NO. 51.

GOVERNOR'S

MESSAGE. To the Honorable the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives of the General

the House of Representatives of the Canadasembly:

Fellow-Citizens:—In the adundance of our harvests, the universal health of our people, and the maintenance of peace, and individual and social prosperity, are to be found new motives of gratitude to the Father of Mercies, who holds our destinies in his hands. That grateful homage, the acknowledgment of our dependence on his Almighty Will, it becomes us most cheerfully to render.

Never in the history of the Commonwealth has there been a period of more prosperous tranquility. The citizens of the State, aside from quility. The citizens of the State, aside from other sources of contentment, have at last realized that a cause of disquiet, which has for the last twenty-five years oppressed them, is about to be removed. A beginning has been made in the practical liquidation of the public debt.

debt. On the 1st of December, 1848, the amount of the public debt was, $40,842,379 31 On 1st of December, 1851, 40,114,236 39 the public debt was, On 1st of December, 1851,

Thus, within the last three years, there has been effected a reduction of upwards of seven hundred thousand dollars of indebtedness, without impairing the efficiency of the public works, or retarding any plans of practical beneficence, such as the Legislature, according to a policy of wise economy, have thought proper to authorize. .
I do not hesitate to attribute this important

I do not hesitate to attribute mis important result to the successful operation of the efficient and real sinking fund system, established by the act of the 10th April, A. D., 1849. The detailed transactions of the commissioners of the fund will appear in their report to be submitted to the Legislature.

This system, copied in its leading features from that which was established in the carly years of our history, for the extinguishment of the national debt, has worked admirably. While the national debt, has worked admirately. Where can be no precipitate cancellation of public securities, such as would derange and disturb our momentary relations, neither can there be, under the present law, any such accumulation of stocks in the hands of the Commissiontion of stocks in the hands of the Commission-ers as to attempt or permit the application of the fund under any accidental emergency, to other purposes than that for which it is set apart. Pledged to the payment of the public debt, it must be sacredly regarded. The creation of this fund, and the adoption of the system of making no loans, unless provisions for their li-quidation be made in the laws authorizing them, have already exercised a moral influence on pub-

c policy.
Like the protective system in national legisla-Like the protective system in national legisla-tion, though by another process, they prevent the Representatives of the people from heed-lessly incurring new debts; they make the pay-ment of the public debt a part of the fixed poli-cy of the State, which no one will be willing to disavow or disturb: they interfers with no to cy of the State, which no one will be willing to disavow or disturb; they interfere with no extension of public improvements or expenditures for beneficent purposes. The first application of surplus revenue is to pay a portion of the State debt, the next to extend and maintain such objects of public improvement as will, when completed, increase actual revenue and diffuse the greatest good. To maintain that system of financial policy, which has for its object the gradual and certain extinguishment of the public debt, is as well the duty as it will be doubtless the earnest desire of the General Assembly.

Believing that the revenues of the Common-

the earnest desire of the General Assembly.

Believing that the revenues of the Commonwealth, if properly guarded, are adequately sufficient for both objects—the payment of the debt, and the completion of the public improvements—I again and earnestly press on the attention of the Legislature the claims of that great section of the State lying on the North Branch of the Susquehanna. The North Branch canal ought to be finished without further delay. Its completion would insure increased revenue to 2 the pletion would insure increased revenue to the Treasury, and would be a simple act of justice to a large portion of the people interested in its construction.

The propriety of calling upon the National Government for a portion of the public lands in aid of the several great lines of railway communication within our borders, is again suggested and urged upon your favorable consideration. To the existing and completed internal improvements of the State, or rather to the mode of their administration, I invite special attention. There is in it some radical defects which need reformation. It is wanting in proper need reformation. It is wanting in proper checks and the enforcement of proper responsibility; to secure which it is respectfully urged upon the Legislature to make such a change as will authorize the election of one Canal Commissioner by the people for a term of three years, to whom shall be entrusted the whole supervision of the system, and the selection by the Legislature of an Engineer, to serve for a similar term, to whom shall be committed the duty of making the necessary examinations and estimates of the propriety and cost of construction and repair of the public works. That a commissioner or agent for payments shall be selected by the Internal Improvement Commissioners, to be charged with the disbursement of the public funds annually appropriated to these purposes. ed reformation. It is wanting in proper

Officers thus selected, owing their appointment to different powers in the Government, would, from that fact and the nature of their duties, act as checks upon each other, bring re-sponsibility to each depratment of the system, and secure a more active and energetic dis-

and secure a more active and energetic de-charge of duty

It cannot be doubted that the revenues deriv-ed from the public works ought to be very great-tly increased. These improvements should now bring a clear revenue to the Treasury. In other States, canals and railways have rarely failed to become sources of such revenue within twenty years from the period of their construction, while with us, from causes heretofore suggested for Legislative action, and still within Legisla tive control, the result has been widely differ ent.

