A few short years ago, the person who wished to make a genteel appearance, was restrained from the want of means, arising from the fact that the customer tailor charged four prices for his clothing. It was at this time the Cheap Cash Clothing Store started in order to accommodate the public with as good clothing to the gentemest tile made, at almost started in order to accommodate the public with as good clothing as the customer tailor made, at almost one-halt the price. This effort was appreciated by the public, and the great encouragement received induced the proprietor to be first in the field to adopt the principle of "large sales and small profits," and to extend his business beyond a paral-lel in the history of trade. The plan adopted was to give as good Clothing as could be made in any establishment at one-half the usual price. Success crowned this effort also. Then, with extended means, he undertook a further reduction, by buying his materials from first hands, and was satisfied with a very small profit.
