Important Decision.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania have affirmed the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin county, rendered for defendant, in the suit by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. The Delaware and Hudson Canal Company, in which the sum in controversy amounted to about ninety ness, which he h thousand dollars. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Chief Justice GIBSON. The main question settled is that the defendants who ha statuatory license, purchased out the interest o MAURICE WURTZ, in certain improvements in Pennsylvania, and by the same license hold land in Pennsylvania, are nevertheless a New York corporation, and not embraced by the terms of the acts of 1840 and 1844 taxing companies "incorporated by or under the laws of Pennsylvania," &c. Lawyers' Mistakes.

I myself recollect a case in which an attorney's clerk had omitted one single letter, in making the copy of a writ of capias, to be served upon a defendant, who was clandestinely going to India, owing a widow a large sum of money, which she had lent him. She accidently, however, discovered what he was about and instantly communicated with her attorney, in such a state of alarm as may be conceived. He was an able and energetic practitioner; and within a few hours' time, had got a ned against the dishonorable fugitive, and accompanied by an officer, succeeded in arresting t as he was stepping into a steamto go to a ship, which was expected to sail from Gravesend on that or the ensuing one. Your may guess the consternation with which he found himself thus, overtaken; but it screeks enclose thus overtaken; but it scarcely equaled that with which the attorney received, early the next day, a rule to show cause why the defendant uld not be discharged out of custody, on entershould not be discharged out of custody, on enter-ing a common appearance, on the ground of a va-riance between the writ and the copy served; the discrepancy being between "Sheriffs of London" in the one, and "Sheriff of London" in the other. nent counsel were instantly instructed to show cause, and struggled desperately to discharge the rule; but in vain. "It is better," said the tranquil Chief Justice Tindal, "to adhere to a general rule, capable of application to all cases, than to raise an reparties of application to an eases, that to refer an argument on every imperfection in a copy, as to the materiality or immateriality of the error, and thereby offer a premium on carelessness." So the rule was made absolute-the defendant discharged-he went to India. I sadly fear that he has never made his appearance here again, and that the widow lost all that he owed her, and which, out for the wretched mistake, she would, in all human probability, have recovered. This happened nearly sixteen years ago, and coming under my notice, made a deep impression on my

DR. RICHARDSON'S BITTERS.—In our columns may be found an advertisement of Sherry Wine Bit-ters, prepared by Dr. 'S. O. Richardson, of South Reading, Mass. They are, as said to be, undoubt-edly composed of a variety of valuable and purely vegetable matter, and from our own experience, as well as others, we can sneek bightric of balance. well as others, we can speak highly of their reno-vating and invigorating effects upon the system.— We have a good opinion of the Bitters, as they are not a quack nostrum, but discovered, prepared, and vended by a regular physician, a graduate of the college of our own State, and who said but little in the way of puffing them bimself, but leaves it is the way of pufing them himself but leaves it to those whd try them to judge themselves. For the diseases that many are liable to in the spring and summer, such as debility, dyspepsia, bilious and nervous complaints, we do not hesistate to say that these Bitters will be found a safe, agreeable, and effectual restoritive. As good health is one of the greatest of earfuly blessings, we would early advise those laboring under the above diseases to make a trial of Dr. Richardson's Bitters, they can do no harm, and mey do much good, as we are confident in many cases they have. Being persuaded to try a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, without the least confidence in the efficacy, or that of any other proconfidence in its efficacy, or that of any other pro-scription, no one can fully understand my surprise and joy, when I found the difficulty almost entirely removed before one bottle had been used up.— Having a mortal aversion to medicine and seldom fellow sufferers induces me to make this public statement, and recommend the article to others fellow sufferers induces and the article to others statement, and recommend the article to others similarly afflicted.