Our system of public education is far from that perfection which is desirable. The defects appear to arise from insufficiency of funds, and the want of proper teachers. It is manifested that the control of the c competent persons, in sufficient numbers to sup-ply the demand for their services, cannot be had, ply the cemand for their services, cannot be had, unless some practical plan is adopted as part of the Common School system, to create professional teachers. The shility to impart knowledge to others, particularly to young minds, is to be obtained only after long and patient study, assisted by all the facilities which science and learning can afford. The future greatness and happiness of the country depend so much upon the enlightenment of the public mind, that the statesman and patriot cannot devote his time. statesman and patriot cannot devote his time. nergies, and talents, to a more worthy object, energies, and talents, to a more worthy object, than its attainment.

The recent agricultural exhibition was so numerously attended, and so creditable to our people, in the display of works of skill and home industry, as well as of agricultural implements and stock, that I am convinced great public good must result from it. The urgent requests of a former message, believed to be of value and importance to this great interest, it is hoped will meet favorable action at your hands. These exhibitions should be repeated in other parts of the State, and cherished as the best means of diffusing practical and scientific knowledge of agriculture. The establishment of a State Society for Western Pennsylvania, would be highly advantageous to the people of that portion, deprived as they are, by the difficulty of transportation, of a full participation in the benefits of ation, of a full participation in the benefits of the present Society.

Contracts have been made for the publication Contracts have been made for the publication of the Colonial Records, and of the maps and other documents connected with the Geological Survey of the State. An interesting report from the gentleman charged with the arrangement for publication of the Pennsylvania Archives, accompanies this Message. I invite to it and to these important and interesting papers your favorable action. The supervision of the publication of these papers should be entrusted to the gantleman who has arranged them. The labor performed has greatly exceeded the amount contemplated by the Legislature, and hence demanded additional compensation.

The Insane Asylum, as well as the other charitable institutions, in which the State is directly interested, are in a prosperous condition. The kindly regards of the Assembly are solicited for these institutions.

ese institutions.

It is a pleasant reflection now, and will be a grateful reminiscence hereafter, that to the pronotion of all these interests, the Administration of public affairs while under my control, has taithfully and to some extent effectually directed its labors. It is to be regretted that more was not accomplished, but it is still encouraging to know that so much of practical good has been

In the enactment of the revenue laws of the National Government, much injury has resulted to many of the industrial interests of this State. Their alteration in such manner as will profect those interests, all must earnestly desire. I have, those interests, all must earnestly desire. Thave, on former occasions, most fully expressed my views on this subject, and have urged upon the Legislature the propriety of such action as would influence favorably the National Congress. The influence favorably the National Congress. The great manufacturing, mining and agricultural interests of Pennsylvania require and demand a change of the present system of tariff laws. The ill success attending former efforts, furnishes no excuse for an omission again to call attention to the subject. In the confederacy of States, we hold an importent position. Pennsylvania, from the numbers of her population, and their acknowledged patriotism, has a right to demand for her industry that kindly legislation which it deserves and hould receive. It is not the part of a highshould receive. It is not the part of a high-minded people to make bargains for the security of their rights, and it is equally unbecoming, tamely to submit to oppression and wrong. A firm and manly demand for the change of policy which is rapidly impoverishing a portion of our citizens, retarding the growth of the State, and preventing the development of its mineral re-sources, would have the effect of securing from our National Government, such modifications of our National Government, such modifications of ts laws, as would protect American labor agains the ruinous competition it meets, in our markets, from the labor of foreign countries. It is most

A communication from the Inspectons of the Western Penitentiary has been laid before me.— Western Pentlentiary has been land before her list statements show that the number of finished cells is inadequate to the accommodation of the convicts. It is clear that the present law is not, and will not be executed. The circulating medium it proposes to banish, should not be permitted to exist among us, in its present condition. Its re-chact ment would secure to many the advantages of its provisions, who, from pecuniary inability, or other auses, have been unable to avail themselves of its provisions. It will devolve upon the present Assembly to nake, an apportionment of the State, for the elec-tion of members of the House of Representatives tion of members of the House of Representatives of the United States. Being a new and certain reinedy for the speedy

CURE OF HEAVES,

By Sir James Lyndonton, Principal Farrier to his Royal Highness Prince Albert.

The great discovery contained in this little work

Procured Sir James his Baronetcy. It is really its weight in gold to all who own or use Horses. It prescribes a Certain and Positive Cure for the Heaves, which any person can prepare. The remedy is better and cheaper than any advertised Heave Powder, and is perfectly safe, is any can know who tries it. Horse owners know that many a valuable horse losses half his price by this prevalent disease.
The remedy prescribed in this work will cure him
and increase his market value, besides relieving the poor beast of a horrible complaint, similar to the Asthma in a man. The public can depend on this work: it is no catchpenny humbug. The articles prescribed by Sir James are all cheap and can be had at any store. To prevent imposition the work will be sent in scaled envelopes. English price, four shillings and three pence sterling.

American price, S1 per copy. Persons ordering Sir James' work are expected to confine his instruction to their own animals. It will be sent to none others. Address, post paid,

Solitude, Timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Weakness of the system, Nervous Debility and premature decay generally arises from the destructive habit of youth, that solitary practice so fatal to the healthful existence of man, and it is the young who are the most apt to become its Victims from an ignorance of the dangers to which they solbjeet the miselves. Parents and Guardians are often misled with respect to the cause or source of disease in their sons and wards. Alas! how often do they acribe to other causes the wasting of the frame.
