Pennsylvania Farm Journal.

Extracts from the minutes of the Lancaster Co. Agricultural Society, held March 10, 1851, in Lan.

Whereas, It has been represented to the Society, that our fellow citizen, A. M. SPANGLER, has it in contemplation to issue a monthly Agricultural Journal, at Lancaster, to be called the "Pennsylvania Farm Journal," and to be devoted to agriculture, science and rural economy, at the reasonable price of one dollar per annum—and, whereas, it is the opinion of this Society that a Journal of this character, issued too from the agricultural county of Lancaster, would excite increased inquiry and attract public sentiment to the subject of husbandry in our locality and elsewhere, and as no exclusive agricultural paper or Journal is now published in Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved, That this Society hereby urge upon Mr. SPANGLER the execution of his contemplated enterprise, as one, in our opinion, now much needed in Pennsylvania; and believing it would advance the cause of Agriculture here and generally throughout the State, earnestly recommend the proposed Journal to the support of the members of the Society, and to the citizens of the county of Lancaster generally.

Resolved, That this society know Mr. SPANGLER as an energetic man, an able journalist, as a devoted friend to the cause of agriculture; and as such commend him and his enterprise to the friends of agriculture both at home and abroad.

James Buchanan at Home.

☞ After all the fuss kicked up by our old friend, Col. REAH FRAZER, about the unpopularity of Mr. BUCHANAN, in his own county, the fact is now fully demonstrated that he is more popular than he ever was at any other period in his life. The only enemies Mr. B. has in Lancaster, in the Democratic ranks, consists of a few patriotic gentlemen who charge him with the crime of not procuring as many offices for them as they desired during the Administration of President POLK! They have no other reason for opposing this truly great and good man, and well his neighbors know it. The great Democratic County Convention which recently met in the city of Lancaster, representing nineteen-twentieths of the party, have repudiated the slanders heaped upon this eminent Statesman, by the persons above alluded to, in language that cannot be misunderstood. The proceedings will be found at length in the Gazette of to-day, and we invite for them a careful perusal.

Col. FORNEY, the Chairman of the County Committee, has discharged his duties in a manner that reflect the highest credit both upon his integrity and his capacity. He well merits the unlimited confidence reposed in him by the sterling Democracy of Lancaster. Faction attempted to disgrace him, but the people came to his rescue in solid column.—Bedford Gazette.

☞ Three Agents, named McGuire' Keesey and O'Rourk, connected with the cars that ran into town on Wednesday, the 12th inst., by which Mr. David Boyd was killed, have had a hearing before J. W. Fisher, Esq. McGuire was discharged, and Keesey and O'Rourk were held to bail in the sum of $500 each, on a charge of "homicide." Squire Fisher, who doubted whether the evidence was sufficient to convict, deemed it best to defer the case to the decision of the Court.—Columbia Spy.

☞ An election for President and Directors of the Strasburg Railroad Company will be held in Strasburg on Thursday, the 3d of April next.—The first day the books for the sale of stock were opened $20,000 worth was disposed of—the first instalment on which was immediately paid.

DECLINATION.—Hon. GEO. W. WOODWARD has recently published a letter in which he declines being considered a candidate for either the Supreme or District bench. He says: "My purpose is fixed, and I cannot anticipate circumstances that would induce me to change it, to avoid all judicial office, and devote myself, for a few years at least, to professional life."

☞ Mr. PENNIMAN, nothing daunted by the defeat of his former scheme relative to the public works, has introduced another, which empowers the Board of Canal Commissioners to appoint, for three years, a Superintendent of Motive Power on the Columbia Railroad, another on the Portage road, and a Supervisor for each of the several divisions or sections of the Canals, if they think so many are required; also, all collectors of Tolls, Weighmasters and Cargo Inspectors.

It authorizes them to appoint also two clerks, at a salary of $1000 per annum, and one of the Secretaries shall be qualified to take charge of the subject of tolls, under the direction of the Canal Commissioners, who shall annually, if they deem it expedient, revise the rates of tolls. The Canal Commissioners shall keep in their office regular accounts in a book, or books, of all moneys expended on each line or division of the public works, distinguishing ordinary from extraordinary repairs, and no superintendent or supervisor shall draw money from the Treasury except upon the warrant of the Canal Commissioners. Any violation of this provision shall be deemed a misdemeanor in office. Various details are then entered into, and a section added which provides that the term of service of each Canal Commissioner shall commence on the second Tuesday of May, and the terms of the present Commissioners are extended from the second Tuesday in January to the second Tuesday in May in the year in which they respectively expire.

MR. BUCHANAN IN HARRISBURG.—The Harrisburg correspondent of the Pittsburg Post of the 12th inst., contains the following:

"Hon. James Buchanan arrived in town to-day, and is surrounded by hosts of friends. He is one of the most distinguished looking men I have ever seen. He is the personification of an able and wise Statesman. Silently, but certainly, all classes are yielding their homage to his brilliant Statesmanship, and soon the people of the Keystone will recognize the claims of no other candidate for the Presidency."

Another writer says:—"Mr. Buchanan appeared in the Senate Chamber this morning, and was greeted by the welcome hand of his numerous admirers. He looks unusually well and is in fine spirits. It is not to be wondered that Pennsylvania feels proud of this truly great man."

In East Lampeter, Abraham Landis, in his 84th year.

In this city, Justin Kintzer, son of Henry Trout, in his 7th year.

In Nevada city, California, Henry N. Mohler, of Ephrata, this county, aged 28 years.

In Philadelphia, Mrs. Henrietta Chalfant, formerly of Columbia.

In Salisbury township, Mrs. Catharine Sheaffer, in her 81st year.

In Litiz, Martin Gingrich in his 20th year.

In Green co., Ohio, Mrs. Mariah Kendig, wife of A. H. Kendig, and daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Rohrer, formerly of Strasburg township, in her 26th year.

On Saturday last, in this City, after a short illness, Mr. John A. Hubley.

On the 15th inst., in Altoona, Blair co., Pennsylvania, Mary Matilda McSorley, aged 4 years and 7 months;—And on the 17th, Emma Caroline McSorley, aged 2 years and 3 months—both of Scarlet Fever.

Mr. McSorley brought his wife and two children to Altoona about two weeks ago, in apparent good health. But now those little ones, who were the delight of their parents but a few days ago, are sleeping quietly in the same grave.

May God in mercy vouchsafe his grace to the bereaved parents, that they may bear this sad providence with Christian submission.

Dear little treasures of our hearts,
How soon thy lives have fled;
How soon thou hast been called away,
And numbered with the dead.

'Tis hard to lay those loved so much
Low in the cold dark earth;
Ne'er to behold their smiles again
Or hear their playful mirth.

But look not to the cold dark grave,
Nor let thy hearts despair;
For e'en now faith points up to Heaven,
And says that they are there.

Then weep not parents, for thy children,
Who from thy arms have gone,
To shine in heaven as spirits bright,
As stars in Jesus' crown. F. B.
