THANKSGIVING DAY. lieither the murmurs of discontent, nor the voic of mourning, nor the cries of want are heard, for PENNSYLVANIA, SS.

In the name and by the authority of the Com monivealth of Pennsylvania,

BY WILLIAM F. JOHNSTON, GOVERNOR OF THE SAID COMMONWEATH.

A PROCLAMATION.

HIS favor; to HIS gracious and loving kindness must be attributed the continuance of our nation The performances of duties we owe to the Supreme Dipenser of e-vents, is a task no less pleasing than imperative; to HIM, by whose en-during mercy we live, on whom we lean for support, whose arm is our defence, and whose peculiar regard is our glory, who in adversity consoles, in weakness sustains us; and from whom we receive every good and perfect gift, we owe, especially, our admiration al prosperity. Entertaining these sentiments, and deeply sen sible of the necessity of Divine aid, to guide and guard us in the path of duty. I do hereby appoin

As a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God, and de, earnestly recommend to the people of the State of Pennsylvania, that it be set apart, by all denominations of Christians within this Com-monwealth as a day dearned to THANGOUN us; and from whom we receive every good and perfect gift, we owe, especially, our admiration and thanks. This obligation is equally peremp-tory to nations and to individuals. No organi zation of men, no condition of society, no form of characterization palearent manufactor that denominations of Christians within this Com-monwealth, as a day devoted to THANKSGIV ING, PRAYER and PRAISE, and that they ab-stain on that day, as far as practable, from world-ly employments, assemble at their respective of Government can release a people from their duties to GOD; norshould the seductions of pow duties to GOD; nor should the seductions of pow er, the lust of ambition, or the splendor of re-nown render them forgetful of the Sacred privi-lege, of aldressing to the THRONE OF GRACE AND MERCY the language of thanksgiving and adoration, thanksgiving and praise.

acoration, thanksgiving and praise. Given under my hand and the Great Scal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thous-and eighthundred and forty-eight, and of the AND MERCY the language of thanksgrving and praise. These truths apply to us as a nation with espe-cial force. With political institutions wisely a-dapted to our welfare and happiness, a country abounding with resources for individual prosper-ity, and national independence,—a climate dis-pensing health and vigor, and a land yielding to the hand of toil a fruitful abundance, under the gracious superintendence of a righteous Provi dence, we have arisen in half a century from the conditiou of an infant and dependent nation, and have become a great and powerful people. In the necessary, yet dangerous struggle to enlarge our proportions, to develope our resources, and defend our rights, in the condicts resulting from foreign and domestic intercourse, influenced by opposing interests and national jealousies, in the our properties of the output of the different LETTERS of Administration having been grant-ed to the undersigned on the estate of Henry Coughenour, late of Magietta, deccased, all persons having claims against said estate are requested to present them, duly authenticated—and those knowforeign and domestic intercourse, influenced by opposing interests and national jealousies, in the balancing of powers belonging to the different branches of the national government, and set-tling the boundaries between reserved and conpreserved, our national character vindicated, and our liberties socured and perpetuated. To HIM, where "head is not shortened, that it cannot whose "hand is not shorte save, neither his car heavy, that it cannot hear,' all praise, all glory is due.

att praise, att grory is une. The present condition of our conntry should awaken our most profound gratitude. The war in which we were recently engaged has terminated, and our citizen soldiers have returned to their homes crowned with imperishable honors. We incourt, indeed, the loss of many brave men, who the loss of many brave men, who the loss of the loss of many brave men, who incourn, indeed, the loss of many brave men, who fell in battle or by pestilence; but we have the couselation to know that they offored up their lives in the service of their country. Their deeds will be remembered, and their memories cherished by their admiring countrymen. The arts of peace have succedeed the clangor of war, and the spectacle is presented of twenty millions of people, reposing under the shadow of free in-stitutions, alarmed by no dangers without, agita-ted by no convulsions within their bordeer.
