EXTENSIVE SWINDLING OFFICIONS.—Last week a case was brought before the United States. Court at New York, an examination of which brought to light a curious transaction, the object of which was, as is alleged, to obtain control of the Oxford Bank, of Oxford, Mass., for the purpose of speculation. Mr. Miles A. Bradley, of Cincinnati, preferred a complaint against Mr. Robert Barber, of St. Louis, for forcerv. and the defendant ber, of St. Louis, for forgery, and the defendant was held to bail. While this suit was still pending was held to bail. White this sun was our Mr. Barber instituted a triminal complaint against Mr. Bradley, charging defendant with obtaining from him about the 15th of October, 1850, the sum of $7,500, in order as is alleged, to purchase and secure the controling interest of the Oxford Bank. It seems, according to the complaint, and the examination, that Mr. Bradley proposed to join Mr. Barber, in furnishing capital to purchase the controlling power of the Oxford Bank, which he said could be obtained for $15,000. Bradley went to Oxford, from New York, to make the bargain, and on his return, said that he had placed in the hands of Stephen Barton, at Oxford, $15,000 of his own money, and Barber paid to Bradley the sum of $7,500, that being his half, according to agreement.

After a subsequent visit of Bradley's to Oxford, Barber, paid over $2500 more to conclude the bar-of Barber, who made a visit to Oxford, and learned taken into custody.

BANKS.-There is no surer sign of over-action in trade and speculation, than the rapid increase of Banks. It was so in 1836, and is so now. A large number of new Banks have recently been created in this State, and the number is constantly created in this state, and the number is constantly increasing. The case is similar in other States.—The Bank Committee in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, have recommended an increase of banking capital to the amount of $5,935,000. in Kentucky, eight new banks have been established, with an aggregate capital of $2,500,000. In Ohio, two new banks, with a capital of $300,000 In Mobile, one new bank, with a capital of a mil-lion. In Savannah, one new bank, with a capital of $300,000. Several new banks are also about to be established in New Jersey.-Jour. of Com.

LANCASTER COMB FACTORY.—One of the moscurious and interesting machine shops in this city, is the Comb Factory of Shaffner & Graham, in James Street. Quite a number of hands, we should suppose about fifty, are employed in this establishment, in manufacturing combs of different kinds.—The ladies' combs are of the most beautiful designs and finish. One of the handsomest and best finishad steam engines in the city, is used in this establishment. It is a ten horse power, and works with a freedom and ease, that elicits the admiration of those who witness it. We should suppose that this establishment would be able to supply the de mand in Lancaster county, for the article of combs. -Express.

An Interesting Decision of the Supreme Con Pa.—We learn from the Harrisburg Telegraph that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided that a debtor intending to claim the $300 exempt that a debter intending to claim the $500 example, from sale by execution out of his real estate, under the act of April, 1849, must give notice of his intention, before the inquisition and sale, or he cannot come in for the money at the distribution—
The act contemplates the debter shall get the $300 exempt property at the appraisement, where practicable; and the right to demand money out of proceeds of sale, is only a last resort, when the property does not admit of division. The failure to give notice of the claim to the Sheriff, who is the agent of the judgment creditors, before the sale of the realty, will bar the claim of the debtor to the fund. This is a very interesting decision to debtors in this State, and they should bear it in

The Savannah Georgian, expressing its gratification that the Democracy of Pennsylvania, at their last Convention, have marched straight up to the slavery question, says that "to the influence of three men we attribute the patriotic attitude now held by the Democracy of the Key Stone State. They are Buchanan, Dallas and Forney, Editor of the Pennsylvanian. Let us not withhold from them the praise which is their due." Accident.-A man named Thomas Norris was

FIRE-PROOF PAINT! OHR OF THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES OF THE

ORE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERIES OF THE PRESENT AGE.

THIS mineral compound is found in the town of Litchfield; Herkimer County, N. Y., in a gulf about air hundred feet below the surface of the surrounding country. When taken from its bed, it presents a beautiful color resembling manogany. After a fair trial, it is pronounced by competent judges to be far superior to the Ohio paint. One of its important components being red cryde of iron, an intelligent public will readily see that the different colors are more readily brought out by mixing a less quantity of o'her paints, than if it were black oxyde, getting a livelier color at less expense.—Forming a perfect cement body, a large portion oxyde, getting: a livelier color at less expense.— Forming a perfect ement body, a large portion being silica, it bids defiance to the action of the weather, and is a great protection against the devouring element.

