Litiz Hotel. THE Moravian Society have re-built and enlarged the Hotel, at the delightful village of Litiz, and the undersigned having leased the same, beg leave, respectfully, to call the attention of those who are desirous of seeking a calm and quiet re-treat during the summer months, to the advantages of this place.

The village of Litiz is situated in the midst of a most delightful region of country, eight miles dis-tant from the city of Lancaster, with which place it means of Stages over a good turnpike road. Persons leaving Washington City, Baltimore or Philadelphia, in the morning reach here the same day, as an Accommodation Coach leaves Lancaster for Litiz, at 4 o'clock P. M., upon the arrival of the The Female Seminary, so long and justly celc-

The remate Seminary, so long and justly celebrated abroad, and now under the charge of the Rev. E. Freauff, as also the Boys' Academy, under the charge of Mr. John Beck, so long and favorably known throughout the United States, give this place a degree of peculiar interest. The Hotel occupied by us, has been entirely and newly furnished, and is sufficiently capacious to accommodate a large number of visitors, with private parlors and all the comforts of home. The walks and scenery about the village are delightful.

Also taken up at any place along the road.

The borough of Strasburg is situated in the most beautiful and fertile section of Lancaster county, about 7 miles from the city of Lancaster, and is a most delightful place of resort for the summer season. To the citizens of Philadelphia, who are desirous of securing a quiet and pleasant retreat from the pestilential atmosphere by which they are surrounded, the Borough of Strasburg is recommended as possessing many advantages over other places. It is but a few hours ride from the city, and board may be obtained of an excellent character upon the most reasonable terms. C. EDWARDS, Proprietor.

Marble Yard.

THE undersigned adopt this method of informing their friends and the public in general, that they have taken the Marble Yard, formerly conducted by Daniel Fagan, situated in North Queen Street, in the city of Lancaster, a few doors north of Van Kanan's (formerly Scholfield's) tavern, where they are prepared to execute all orders in their line, in the neatest manner, at the most liberal their line, in the neatest manner, at the most liberal a prices, and with every possible expedition.

William Leonard acquired a thorough knowledge of the business in the most celebrated Marb's establishments in Philadelphia and New York.

Abner S. Bear was an apprentice to Daniel Fagan, and has had many years experience. As their work is all to be finished by themselves, they feel assured, that they can afford entire satisfaction to their customers.

ORIENTAL

No other Medicine has ever been introduced to the public that has met with such unpdralelled success, as Dr. Soule's ORIENTAL BALM PILIS.—Having been but six years before the public, and the advertising small when compared with most other medicines, yet they have worked their way into every State in the Union and Canadas. They have absolutely become the standard Medicine of the day. They are purely vegetable and so admirably compounded that when taken in large doses they speedily cure acute diseases, and when taken in small doses they operate like a charm, upon the most delicate, nervous female, and have raised numbers from their beds when all other remedies had failed. We here refer to but a few of the many. miraculous cures effected by the use of said Pills. SPINAL AFFECTION.—Area Wood, of Rutland, Jefferson county, N. Y., was cured, after she had been confined to bed 5 years, with Spinal disease and Abscess of the Lungs. The bill of her regular Physician (Dr. Johnson, of Clay,) had amounted to $600. See circular.

Scroftla and Nervous Debility.—Mrs. Down, O other Medicine has ever been introduced the public that has met with SCROFULA AND NERVOUS DEBILITY .-- Mrs. Down, of Clay, N. Y., was cured of Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, and Scrofulous affection of the head, after she had been confined six months and all other medicines had failed.

COUGH AND CONSUMPTION CURED.—Wm. Bently, of Pickering, C. W., was cured of a severe cough after he had been confined to his bed for a long time, and was given up by the Physicians. He had used most of the cough medicines of the day, and was supposed by his friends and physicians to be in the last stage of Consumption.

