The Ritchie and Rives Quarrel. The Washington Union of the 17th inst., has most triumphant vindication of Mr. Polk's administration from the charges made against it relative to the fund placed in the Middletown Bank, as well as a complete refutation of the slang used against Mr. Ritchie by one of the former editors of the Globe, Mr. Rives. We condense the reply, for which we are mainly indebted to the Baltimo

The Union of the above mentioned date contain letter from Ex President Tyler, and a statement from Ex Secretary Walker, relative to the charges made by Mr. Rives that they had connived with Mr. Polk to place $50,000 of the Government funds in the Bank of Middletown, of which Senator Cameron was President, with the understanding that it was to be used in establishing a Government organ at Washington; and that it was afterwards loaned to Messrs. Ritchie & Heiss to buy ont the Globe newspaper, and establish in its place the Washing ton Union. Mr. Tyler in his letter denies in the strongest language that he ever had any conversaion, or made any agreement with Mr. Polk, to withdraw as a candidate for re-election, on the ground that he would put down the Globe, or on any other ground—that his only reasons for with-drawing were contained in his letter of withdrawal onblished at the time—that being that Mr. Polk published at the time,-that being that Mr. Polk was favorable to the admission of Texas into the Union. He defends the character of Mr. Polk from the accusation of being capable of lending himself to the furtherance of any such scheme. He further asserts that he had no knowledge of $50,000, or any other sum, being/placed in the Middletown

Bank. Secretary Walker authorizes the Union to state that the sum of $50,000 was placed on deposit in the Middletown Bank by his predecessor, Secretary Bibb, of Kentucky, along with similar sums in various other Banks in the interior of Pennsylvania, and all on the most ample security, with deposits of United States Stocks as collateral security. That under the State bank deposite law then in force, he had no power to change them, "except for non-combliance with the instructions of the department, or the failure to furnish sufficient security," had he been disposed to do so. Five thousand dollars of this deposit was transferred to the mint in 1846, and the balance retained in the Bank until the establishment of the Constitutional Treasury, when it, with the deposits in all the other State banks. was transferred in small instalments, according to the provisions of the act of Congress, so as not to embarrass the banks, during the year 1847. Mr. Walker further states that he has no knowledge or even conjecture as to the source from which the money was obtained for the purchase of the Globe by Messrs. Ritchie & Heiss, nor was he counselled with, in any way, by any one as regards the purchase. There is a letter also appended to the Union article from Major Heiss, formerly one of the proprietors of the Union with Mr. Ritchie, in which he emphatically denies that they ever received one dollar from either Senator Cameron or Mr. Polk to pay the purchase money for the Globe .--- and as to where the money did come from, he wisely leaves the public to infer that it came out of his own pocket. Judicial Apportionment.

A Patriotic Letter.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 17, 1851. Mr DEAR SIR,—I thank you for yours of the 15th, received to day, and also for your kind offices in my behalf, during the session of the legislative caucus. I am a regular and radical Democrat, and that was the place, and time, to present and withdraw my name, at your pleasure. As the newspopers and they are not always to be relied upon, po ally to other distinguished friends of mine, as the favorites of the West, for the Senate, my own self-respect dictated silence in reference to the mat-ter. For this reason, and because I will never play "huckster" for any office, and narticularly for the eminent position of a Senator of the United States, I wrote to no member of the Legislature on the subject, except to Colonel McCaslin, of Greene county, and yourself; and this was caused by unex pectd events in the West.

The union of the party, for the sake of its prin-ciples, is everything; and if I had been on the spot, with the probability of my election in full view, but accompanied with ultimate disaster and deleat to the Democratic party of Pennsylvania, I should have said to you, as my friend: "Mr. Leet, abandon 'me, give me up;" and to my competitors, as Abra ham said to Lot: "I pray thee, let there be no strife between thee and me, nor between my herdsmer and thine; for we be brethren." Mr. Brodhead, I know well, and I have no doubt of in connexion with the next Presidency in that parade upon their premises. State.

he will honor the high office to which he has been elevated. Yours, very truly, WILSON MCANDLESS.

Hon. J. D. LEET, Member of the Legislature.

