A GREAT MEDICINE. A GREAT MEDICINE. We have uniformly retrained from recommend-ing to the public any of the various Patent Medi-cines of the day, unless thoroughly convinced of their value. Among those we consider worthy of notice is the German Bitters, invented by Doctor Hoofland, and prepared by Dr. Jackson, in Phila-delphia. One instance in particular, in which the superior virtues of this medicine have been tested, has fallen under our observation. During the last summer, a scn of Mr. Ahm. Crabill, of this coun-ly, was very seriously afflicted with Liver Com-plaint, and after trying in vain various remedies, he purchased a bottle of the Bitters, and after using it, was so much relieved of his distressing malady, that he procured another bottle, and is re-stored entirely to health. It is very seldom that we make any allusion to Patent Medicines, either approving or otherwise. Unfortunately for the country, and for honest and conscientious inventors and venders of these med-icines, the land is becoming flooded with quack preparations, that are made alone for profit and are fit not even for the dogs. In this state of thisgs One of the proprietors being a regular physician affords ample guarantee of the genuine quality o all articles sold at their establishment. Preparations, that are made alone for profit and are if the not even for the dogs. In this state of things it is hard to tell which are, and which are not worth having. If a person gets an indifferent medicine the first time the purchases, he is very apt to condemn the whole of them and buy no more, and inventors must only blame those of their number, I [who ignorantly combine plain medicines together] for the purpose of making money.] for the il success which attends he efforts of the deserving. We believe Dr. C. M. Jackson's Hoofland's if German Bitters to be a most excellent medicine. We take great pleasure in presenting these reme-dies to the afflicted. They are all of undonbted medicinal powers and hold out to the invalid a promise of relief, such as none others possess... They each have been thoroughly tried in a long successful private practice, and have established for themselves a reputation but few possess, and given better satisfaction to the afflicted than any of the boasted remedies of the day. In offering them to the public, the proprietor is influenced by no sinister motives of gain, but feels conscious that they are eminently deserving of public confidence.