Dyspersia.—A. B. F. Ormsby, of Syracuse, N. Y., was cured of Dyspersia, so severe as not to be

, was cured of Dyspepsia, so severe as not to be ole to work for two years.

Wm. Smith, of Greenwich, Conn., was cured of a severe case of Dyspépsia, Costiveness and Nervous Debility, of years standing, after expending large sums of money to no purpose. See circular. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Miscellaneous. The Double Grave.* Come, plant the Lily and the Rose, Train Ivy, too, in clasping boughs, Emblem of eternal bloom. Come, let the Honey-suckle entwine A flow'ry wreath o'er Willie's head; And Morning Glory's clinging vine, Weave an arbor o'er their bed.

Bring violets with soft perfume-Tear cups for the sighing air; And let the Cypress wave in gloom Gently o'er the lovely pair.

Come, plant the Weeping Willow there, O'er the marble lambkins sleeping, To guard them e'er with tender care-A double treasure keeping.

- In memory of two little children, who died the same day, and were buried in the same grave. The following exquirite Poem is said to be ie last literary production of the late EDGAR A.

It was many and many a year ago,
In a kingdom by the sea,
That a maiden there lived whom you may know
By the name of Annabol Lee;
And the maiden she lived with no other thought Than to love and be loved by me.

I was a child and she was a child,
In this kingdom by the sea, [love—
But we loved with a love that was more than
I and my Annabel Lec— With a love that the winged seraphs of Heaven Coveted her and me.

And this was the reason that, long ago,
In this kingdom by the sea,
B wind blew out of a cloud, chilling My beautiful Annabel Lee: So that her high-born kinsmen came And bore her away from me, To shut her up in a sepulchre
In this kingdom by the sea...

The angels, not half so happy in Heaven,
Went envying her and me—
Yes!—that was the reason (as all men know,
In this kingdom by the sea,) That the wind came out of the cloud by night,

But our love it was stronger far than the love Of those who were older than we— Of those far wiser than we— And neither the angels in Heaven above, Nor the demons down under the sea Can ever dissever my soul from the soul Of beautiful Annabel Lee.

Of the beautiful Annabel Lee; (dreams
And the stars never rise, but I feel the bright
Of the beautiful Annabel Lee; (eyes,
And so, all the night-tide, I lie down by the side
Of my darling—my darling—my life and my bride,
In her sepulchre there by the sea—
In her tomb by the sounding sea In her tomb by the sounding sea.

A Local Romance.

The following account of "one of the Thachers," from the Yarmouth Register:-Tradition has preserved a singular anecdote of John Thacher, a son of one of the earliest settlers of this town. He was married in 1661, to Miss Rebecca Winslow, of Duxbury, in Plymouth Co., if we mistake not. On his way home with his new bride, he stopped for the night at the house of a friend, a Col. Gorham, of Bardstable, one of the most prominent citizens of the town. Merriment said "Here, my, dear, is a little lady that was born on the same night that we were married. I wish you to kiss her, for I intend to have her for my second wife." "I will, my dear, with great pleas ure," replied she, "but I hope it wall be very long before your intention is fulfilled in that respect."

Thus things went on until the patience of the old gentleman was well nigh exhausted, and he resolved on a desperate step to decide the matter. Taking his son on one side, he said to him :-"Peter, are you or are you not going to marry Lydia Gorham ? Peter replied that he had not yet made up his

