LATER FROM SANTA FE. Col. Fremont's Expedition ... All Reported to have Perished except the Colonel! Sr. Louis March 29. Intelligence from Santa Fe to Feb. 2d, has been received at Independence, Missouri. The Republican contains letters from Taos, which represent the winter as having been so very severe, that Col Fremont, while passing through one of the mour ain gorges, lost 130 mules in one night.

Being then left on foot he came to the conclusion hat it was impossible to proceed further, and final ly he despatched three men to seek the nearest set ent and procure succor. This party not returning in twenty days, Col. Fremont started himself Taos, distant 350 miles, where he arrived in Major Beale immediately despatched party of dragoons, with mules and provisions, to relieve Col. Fremont's men.

Col. Fremont, though much emaciated and worn out by anxiety and the deprivations to which he had been subjected, accompanied the dragoons. The sufferings of the party are represented to have been so very great that they were even re duced to the necessity of feeding upon the bodies of their comrades. Mr. Greene, who brought this news to Independence, left Santa Fe several days after its publica-

Later reports say that all of Col. Fremont's par ty perished except himself, and he is badly fros doubts as to the correctness of this news, but we do not see with what reason,

Presidential Temper. From the N. Y. Express, (Taylor Whig.)

The following was told me by a Virginia friend of the President. A zealous and persevering Whig who had been put out of office as a messenger to one of the Departments to make room for an out and out Locofoco, and he told his troubles to the President, who said, "Go to the Secretary and he will right you." "But please give me a line to the Secretary," said the applicant. Gen. Taylor .- It is against my rule.

Applicant.—I beg you will grant me this favor. Gen. Taylor.—I cannot, and it is not necessary. Applicant.—Let my case be an exception.

Gen. Taylor.—(Very impatient und a little angry)—I will not.

Mr. Perseverance, however, would not take no for an answer, and again entreated, with a recital of his wrongs, and a re-statement of the fact that Mr. W—— hall his place.

Whereupon, General Taylor, provoked beyond endurance, with a Buena Vista look, and a "never surrender" tone of voice, cried out, "Sir, sin, you and Mr. W. may go to the d—l." General Taylor never swears worse than this, and no doubt, regret the provocation to say as much, and the language used a great deal more. But there is a point beyond which patience cannot go.

from his Eastern travels, was asked if he could assign a reason why the woman of the Jewish race were so much handsomer than the men, when he gave the following one:

"Jewesses," he said, "have escaped the curse which alighted on their fathers, husbands and sons. Not a Jewess was to be seen among the crowd of priests and rabble who insulted the Son of God, courging him, crowning with thorns, and subjectment, which she kept in a case of alabaster. The sinner annointed his feet with perfumed oil, and wiped them with her hair. Christ on his part extended mercy to the Jewesses. He raised from the lead the son of the widow of Nain, Martha's brother Lazarus. He cured Simon's mother-in-law, and the woman who touched the hem of his garment. To the Samaritan woman he was a spring of living water, and a compassionate Judge to the woman The daughters of Jerusalem wept , the holy women accompanied him to Calvary: brought him spices; and weeping, sought him in the sepulchre. # The Bible in Italy.

The Rev. Dr. Baird, in the March number of his magazine, announces the receipt of intelligence from Italy of the most interesting and cheering nature. A Bible Society, auxiliary to the British and Foreign Bible Society, was formed in one of the chief cities in that country in the month of Dezeal which influenced them was pure and ardent, and the object of their assembling together was a heavenly one. This is the first Bible Society, as formed in Italy proper.

AN EMPEROR SMOKING CIGARS.—The young Emperor of Austria formed the habit of smoking in the camp in Italy, and it is said after dinner now indulges himself with a cigar. This is an immense innovation, as no member of the imperial family of Austria was ever known to smoke before. The Emperor rises every day at six, and, after devoting Emperor rises every day at six, and, after devoting the court of Vienna play alternately.

Consumption

There is, perhaps, no disease with which our country is affected, which sweeps off annually so many victims as that fell destroyer of the human race—Consumption. Day after day, year after year, the insatiate monster hurries to the portals of the cold and silent tomb fresh added victims to its conquest. No walk of life is sacred from it blighting influence. No age is exempt from its death-dealing shalts. The old, the middle-aged, and the young, all alike, are food for this common enemy of mankind. The white-haired Patriarch, whose life of temperance has rendered his system impervious to the attacks of other ills, and whose deeds prepared him for the enjoyments of life's calm evening, finds.

(which have been justly styled the storehouses of diseases) these Bitters have proved a certain and speedy remedy. Dr. R. will be glad to refer any invalids who may call upon him the having had permission so to do,) to persons pronounced incurable by their physicians, who have visited him from various parts of the United States, and also many distinguished persons from the British Provinces, who have been cured by using his celebrated medicine. The peculiar character of these Bitters is most striking, their operation being more or less powerful, according to the violence of the disease. When used in appropriate quantity, in cases of slight derangements of the stomach and bowels, caused by costiveness, or a slight bilious difficulty and the like, where nature needs assistance to prevent more serious consequences, they will scarcely be felt; on the contrary, in obstinate cases they operate more powerful, cansing two or three evacua tions daily, until the circulating fluid becomes purified. This accomplished, they act on the system in connection with our food, each part receiv tem in connection with our lood, each part receiving mitual assistance until the constitution is restored to a state of health. This medicine is of such a nature that it may be taken any length of time, by invalids of any age, without injuring the system or exposing it to take cold. They preclude the necessity in most cases, of using pills, which the public are advised to take in large quantities, by some practitioners, which serve only to debili-tate the patient and doom him to be a pill-swallower to the end of his days.