The article going the rounds of the papers, in relation to the management of the public works in the eastern portion of the State, was copied from the Doylestown Independent Democrat, and not the Doylestown Democrat. A portion of the remarks, we believe, originally appeared in the West Cheester Republican. We are not aware that the article was intended to reflect on Mr. LONGSTBETH; but it applied to the conduct of some of the office holders on the public works-and not without cause, we presume. The feeble condition of Mr. L's health for a long period, no doubt prevented him from additional clerks to the Secretary of the Interior, for the purpose of facilitating the issuing of bounty land certificates. Many of the members, in the course of debate, took a wide range, and connected the land question with the Tariff question. On 'Wednesday last, Mr. Hampton, of Pittsburgh, made a high tariff speech, but very few members listened to it. Hampton thinks that the iron men of Pennsylvania should be protected by the General Covernment in preference to as many farmers and giving the works that attention their importance required. Had he been in good health during al the time his official term lasted, we have no doubt a different state of things would now exist. We hardly suppose the papers above alluded to would make the complaints they do, unless for cause.

Judiciary Convention.

Present appearances would seem to indicate that very large majority of the counties in the State are in favor of holding the Democratic Judiciary Convention at Harrisburg. Amongst others, we are pleased to observe that the City and County of Philadelphia, electing twenty delegates, have, in their Conventions, instructed in favor of that place. and there is no longer any doubt that Harrisburg will be the place at which the Convention will assemble on the 11th of June next, to place in nomination candidates for the Supreme Bench.

PUBLIC DEFENCES .- General Totten, Chief of the Engineer Department of the Army, speaking of our system of defences and the condition of the various fortifications on our Northern border, cites Fort Delaware as an instance of the economical policy with which points of defence have been chosen -He says of it that its situation is forty miles below Philadelphia, and may certainly be made to prevent the nearer approach of an enemy by water. The river being thus closed against his further progress no enemy could reach the city except by landing and marching thither; in doing which he would encounter the population of New Jersey and New York falling on his flank on one side, and that o Delaware and Maryland on the other. And while this fort will thus effectually cover the city of Philadelphia, it will cover also the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, the railroad from Baltimore to Philadelphia, the powder manufactories on the: Brandywine, the towns of Newcastle, Wilmington and Chester, and several other places.

Late Foreign intelligence has it that Kossura and the other Hungarian refugees are coming to America. It is announced that the arrangement is finally completed. Our Government, it is said has offered them an asylum, which they have accepted, and has undertaken to provide for their wants. The Ottoman Government is to pay their expenses to Liverpool, and the English Government

A warrant was also issued by commissioner In-Taham for Bennet's arrest, and placed in the hands of Mr. John Conner, a police officer of your city, their expenses from thence to America. This arrangement, it is stated, was proposed by the Ottoman Government, and acceded to by England

IMPORTANT INVENTION -An Automaton Semp stress. Mr. Allen B. Wilson, of Pittsfield. Massa chusetts, has recently obtained a patent for a ma chine, by which sewing of all descriptions is exe cuted in a very rapid manner, and in fineness and strength superior to hand work.

The simplicity of the mechanism, its diminutive ess, and the amount of work which it accomplish es, are truly astonishing. A single machine occu-pies so little space that it can be put inside a man's hat, and yet by the turning of a small crank, the instrument will sew ten times faster than any semp stress. It can be used for any kind of sewing, fin or coarse, or for embroidery. Every part of a man's dress, coat, vest and pantaloons—button holes excepted-can be made by this machine, also ladies dresses, shirt bosoms, caps, collars, &c. In fact there is scarce a branch of needlework to strument cannot be applied, sewing ten times faster, finer, and stronger than by hand.

The Union says that "amongst its numbers were some of the most scientific and accomplished farmers in Pennsylva. nia, or the United States. The object seems to be to establish a State Agricultural Society, asking for it a small State appropriation, to be offered in premiums and used in such other manner as may best advance the science of agriculture in the Keystone State. It is also proposed to establish annual agricultural fairs or exhibitions at suitable central points, and we presume the first one will be held at Harrisburg. Exhibitions of this kind tend greatly to introduce new seeds, new implements of husbandry, new breeds of cattle and horses, and to advance the cause of agriculture generally."