Whereas, The city of Lancaster is situated in the largest and most abundant county in the United States, and that county the garden of Pennsylvania; and here, where health, wealth, and all the comforts that the heart of man could desire that the heart of man could desire that the heart of man could desire the conforts that the heart of man could desire the confort that the heart of man could desire the conforts that the heart of man could desire the conforts that the heart of man could desire the conforts the conforts that the heart of man could desire the conforts the confo even understand the numerous benefits around us, or we would not so abuse or underrate the rich pro-ductions of our Garden, the delicacies for our tables, as to expose them for sale at the very gutters of our streets, and then have City Ordinances to enforce the distribution of them from such a hampered and filtly location. And, Whereas, The truth must be told, that 12,000 inhabitants of a city, known to the world as located in the centre of the most beautiful, luxuriant, and plenteous Garden, have ever been and still are deprived of a clean and spacious Martin and the control of the greatest number. The greatest good to the greatest number that which shall have its great advantages hereafter to re-animate the citizens, but the chief requisites that which should be increase the city, its business its buildings, and ket Place—the chief requisite—that which should be the pride of the Garden, where the nicer elegancies of flowers and fruit should be laid out for pleasure; and the herbs, vegetables, and meats for food, should, with extraordinary care, be exposed for sale, the more to tempt the palate, to fill our tables, and per-fect our healths, and thus are we far behind the Age, and farther still behind that cleanliness and aste which ever marks the excellent gardener-for he ever learns

We, therefore, most respectfully beg leave to report as follows:

That two large Market Houses can be erected at an expense of $4000 each:—each Market shall be 300 feet in length, 35 feet wide, and 10 feet high from floor to ceiling.

Thirty cast iron columns, weighing 600 lbs. each, 14 inches thick at the base, and resting on a stone foundation 2 feet under the surface of the ground. screwed at top to the girders by heavy nuts to prevent the market from turning over. The eaves projecting 6 inches over the curb stone; the stalls shall be from 15 to 18 feet long, (double stalls) with a space about 2 feet 6 inches The ceilings shall be plastered, and rails, cranes, hooks, guards, &c., inclusive—they shall have substantial roofs and covered with tin; also good brick The same were erected in Harrisburg and Reading, by contract, for less than $8000. The vacant lots upon which these Markets should be located will cost about $3000. Thus for less than $12,000 we can have spacious and comfortable te yearly revenue would not be less than $3000. Deducting, then, the $720 interest on original cost, and we would have over $2000 annually of a Sinking Fund, instead of the $800 revenue as now derived from the present central ocation-and this fund would be increasing yearly and in the course of five years pay the whole origina cost of Markets. Again: the present gloomy central shambles may be sold (to erect stores or dwellings upon,) for a price that will more the pay for two new Markets each a square in length. Resolved, That, as citizens of Lancaster, our exertions and enterprise shall be onward—the city must and shall spread and increase: Progression shall be our motto, and two new Market Houses our theme, our object, our most determined action -so that another year may develope another city.

Resolved, That for the purpose of accomplising our object, we will avoid all political party feeling —throw aside all sectional ties, preferences, and jealousies—and, as true citizens, interested only for the benefit and convenience of the whole commi nity, we will independently devote our energies with a unanimity of action to the erection of two new Market Houses-one to be located in the North part of the city and the other in the South part, at least three squares from the centre of the city.

We ar rived at Stockton after a fair passage, remained there coming here we crossed an arid plain of thirty-two miles—no vegetation, no shade, no water, except what we carried with us, and one of the hottest horsemen with their horses, carts, and wagons, our backs sixty or seventy pounds, and filling a which are turnultuously huddled together, to clear little keg with water, some fifteen of us started in goes the whip and with a mighty retrograde mo-tion the carts and wagons are dashed against the curbstone Market Place, where a crowd of our were obliged to leave him as our stock of water country friends are squeezed in a row in front of their nice baskets of eggs, butter, cheese, poultry, miles to travel before we came to a river. of women and children, dogs barking and yelling, and in a few minutes after, the Mayor's Office is crowded with citizens and country folks, complaining of each other with most distressing descriptions of injuries sustained.

The next day our water was reduced to a low drops. At 11 the sun was pouring down with unheard of intensity, and not a breath of air stirring, when another very fine young man from New Hampshire, whom I had formed quite an attachment of injuries sustained. The next day our water was reduced to a few ment for on our short acquaintance, and floundering ankle deep in mud and mire, are compelled to exclaim: "Oh, the endless miseries of this cursed central Market Place!"
