PALESTINE. Bright inspiration ! shadowing my heart Bright inspiration ! shadowing my heart Like a sweet dream of beauty—could I see Tabor and Carmel ere hence I depart. And tread the quiet vales of Galilee, And look from Hermon, with its dew and flower Upon the broken walls and mossy towers O'er which the sun of man in sadness wept, The dearest promise of my life were kept.

shadows of rocks, precipitate and dark, Rest still and heavy where they found a grave ; here glide no more the humble fisher's bark,

And the wild heron drinks not of the wave. But still the silvery willows fringe the ril's, Judea's shepherd watches still his fold; And round about Jerusalem the hills And round about Jerusatem the mass Stand in their solerm grandeur as of old; And Sharon's roses still as sweetly bloom As when the apostles, in the days gone by, Rolled back the shadows from the dreary tomb,

And brought to light life's immortality. The East has laid down many a beauteous bride The East has laid down many a beauteous bride In the dim silence of the sepulchre, Whose names are shrined in story, but beside Their lives no signs to tell they ever were. The imperial fortress of old renown— [now Rome, Carthage, Thebes—alas! where are they In the dim distance lost and crumbled down; The glory that was of them, from her brow ook off the wreath in centuries gone by, And walked the Path of Shadows silently.

But, Palestine ! what hopes are born of theecannot paint their beauty-hopes that rise, Linking this perishing mortality To the bright, deathless glories of the skies ! There the sweet Babe of Bethlehem was born-Lovo's mission finished there in Calvary's gloor There blazed the glories of the rising morn, And Death lay gasping there at Jesus' tomb.

SUBJULT OFFICIATION .- We find the following brief report of an operation by Dr. Morr, of N. Y., at the University, a few days ago, in Noah's paper: A young man had a tumor growing out of one of his nostrils. It came, in time, to fill the whole cavity, and so extensively and firmly attached, that it was impossible to pull it out with forceps, as in done with polypi. The worthy professor put on his considering cap, and studied out an operation; and then, to make all sure, he performed it on a dead body. Satisfied of its practicability he began. First, he made a straight incision from the inner corner of the eye to the mouth, through the upper lip; then dissected the flesh from the bone, so as to turn all the fleshy part of the nose over upon the Dog Expresses .- The arrival of news by "dog train" from the extreme North West is omething rather novel.
