ID Several columns of editorial and selected matter, together with numerous advertisements, have been crowded out by the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury. As this is the last of the long documents we intend to publish, we sha hereafter be enabled to furnish our accustome variety.

Next to the President's Message, the most im portant of the documents annually transmitted to Congress, is the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury. It treats of the finances of the country in which every tax-payer is directly interested How the money that supports Government is raised and how expended, are matters which the public have a right to know-and they should esteem it a duty to familiarize their minds with them. We have hence, to the exclusion of our usual miscellany, published the report entire, and trust every one of our readers will peruse it, from the commence ment to the conclusion. Every Democrat should read it, as well for the sake of its statistics and its doctrines, as also for its highly important recommendations, and as a reliable weapon for the over throw of protectionists in the field of political disputation. Would that we could induce, also, every Whig Farmer in Lancaster county to read it, with celebrity as an expounder of Democratic principles. minds free from party prejudice and passion. The Gold Dollar.

The Harrisburg Union advances a suggestion which should well commend itself to the attent of Congress-the coinage of gold dollars. In Spain and South America they have gold coins as low as ninety cents, and the Union well remarks that "gold dollars should be introduced to take the place of the filthy shin plasters that have flooded our countr for years."

"Union Dorcas Society."

Among the several excellent and praiseworthy ssociations formed by the ladies of Lancaster, who are ever foremost in works of Christian benevolence the Union Dorcas Society deserves to hold the highes prominence. Taking its name after the distinguished enefactress, whose good works and alms-deeds have een immortalised in scripture, the females of this ssociation are employed, in view of the approaching inclement season, in preparing garments and overing for the poor. The following report speaks loquently of the the commendable works of this ost excellent society:
