James.—Nothing easier, sir. Spangler & Brother sell very cheap, while the others only feel very cheap. Schoolmaster.—Excellent solution; you're a credit to the school. Can you now tell me the difference between the largest stock of "stationary," and the largest stationary stock?

James.—I think I can, sir. Spangler & Brother have decidedly the largest stock of stationary, such for instance as elegant retreament.

such for instance, as elegant note paper, envelopes, foolscap and letter paper, blank books, quills, slates, wafers, sealing wax, and a host of elegant articles besides; whilst some bookstores I know of, have the largest amount of stationary stock, that is, Old Books that won't sell!!!

Schoolmaster.—That'll do, that'll do, James. Ha! ha!! ha!!! I shall die laughing; oh, my poor sides. You may go and play now.

There is sufficient wood upon this property to supply necessary fuel. The Cotton and Woollen Factory has been in constant and successful operation for nearly 30 years past, with the exception of a few months in the year 1840, when it was re-built upon an improved plan. Its connections are extensive, and it well known as one of the very best establishments of the kind in the State. It is situated on the Big Elk, a copious and powerful stream of water at all seasons of the year. The neighborhood is remarkably healthy, and noted for the purity of its air and water. There are several places of worship of various denominations within a convenient distance, together with well conducted schools.
