Consumption is the great curse of our northern latitudes. It is the blight of domestic felicity and the despoiler of beauty. It robs the check of its healthful bloom, the mind of its screnity, and the nearmain bioom, the mind of its screenity, and the eyse of its brillancy. It wastes the form, dims the intellect, and plunges its victim into an early grave. The young and the old, the serious aud the gay, the city belle, the country lass, are alke its prey and its victims. Blessings on the man, then, whose genius and research furnished us weapons to bid defiance to this "Dweller of the Threshold!" One of the most important discoveries of modern science, for the cure of pulmonary affections, is the BALSAM of WILD CHERRY, and the credit of its iscovery is due to the celebrated Dr. Wistar. This valuable compound has restored thousands of suf-ferers to health. It is expectorant, tonic and demulcent, and is said to be a furely vegetable pre-paration. Under its magic influence the most obstinate coughs, colds, and bronchial irritations disappear.
