 1835, when Mr. Van Buren was the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, a large party of bolters in Tennessee nominated Hugh L. White, of that State, an eminent citizen but frail politician. To afford their candidate opportunity to make a speech, a "glorification" was got up for his benefit, and among the distinguished Democrats invited to attend it, was the present President of the United States. His reply was short and sweet, as follows: "I have no objection to dine on Tuesday, 50th instant, with you, but I have no objection to dine on Tuesday, 50th instant, with you."

Colombia, Oct. 14, 1835.

Genlman: I have the honor to receive your invitation to dine on Tuesday, 50th instant, with you. I have no objection to dine on Tuesday, 50th instant, with you. Your obedient serv't, JAMES K. POLK.

Messa, W. E. Kennedy and others, Committee.

The lococofo talk of abandoning Cass

They do not like the idea of being whipped.—"New ones will be made for the occasion."

It may be very well for a party that has abandoned both its name and its principles, to charge others with the abandonment of their candidates; but we assure the Economist, that the election of THADDEUS STEVENS to Congress is not more certain, than the election of LEWIS CASS to the Presidency.

May Fu have a pleasant ride of it.

Hon. Peter S. Michler, of Northampton, declines having his name brought before the Whig State Convention as a candidate for the executive chair of State.

At the recent commencement of the Transylvania University, an institution of deserved celebrity, located at Lexington, (Ky), the degree of L. D. was conferred upon the Hon. Lewis, of this city—an honor worthily bestowed.

From the Pennsylvania.

Gov. Johnston's Reasons. I have before me a speech, delivered at Lancaster, by his Excellency Governor Johnston, and among other things I find the following, as reason, near him: "Gov. Taylor should be elected, hear him."

He will prescribe no man for a conscientious difference of opinion; being a lover of liberty of thought himself, he can afford to tolerate it in others.

It is a merit in General Taylor, what is the opposite conduct in Mr. Johnson? He has no more to offer a few weeks—an office which he has succeeded without the endorsement of the people, and yet in this short time, and under the peculiar circumstances, he has already acquitted scores of faithful and competent officers, who were appointed by the Governor of the people's choice.

Mr. Johnson has much more brass than conscience to place himself in such a ridiculous attitude. The conduct of his Excellency is another specimen of Federalist proscribing proscription. SENEX.

From the Muscogee Gazette.

John C. Calhoun vs. the Bible. "Mr. Calhoun denied, and with much originality of argument, the generally received truth, 'all men are born free and equal.'" "We were not born," he said, "infants were born men; men grew up, with equal force that men were created free and equal."

He denied, too, that there were but two sexes created—one man and one woman—the one superior, the other inferior."

The commentator of Fort Hill, we fear, not read his Bible with such an attention that he has "Jefferson's Manual," or the "Hamilton Papers," or he would not have placed himself in the antagonistic position to scripture as he has in the above remarks, taken from his late great speech on the organization of territories. For example, the good-book reads as follows: "Let man be born into trouble as the sparks fly abroad."

"Man that is born of woman is few of days; Job, xii, 22b. "The first man that was born? Or was that man that was born? Job, xii, 22b. "The joy that a man is born into the world." Job, xii, 22b.

"Have we not all one Father? Hath not one God created us?—Malachi, ii, 10.

"Remember thy Creator in the days of thy youth."—Ecclesi, xii, 1.

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."—Mark, xv, 15.

From the Bedford Gazette, of August 25.

President Polk.

The President of the United States arrived at the Bedford Springs on last Saturday, where he is spending a few days for the benefit of his health. This is his first visit to Bedford, and he expresses himself highly pleased with this justly celebrated watering place. Our citizens, of all parties, called to see the President, and it affords us pleasure to see the whole course of our life, seen by a man who combined so fully all the requisites of the Statesman, the Gentleman, and the Citizen; a President Polk. Possessed of an elegant flow of language, and pleasant and courteous in his manners, he makes all who are introduced to him feel perfectly easy. The Democrats of Bedford county, who give James K. Polk an enthusiastic support as any other man in the Union, are now more proud of him than ever. The President's conduct is an index to intelligence, the highest order, and honesty is depicted in every feature.

The President is accompanied by his nephew, Samuel Walker, and Dr. Foltz, U. S. Navy.

Who are the "Barnburners?"

As the whigs profess to be sanguine that the nominations of VAN BUREN and ADAMS will make vast inroads upon the Democratic party, it will be perhaps the best good to see definite results, as they are developed. In Tippecanoe county, (Indiana), the late election for members of Assembly resulted as follows: Democrats, Whigs, Barnburners, Goldblair, 1362; McCormick, 912; Breckenridge, 796; Doyle, 140; W. Lutz, 81.

It is important to remember, that both the Free Soil candidates had previously acted with the Democratic party, so that one would have supposed that they would derive their chief support from that quarter. But glance at the previous results will prove the direct contrary. In 1844 the vote of Tippecanoe county stood thus: Polk, 1551, Clay, 1350, in 1847 for Congress: Pettit (dem.) 1308, Brier Whig, 1351.

What do these figures prove? Why, the important fact, that these "Free Soil" candidates have not affected the Democratic strength in the least, whilst they have literally cut the whig vote in two. Let those Taylor editors, who are erecting such magnificent air-castles on the Buffalo nominations, look at this and tremble.

Thanksgiving in New Hampshire appointed for the 10th of November—the day succeeding the Presidential election. A very appropriate time, for the whole nation has reason to be thankful when the excitement of a Presidential election is over.

Robert Brent, R. C. Carmichael, and Madison Brown of Maryland, had left the Taylor party, and come out for Cass and Butler.

Hon. William Dock.

We rejoice to learn, that at the meeting of the Democratic conference at Jonestown, on Saturday last, the choice fell upon our excellent friend, Hon. WILLIAM DOCK of Harrisburg, as the Democratic candidate for Cass and Butler, in the district composed of Dauphin, Lebanon, and Schuylkill counties. This is a capital selection, and one that will, if we mistake not, be approved by a majority of the people. Judge D. is both capable and deserving, and well understands the wants of the district. He would make an efficient representative, and we wish with all our heart that he may be elected.

Bigger and the Banks.

A correspondent of the Pennsylvania says he has seen a letter from Col. William Bigler, dated the 31st inst, in reply to one addressed to him by a Democrat of Philadelphia, on the subject of Banks and Banking, in which he says: "The more I have seen of the faithless conduct of these institutions, the more I have felt disposed to find them up or obliterate them; if I had said upon all occasions, that if successful, I should be found adhering with unyielding tenacity to the Democratic party, I should follow closely in the footsteps of the illustrious Slunk."

Olio for Cass and Butler.

The Washington correspondent of the New York True Sun says: "I write seriously in saying that 2,000 plurality for Cass in Ohio is the lowest figure I find estimated in perhaps fifty letters from that State, which I have read within a fortnight. Our friends are better even than 20,000; and two of these letters say that Cass will lead Taylor full 50,000 votes there! The best informed whigs own that the defection of the Clay men and quakers is quite an equal chance for Maryland, New Jersey and Connecticut."

The Worcester (Mass.) Spy states that more than eight hundred of the federal voters of Worcester have enrolled their names as members of the "Freedom Club" of that city, and that the number will go up to more than a thousand; and it calculates that not more than one-sixth of the voters of that old Federal city will go for Taylor!

Dividing the "spoils."
