putting his mouth to the old man's ear, bawled out) "I've got gold."

Old Man.— So have I, Jonathan, and it is the worst cold I ever had in my life." So saying, he sneezed a "wash up." By this time the old lady came up, and having observed Jonathan's unfortunate luck, she put her mouth to the old man's ear, and screamed like a wounded Yahoo :

"Daddy, I say Daddy-you don'Lunderstand; he wants to marry our daughter." Old Man.—"I told him our calf halter was gone."

Old Lady.—"Why Daddy you don't understand -he's got gold—he's rich?"

Old Man-"He's got a cold and the itch, ch !--What's he doing here with the itch, eh?" So say-ing the old man aimed a blow at Jonathan's head, with his walking cane, but happily for Jonathan, he dodged it. Nor did the rage of the old man stop at this, but with angry countenance he made after Jonathan, who took to his heels; nor did Jonathan's luck stop hefe, he had got out of the barn yard nor far from the old man, who run him a close race. ere Jonathan stumped his toe and fell to the ground, and before the old man could "take up," he stumbled over Jonathan and fell sprawling in a mud hole. Jonathan sprung to his heels, and with the speed of John Gilpin, cleared himselt. And poor

Village Aristocracy,

Sal! she died a Nun, never had no husband.

Many are the follies and weakness of human na-ure. But none are more contemptible than those acted ont by the scrub aristocrats of our towns and villages. These are to be found in all the relations · A young man, whose father was a hard working mechanie, either has a moderate fortune left him, or he marries a few thousand dollars-and forthwith he puts on aits, and assumes an importance, perfectly disgusting to those who are acquainted with the circumstances of his rise and progress in the world. Such young men regard as eneath their dignity, the vocations of their parents, and not unfrequently avoid letting it be known that they sprung from such sources. We have even met with some who have looked upon the humble vocation of a mechanic, as beneath the dignity of a gentleman, forgetting in the meanwhile that the taint of the father attaches the son! Pride of thi kind, never finds a resting place, save in a weak prain, and manifests itself in a perverse temper.

There are many young men in our towns and villages; (and some young ladies, too!) who seem to be proud of the wealth of their families, while their own reputations would be solled by associating with the sons of mechanics. In this strange infat-uation it never occurs to them, that their fathers made all their property by downright stealing, cheating and lying-while their grandfathers/were sold at public auction to pay their passage across the ocean! See the number of yonung men in our country, who, endowed with scarcely common sense and no sort of love for genuine republicanism, re-sort to the study of the learned professions, such as law and medicine, while every mark about them declares, in terms that cannot be misunderstood, that the God of nature intended them for bricklayers, housecarpenters and blacksmiths! Many these ought now to abandon their professions for these ought now to abandon their processions for the more profitable and equally holiorable fields of labor where their fathers made money enough to educate them, and thus elevate them to stations where they never can move with ease or grace .---God deliver us from the bastard aristocracy of our little villages, and Cod fish aristocracy of our larger respectability is based upon the nature of a mails vocation instead of the maaner in which his duties are performed. The only sentiment which well

A Good One.

Epes Sargent of the Boston Transcript, tells a good many good stories under the head of " Deal-ings with the Dead." One of these numbers he devotes to fortune-hunting, and amongst other il-lustrations gives the case of a Mr. Mewins. He was courting a young lady of some attraction, and something of a lortune into the bargain. After a liberal argrangement had been made for the young lady by her father, Mr. Mewins, having taken a particular fancy to a little brown mare, demanded that it should be thrown into the bargain; and upon a positive refusal, he broke off. After a couple years the parties accidentally met at a country ball. Mr. Mewins was quite willing to renew the engagement—the lady appeared not to have the engagement----the 'lady appeared not to have the slightest recollection of him. "Surely you have not forgoiten me,' said he. "What name, bir ?" she replied. "Melvins," he replied; "I had the honor of paying my addresses to you, about two years ago," I remember a person of that name," she rejoined "who paid his addresses to my fath-er's brown mare."

Forgery in England.—On Saturday, the 3d inst, the Marshal's Police arrested a young man, about nineteen years of age, who gave his name as Henry-Bee, who is charged with having perpetrated several forgeries in Leeds, England, and realizing several thousand dollars therefrom. He was a passenger in the steamer "City of Glasgow" and has, since his arrival, spent the greater portion of his time in this city. He was pursued by a Mr. Gill, who came passenger in the steamer Arctic at Yew York. passenger in the steamer Arctic, at New York. passinger in the scamer Arctic, at New York. It is stated that he was employed as clerk in one of the houses upon which he committed a lorgery, and also that he is very, respectably connected in England. About $3000 in British and American Shoates gold were found in his possession. He was taken before Alderman Mitchell and committed fugitive from the justice of Great Britain, and to await a requisition.-North American.

117"A young man, named Vickery, was to have been married at Cleveland, Ohio, on the 18th ult, but in consequence of the illness of his intended the wedding was postponed two weeks. He died in a few days afterwards from an affection of the heart, which, when excited, troubled him very much. On the evening of his death he had been reading to'his intended the story of "Walter Errick?" It is a very exciting tale of "love and murder," and under the circumstances wrought deeply upon his feelings. When he had finished the reading, the last para-graph ending with the sudden death of "Errick," he remarked that "he hoped he should not die thus suddraly." The young lady looked at him and saw his hand falling which held the paper, and his Monster Cattle .- The Messrs. J. P. & W. Eyre, Chester, have in their possession a pair of cattle of Chester, have in their possession a pair of cattle, which, in point of beauty, size and weight, are said to exceed any ever raised in Delaware county, and perhaps in the State. They measure six feet in height, the feet in length, ten feet six inches in girth, and seven and a half inches across the hips, and are estimated by competent judges to weigh, when dressed, thirty-six hundred pounds. They were rais-el and fed by the Messrs: Eyre, under the care of Robert Blythe.