All the colors may be got up from this composition, from a beautiful lead to a jet black, with less than half the expense of the usual way, forming a harder coat, which is believed to be twice as valable. It is also susceptible of receiving a high polish, and may be use for the finest kind of ORNAMENTAL PAINTING.

This composition will be found especially useful

OKNAMENTAL PAINTING.

This composition will be found especially useful for painting all kinds of outside, houses, steamboats, ships, schooners, sloops, &c., as it is wholly impervious to water, and less attractive to the rays of the som than any other paint now in use.

In introducing this paint to the public, the proprietor flatters himself that the superior advantages he has in obtaining the raw material, it being pure and taken from a bed one hundred a fifty feet in height and being the finest and purest substance of the kind or as much so as any in the world; and height and being the finest and purest substance of the kind, or as much so as any in the world; and in addition to that, exposed to action of rain and frost, rendering it constantly softer and gurer, and no pains shall be spared in manufacturing. After testing its qualities they will be satisfied it is not an imposition upon their credulity, (of which there is so much done at the present day,) but on the contrary, the high commendation it received is sufficient to warrant its reception.

For cottages, of either wood or brick, this paint cannot be too highly recommended. For Railroad Depots, Bridges, Cars, and Public Buildings of all descriptions, it is invaluable. It is now being used on the Atlantic Steamers and Packets, with great satisfaction, and must soon supersede all other descriptions, it is invaluable. It is now being used on the Atlantic Steamers and Packets, with great satisfaction, and must soon supersede all other paint, for like purpose. For coach painting it is said to be a perfect desideratum, it being susceptible to the highest polish, and forming a surface as hard as marble. For Farm Housese, Out Buildings, Fences, Factories and Foundries, its value can scarcely be calculated; its fire and weather proof qualities have been thoroughly tested, and has found favor with the public, so much so, that a building covered with this paint will insure at less premium than a building covered with other paint.

A few testimonials are annexed of men who are competent to judge:

This certifies, that having examined and subjected to chemical action the Paint from the premises of E. W. Fish, of Herkimer co., N. Y., I concur in the above analysis, and believe it to be capable of forming the most durable coat of any substance now used.

Columbia, N. Y., Feb. 14, 1851.

We hereby certify, that we have used in painting, Fish's Fire-proof Paint, and think it excels any thing of the kind we ever used. We have painted some of the best brick buildings in Albany with it. Covering well and giving a fine lustre, we think it equal to white lead or better.

ROOSEYELT & PERCY.

Albany, Feb. 1, 1851. New York, Dec. 16, 1850.

I have used the New York Fire-proof Paint, from the farm of Elias W. Fish, in Herkimer county, and am well satisfied of its superiority for painting outside of buildings, roofs, &c., &c., I find it much cheaper than other paints for the like purposes, as it requires less oil, and covers better, and forms a coaf similar to slate.

RADCLIFF CARMAN, Painter & Paint Manufacturer, 85 Barclay st. N.Y. I hereby certify that I made use of Fish's Pain last season in painting my house, and this spring examined it, and found it held its color well and became very hard and solid, fastening to the wood and equal to any other paint.

GEO. W. HARVEY. Schuyler, March. 1851.

I have used and sold large quantities of the New York Fire-proof Paint, from the Farm of Mr. E. W. Fish, in Herkimer county, and am well satisfied W. Fish, in Herkimer county, and am well satisfied that it possesses qualities superior to Blake's Fire-proof Paint, and superior to any similiar kind of Paint now in this market and herchofore used by our painters, and besides, is afforded at a less price than others that I consider inferior to it in quality.

AARON CRAGIN, Painter.

Mohawk, March 25, 1851. Mohawk, March 25, 1851.

We hereby-certif, that we have used in painting,
E. W. Fish's Fire-proof Paint, and cheerfully recommend it to the public as the most valuable paint we have ever used, being in its native state a beautiful color for all outside painting, which may be cheaply changed to almost any desired color, forming a heavier and harder coat than any other paint now in use.

J. A. & Jerman Clark,

pleased with the article, I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a very durable paint, and giving
